FATHER AND SON MURDERED

Rum Pirates Drown Pair by Tying Them to Anchor; Suspect Arrested in New York

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—An extraordinary story of a brutal double murder by rum pirates off Sidney Island, British Columbia, was unfolded today by Inspector William H. Dunwoodie of the British Columbia police, on a visit here in connection with the extradition of Owen Benjamin Baker.

Baker is a prisoner in the Tombs. He will be arraigned on the 28th inst. before United States Comissioner Hitchcock on a warrant charging him with the murder of William J. Gillis and his Son, William J. Gillis, Jr., on September 15, last, at or near Sidney Island, British Columbia.

According to Inspector Dunwoodie, a regard of $2000 was posted for Baker's arrest and a similar amount for the arrest of Harry P. Sowash, who is also charged with murder. Baker was arrested in a sailors' lodging-house by Detectives Quinn and Lieff.

On the night of September 15, according to the story told by the inspector, the Beryl G., an auxiliary schooner, was anchored at a mooring off Sidney Island. On board were Gillis and his son. In its cargo compartment the schooner had about 300 cases of whisky.

Late in the night a smaller boat put out to the Beryl G. and a band of men boarded the schooner and demanded the surrender of the whisky. When the elder Gillis refused a pistol fight started and he fell wounded.

The younger Gillis rushed to his father's aid, but was knocked down by a blow on the head from an iron bar. The pirates then tied the unconscious men together and fastened them to the anchor chain in such a way that, when the anchor was heaved overboard, they would dangle from the bow, partly immersed in water.

When this was accomplished the pirates broke open the cargo hatches and started loading the whisky into their own boats. Despite them din they made the groans of Gillis and his son as they regained consciousness could be plainly heard.

Some of the pirates lost their nerve and urged that the two men be tied lower down on the anchor chain so that they would down. This wts done. The raiders spent an hour transferring the cargo and then pulled up the anchor. The bodies of Gillis and his, however, were gone.

IMPASSE AT OPIUM PARLEY

American Envoy Says Position of England Quite Unacceptable; Briton Firm on Far East

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

GENEVA, Jan. 19.—"Quite unacceptable" were the words used by Stephen G. Porter, head of the American delegation, tonight in commenting on the British proposal submitted by Lord Cecil of Chelwood today at the reopening of the international opium conference as a possible solution for the Far Eastern opium problem. This problem is one of bringing about the gradual suppression of opium smoking in the Far East in fulfillment of the terms of the famous Hague opium convention.

The United States wants opium stopped entirely within ten years. Great Britain, through Lord Cecil, announced that she stands ready to stop it in fifteen years, but upon a condition. And it is the condition to which Mr. Porter takes exception and which seemed tonight to imperial the success of the present conference.

Great Britain's is that the fifteen years will begin to run only from the time when China shall have suppressed her growth of opium to that stage which "will remove the danger of opium smuggling from China into other Far Eastern territories."

AMERICAN POSITION

The American position is that danger of the crime generally always may be said to exist; hence, the likelihood that the danger of the crime of smuggling may continue to exist indefinitely, thus postponing forever the inauguration of the British suggestion.

Mr. Porter explained that his dissatisfaction was not alone confined to the opium-smoking problem, but extended as well to the committee recommendation concerning cocaine and the establishment of a board for the control of narcotic drugs.

Next to the presentation of the British suggestion, which was officially labelled "declaration," and not a proposal, the outstanding feature of today's session was the lining up of Great Britain, France and Holland against the American motion to resume the work of the first opium conference, and thereby take up at the present conference the question of opium smoking.

FIRST CONFERENCE

Lord Cecil, M. Daladier and Dr. Loudon all declared that the first conference alone was entitled to discuss opium smoking. That conference has concluded its labors, but no power has signed the convention drawn up by it. Lord Cecil, however, coupled his disavowal of the present conference's incompetency by introducing the new British declaration on the opium-smoking question and British spokesmen explained tonight that Lord Cecil's idea is that the British suggestion might be added as a protocol to the convention elaborated by the first conference, which was restricted to countries having Far Eastern possessions.

Lord Cecil spoke for almost two hours today, reviewing the entire problem of drug addiction and the opium evil generally. He adopted the system initiated by M. Briand at the Washington Arms Conference of breaking his discourse into several parts so as to permit concurrent translation into French for the benefit of the non-English-speaking delegates.

STAND OF FRANCE

M. Deladier bespoke France's determination to end opium smoking, but said that France was unable to indicate with any precision the exact date on which that could be consummated. This was because the solution lepended upon conditions outside of France's control—heavy production in China and the smuggling of opium into Indo-China. M. Daladier said, however, that he reserved the right to bring in a specific proposal later.

FARM NEEDS ANALYZED

Hoover Outlines Solution

Production and Consumption Must be Balanced Says Commerce Chief

Nation Should Grow and Use All Its Own Food Products, He Tells Committee

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Secretary Hoover, called today before the President's Agricultural Committee to express his viewpoint on farm problems, declared the best guarantee of prosperity in the industry would be the balancing of production and American consuming power.

National policies could be adopted, he said, which would bring about this balance and leave the American farmer free from the necessity of exporting large quantities of principal products, with the consequent holding down of his prices to world levels.

"We import agricultural produce that we could better produce at home; we export foodstuffs and other agricultural products," he asserted. "Our farmers, caught bot hways, suffer in both directions, from competitio nof cheaper labor and lower standards of living abroad."

Nevertheless, he continued, "there is within the region of practical possibility," a national policy which would work effectively to reduce the output and stipulate home consumption of agricultural products which hitherto have shown a arplus for export. Along with this, he said, tariff scheduels would be needed to assist in bringing about the desired result and programs now under way to reduce waste and costs in industry could be advanced through the whole national scheme of transporting and distributing commodities between producers and consumers.

CAN BE SELF-CONTAINED

The United States can seek a status of economic self-containment as to agriculture, he declared, citing statistics as to arable land and trade, and will even find incidental military benefit from so doing.

"If we allow our national economy to drift so that we have this dependence on imports for certain essential products and at the same time a dependence upon exports for disposing of other essential products of the farm," he asserted, "we shall be involved in a constant drain for an enormous military expenditure to protect both our import food supplies and export markets of our farmers."

In outlying the factors on which the balanced domestic production and consumption of agriculture products might rest, Mr. Hoover declared that "as to consumption, our population is increasing at the rate of 15,000,000 mouths for every decade."

"Moreover," he said, "per capita consumption can be still increased by sound economic policies. There are vast numbers of our people who, with a larger buying power, could consume more animal products, both dairy and meat; more fruit and vegetables.

MUST STOP WASTE

"The one sure way to increase the living standards is to increase the efficiency and eliminate the waste out of our whole production and distribution system and I mean the whole system, not the distribution of farm products alone. If we conduct the nation wisely, our increased consumption of agricultural products in ten years should be much larger than is ever indicated by the 15,000,000 increase in population.

"On the side of production, our easily accessible and cultivable lands are now for the first time, pretty generally under cultivation. Any further production must come from the marginal lands and by more intensive cultivation. This could not be induced without a further margin of profit to the existing farmer.

"Our present margin of exports is considerably less than 10 per cent of our total agricultural products. There are many products of which we export nothing and in the extreme case of wheat, we range as high as 25 per cent and cotton as much as 50 per cent.

"The export margin of these groups combined occupies but a minor amount of our cultivatable land. On the other hand, we are large importers of foodstuffs, a large majority of which we could ourselves produce. And, by such production we would be converting the land now given to export production into domestic production and in this way also tend to free ourselves from dependence on export market.

"The higher profit value of a dramatic market is obvious from any study of the course of agricultural prices during the last five years."

ECONOMIC POLICIES

Turning to economic policies necessary to bring about the desired results, the Secretary continued:

"There are two very definite

LEGISLATURE TAKES HAND IN OWENS VALLEY ROW

City Board Sponsors Bill Asking Guard for Aqueduct; Would Make Tampering Felony

BY KYLE D. PALMER
"Times" Staff Correspondent
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 19.—As an aftermath of the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Aqueduct and the opening of the Aqueduct control gates by a group of Owens Valley residents, two measures, prepared by the Los Angeles Board of Public Service Commissioners, the first providing for the appointment of State police to guard public works and the second changing the category of such depredations from a misdemeanor to a felony, were introduced today in the Senate and Assembly.

Coincidentally, Senator Ralph Swing of San Bernardino, redrafted a resolution providing for investigation by the Legislature of the Owens Valley water controversy, striking from his original motion a provision that the State Engineer be made a member of the investigating committee, and substituting authority for the two Senatorial and two Assembly members of the committee to name a fifth member.

Mr. Swing declined to explain his modification, but it is understood he was persuaded that State Engineer McClure's report to Governor Richardson criticising the Board of Public Service Commissioners for their activities and attitude in the Aqueduct fight has made inexpedient his appointment for further investigation of the matter.

NEW PROPOSALS

The measure designed to protect works from violence provides a penalty not only for all persons destroying the same but for those wasting water needed for domestic or municipal purposes.

Provision also is made that "any person, who in any written or printed newspaper, magazine, periodical, paper, letter, telegram, pamphlet, circular or other writing instigates, advocates or encourages the doing of any acts prohibited" in the proposes in the new law likewise shall be guilty of a felony.

The act providing for appointment of State constabulary especially empowered to police publicly owned property, is drawn, its sponsors say, in such fashion as to obviate the introduction either of politics or local self-interest into the official acts of such a body.

OPPOSITION LOOMS

This freedom from improper influence is sought in a clause providing that the State police may be dismissed either by the Governor or by the municipality.

There are indications that both measures, which have been introduced as emergency acts, will receive some opposition.

Proponents of the two measures are prepared to argue that while urged for immediate enactment at this time, each act contemplates the enforcement of law and penalty for violation thereof under conditions general to the State at large.

NEW CITY CHARTER

Ratification of the new Los Angeles city charter will be sought in both houses tomorrow. Reported opposition to ratification has thus far failed to materialize and Senator Harry A. Chamberlin, who is in charge of ratification plans, expects the proposal to receive unanimous indorsement.

Opponents of a proposed increase of 1 cent to the 2-cent tax on gasoline today threatened to carry the issue to the people by referendum if the additional tax is voted.

"If the present 2-cent tax is increased, and a referendum is had," said Senator W. R. Sharkey of Contra Costa, "it will mean that the entire 3-cent tax will be held up—resulting in a disruption of the entire highway program."

Senator Sharkey asserted that revenue from the 2-cent tax will exceed $263,803,422 for the ten-year period ending in 1935 and that this sum will be further augmented

Constitution's Foes Are Hit

German Chancellor Says Any Illegal Move to Alter Basic Law is Treason

Reichstag Told Berlin Will Fulfill Provisions of London Agreement

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—Unequivocal recognition of the republican constitution of Wiemar as legal and as the basis on which his Cabinet was founded, and reiteration of Germany's intention loyally to fulfill the provisions of the London agreement were the outstanding declarations of Chancellor Hans Luther's inaugural statement, to the Reichstag this evening.

The new Chancellor announced that any attempt to alter the republican constitution by force or other illegal weapons would be sternly resisted and dealt with as high treason. Germany's adoption of the Dawes reparations plan and all it implies, the Chancellor believed, also entitled Germany to expect a reciprocal measure of loyalty on the part of other contracting parties to the pact of London.

Nonevacuation of the Cologne zone by the Allies, however, was in his opinion plainly in contradiction to the letter and spirit of the London agreement and therefore constituted a bitter disappointment to the German people. The new government intends to propose an early inauguration of negotiations with the purpose of arriving at a speedy settlement of the impasse created through failure of the Allies to evacuate the Cologne zone.

LAUDS GILBERT

Referring to the administration of the Dawes plan through Seymour Parker Gilbert, Jr., Dr. Luther informed the Reichstag that the agent-general's organization was functioning smoothly and receiving the complete co-operation of German official quarters.

Both with reference to its position on foreign issues and internal policies the new Cabinet's program, as revealed by Dr. Luther's statement, is viewed in the various political camps as an effort to reconcile the acute partisan differences growing out of the recent crisis. The Chancellor found the Reichstag Deputies, with the exception of the Communists, well-behaved auditors, the Nationalists especially expressing approval of the government's stand on Cologne.

SOUTH FLOOD WATERS RISE

Steady Downpour Swells Streams, Crippling and Ruining Lowlands; Death List Remains at Ten

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ATLANTA (Ga.) Jan. 19.—No further deaths had been reported tonight as the result of the flood situation in several Southern States but the steady downpour of rain caused rivers and creeks to continue their rise, seriously crippling railroad and motor traffic.

At Macon, Ga., railroad officials announced that not a train was moving south of the city. Service on the Southern Railway line between Atlanta and Macon and the latter city and Jacksonville had been abandoned as a result of high water.

Train service north and west of Atlanta still was in operation.

Ten persons have been reported as dead or missing as a result of the floods. In a Southern Railway wreck near Selma, Ala., yesterday, two trainmen lost their lives.

An engineer was killed when a passenger train hit a slide near Cartersville yesterday. Four negroes were reported drowned near Hammond, La. A negro was drowned at Columbus, Ga., today and two white men who disappeared Saturday and were believed drowned at Albany, Ga., still were missing tonight.

The Ocmulgee River at Macon already had broken previous depth records tonight and was expected to reach 28.5 feet before morning. Several houses in East Macon floated downstream during the afternoon and it was necessary to dynamite one of them in order to save a bridge under which it passed.

Newton, the county seat of Banker county, Georgia, still was isolated as the Flint River continued to rise. At Columbus, Ga., reports early in the night were to the effect that the Chattahoochee River was receding after reaching a mark of forty-five and one-half feet.

In South Carolina, the little village of Hamburg still was inundated by flood waters of the Savannah.

South Carolina officials issued a warning to tourists to avoid unnecessary travel over flooded roads. Traffic on the Central and Southern highways of the State was at a standstill.

Florida-bound tourists were reported held up by high water in Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina.

No official estimate of property and crop damage in Georgia and Alabama, the two States bearing the brunt of the flood, could be obtained. The loss, however, was said to be heavy.

Predictions of cold weather by tomorrow and the end, perhaps of the downpour of rain brought some assurance to Alabama that the crest of the flood soon would be reached. The Alabama River reached a stage between fifty-three and fifty-four feet at Selma, and thousands of acres of lowlands were flooded.

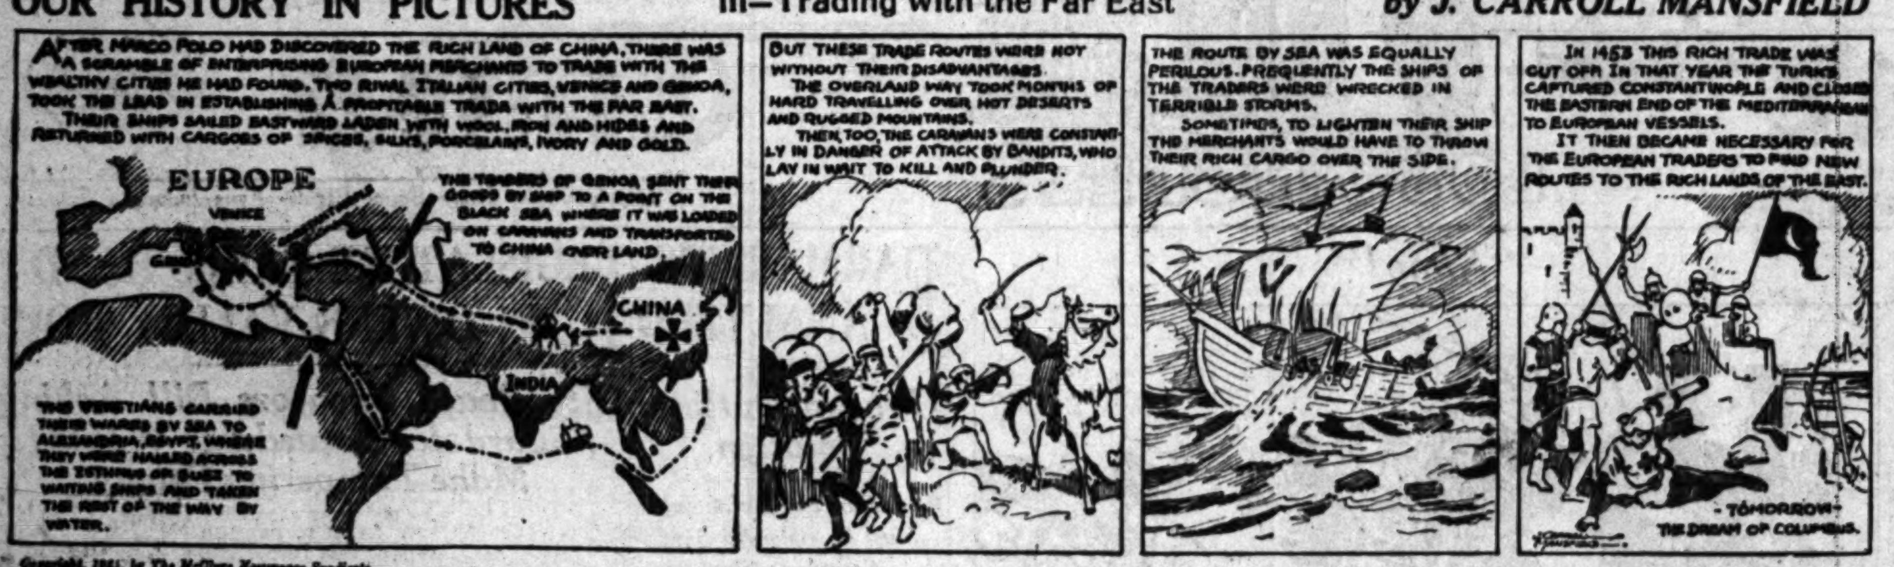
III—Trading With the Far East

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



AFTER MARCO POLO HAD DISCOVERED THE RICH LAND OF CHINA, THERE WAS A SCRAMBLE OF ENTERPRISING EUROPEAN MERCHANTS TO TRADE WITH THE WEALTHY CITIES HE HAD FOUND. TWO RIVAL ITALIAN CITIES, VENICE AND GENOA, TOOK THE LEAD IN ESTABLISHING A PROFITABLE TRADE WITH THE FAR EAST.
THEIR SHIPS SAILED EASTWARD LADEN WITH WOOL, IRON AND HIDES AND RETURNED WITH CARGOES OF SPICES, SILKS, PORCELAINS, IVORY AND GOLD.
EUROPE
INDIA
THE TRADERS OF GENOA SENT THEIR GOODS BY SHIP TO A POINT ON THE BLACK SEA WHERE IT WAS LOADED ON CARAVANS AND TRANSPORTED TO CHINA OVER LAND.
THE VENETIANS CARRIED THEIR WARES BY SEA TO ALEXANDRIA, EGYPT, WHERE THEY WERE HAULED ACROSS THE ISTHMUS OF SUEZ TO WAITING SHIPS AND TAKEN THE REST OF THE WAY BY WATER.
BUT THESE TRADE ROUTES WERE NOT WITHOUT THEIR DISADVANTAGES. THE OVERLAND WAY TOOK MONTHS OF HARD TRAVELLING OVER HOT DESERTS AND RUGGED MOUNTAINS.
THEN, TOO, THE CARAVANS WERE CONSTANTLY IN DANGER OF ATTACK BY BANDITS, WHO LAY IN WAIT TO KILL AND PLUNDER.
THE ROUTE BY SEA WAS EQUALLY PERILOUS. FREQUENTLY THE SHIPS OF THE TRADERS WERE WRECKED IN TERRIBLE STORMS.
SOMETIMES, TO LIGHTEN THEIR SHIP THE MERCHANTS WOULD HAVE TO THROW THEIR RICH CARGO OVER THE SIDE.
IN 1453 THIS RICH TRADE WAS CUT OFF. IN THAT YEAR THE TURKS CAPTURED CONSTANTINOPLE AND CLOSED THE EASTERN END OF THE MEDITERRANEAN TO EUROPEAN VESSELS.
IT THEN BECAME NECESSARY FOR THE EUROPEAN TRADERS TO FIND NEW ROUTES TO THE RICH LANDS OF THE EAST.

Statement by Hughes Flatly Denies Charges

the United States will be as free as it ever was to take any course of action it may think advisable.

"(4.) The agreement at Paris neither surrenders nor modifies any treaty right of the United States."

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, who introduced the resolution calling for a copy of the agreement, said that all the facts must be brought out.

"Americans will be glad to learn from Mr. Hughes's statement that what has occurred at Paris during the past week 'puts the United States under no obligation legally or morally,'" said Senator Johnson. "Unfortunately, responsible parties in every foreign signatory country take a directly contrary view. It is exultingly proclaimed abroad that America has finally become a party to the European situation and is now one of the guaranteers of the Dawes plan and the payment of reparations.

"I hope that Secretary Hughes is right and that all European statesmen are wrong. Only the facts and all the facts will clarify the atmosphere and reassure our people."

BORAH IS CAUTIOUS

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, was cautious in his comment on Secretary Hughes's statement.

"It is a very positive statement and is direct conflict with the views expressed by the Minister of Finance of France, Winston Churchill of Great Britain and others," said Senator Borah. "It will be interesting and I trust illuminating reading abroad.

"It is exceedingly gratifying to have the Secretary of State's construction of the transaction. I cannot say more until the full document and the full report reaches us for careful study."

Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, was critical of the action of the American representatives at Paris.

"I do not wish to pass judgment on the text until I have seen it," said Senator Reed. "But if our representatives in Paris have done what the European papers say they have done, then it is a thing that ought to be repudiated, and the men who made it ought to be repudiated.

"I am absolutely opposed to the United States acting as a collection agency for other powers in order to get this small amount of our Army's cost. I am equally opposed to the moral influence of the United States being used by European nations in support of future plans of theirs for debt collections."

Holland, opposed the American motion to review the work of the first conference and approved the attitude of the Dutch delegation at the conference. He questioned the success of prohibition of importation of opium into the Philippines and argued that no time limit could feasibly be established to abolish opium smoking; this must be based on persistent moral education of the masses.

The conference adjourned until 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, when Mr. Porter is expected to make his reply.

AMATEURS PLANE SUCCESS

A home-made all-metal monoplane of duralumin, built in a back yard with comparatively crude tools and capable of being folded to fit in a garage, recently was constructed by W. H. A. Boyd of Baltimore, Md., with the assistance of his father, W. B. Boyd, and his brother, C. M. Boyd.

None of them, according to Popular Science Monthly for February, knew how to fly; yet when Lieut. Leo M. Willinger tried out the plane on Logan Field, he succeeded in attaining a height of 2500 feet and reaching a speed of ninety miles an hour. The plane weighs only 800 pounds, and has a wing spread of thirty feet. It can be knocked down in fifteen minutes, and, when folded, is only seven feet wide.

SOUTHLAND PRISON PLAN DISFAVORED

Control Board Chairman Holds Building of Another Penitentiary Too Costly

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 19.—Consideration of the budget appropriation bill was begun today at a joint meeting of the Senate Finance and Assembly Ways and Means Committee after a biref legislative session at which 120 bills and a dozen resolutions were introduced.

H. R. Braden, chairman of the Board of Control, explained many of the principal items in the bill and made informal recommendations regarding legislation when requested to do so by committee members.

Replying to a question as to whether it would not be cheaper to have a third prison to be located in Southern California than to continue paying for transportation of prisoners to the north from the south, he said, "No." There is provided in the bill for the next biennium $300,000 for transportation of prisoners and insane. Even though this sum seems large, "it would be a losing proposition to build a third penitentiary in the southern part of the State," he declared, going into detail as to the costs of construction and maintenance, he declared, going into detail as to the costs of construction and maintenance.

The only approach to argument over the bill was over the appropriation of $24,000 for the Woman's Relief Corps home. It developed that an added $15,000 yearly is derived by deductions made from the pensions of inmates, yet the State defrays entirely the costs of supporting the home of California. T. M. Wright of San Jose said he considered this action "miser'y" and, he said, he would again introduce a bill to protect from encroachment the "meager" pensions of the women of the corps. Braden said that the deduction was on a more or less voluntary basis and that he, having nothing to do with the inauguration of the system, had no objections to legislation designed to put at an end the plan of taking part of the pension money to help defray costs of the home.

AQUEDUCT ROW IN LEGISLATURE

by more than $33,000,000 from Federal road funds.

OPPOSITION INCREASES

Sentiment unfavorable to an increase in the gasoline tax is growing stronger in the Legislature and the proposal has been further injured by a conviction that Gov. Richardson would veto a tax increase if the Legislature should approve it.

Those urging increase base their contention on the fact that available funds for further highway construction have virtually been expended and that all new construction by the State will automatically stop if additional revenue is not provided.

It is possible that a compromise may be reached in which the existing law requiring all gasoline tax funds to be expended for maintenance only shall be amended to permit diversion of a part of the revenue for construction purposes. Such a change in the law would make available from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 annually for new construction, it is said, but would reduce in like amount funds available for highway repair.

Opening of a hearing by the Ways and Means Committee of the two houses on the Governor's budget today failed to develop threatened objections. Questions were asked and answered in polite and friendly fashion, the proceedings being in striking contrast to the violent denunciations and personalities marking the budget hearings two years ago.

TAXES IN MINNESOTA

Minnesota taxpayers pay twenty-three times as much to have animal husbandry taught at the University of Minnesota as for the teaching of history, because history can be taught from textbooks and maps, but husbandry needs the actual actors, according to a statistical summary of university teaching costs, issued today by Dr. F. J. Kelly, dean of administration.

The university spends only $2.12 for each student credit hour on history—which means $2.12 for each student attending class one hour a week for a quarter, the summary showed. Animal husbandry is the most expensive subject taught, with a cost for each student credit hour of $27.66, because cattle must be owned and kept for actual demonstrations.—[Minneapolis Journal.

SECTIONAL DESK NOW

Building your own desk to fit your particular needs has been made possible by the recent invention of a sectional desk, designed on much the same principle as the sectional bookcase, according to Popular Science Monthly for February. The units are manufactured in standardized dimensions so that filing cabinets and drawers of specified sizes can be installed as desired.

HOOVER TELLS OF FARM NEEDS

Commerce Secretary Outlines Solution of Problem

Declares Production Should Balance Consumption

directions in which these policies can be supported and in large measure accomplished. The first is to maintain a tariff on agricultural products on such a basis as will stimulate domestic production and I may add, this may be done at no consequential charge upon the consumer in proportion to his gains from a national policy of this character.

"The second direction must be the development of increased domestic consumption of agricultural products per capita of population. This can only take place through development of a higher general buying power. In other words, a higher standard of living of the whole population. In turn, this can only be brought about by the elimination of waste and increase in efficiency in our whole production and distribution system. There is room for 20 per cent or 30 per cent increase in our standard of living today.

"The elimination of waste and increase in general economic efficiency directly helps the farmer in three directions. It reduces the cost of things h buys. It increases the return on what he sells. It increases the consumption of agricultural products.

"The wage earner today is receiving an average of 100 per cent over prewar wages. The cost of living is about 72 per cent above prewar, and therefore our workers have more buying power than in prewar days, whereas the standard of living of our farmers certainly shows no increase and in certain branches of the agricultural industry, it has not even been maintained. Our job is to attack the national problem of how to lift the farmer up to this level."

Mr. Hoover pointed out that the Commerce Department had been studying wastes in distribution for four years and was seeking voluntary co-operation by industry to reduce them. Economies would result likewise from railroad consolidation, interconnection of electric-power plants and construction projects like that of the St. Lawrence waterway he said, adding that farmers' co-operative organizations, with possible improvements in the methods of handling crops and producers' profits, were one factor in the general distributive realignment he felt was necessary.

Father Held for Quiz on Death of Children in Fire

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ELK RIVER (Minn.) Jan. 19.—Frank Bedoch, father of five children, who were burned to death when his home near here was destroyed Sunday, was arrested late today on the recommendation of a Coroner's jury which held an inquest over the bodies this afternoon. No charge was lodged against him.

BILL WOULD PUT TAX ON MUNICIPAL BONDS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 19.—Bonds of municipal corporations and all tax-emept securities would be subject to taxation under the terms of a bill introduced in the Legislature, today by Assemblyman Campbell of Santa Barbara. The burden of taxation has been shifted to rural districts, the legislator stated, and farming life will be both unprofitable and unattractive unless such legislation be enacted.

HOUSES BY THE JOB LOT

Great Britain has set out in a serious and practical way to solve the problem of building with the utmost expedition cheap houses for the working people.

At a Glasgow demonstration of specimen steel cottages fabricated under a system of mass production, the actual operation of putting up a house, after the foundation had set, was from ten to fourteen days. These buildings rest on a concrete "raft" with a damp-proof course throughout, and the outer walls consist of wood framing covered on the outside with steel plates and finished inside with tar paper and composition board.

They contain a large living-room, two bedrooms, kitchen, pantry, coal cellar and bathroom, and can be built for less than $2000. Several other types, costing about the same amount, and likewise fabricated on a quantity basis, are already in the market.—[Living Age

SHEIK FACES "JAZZ GIRL"

Venice Musician Says Girl Told Him She Was Over 16 Years of Age; Attorneys Clash

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—Keith Lord, youthful Venice cafe banjo player and one of the seventeen asserted "sheiks" who the police say were associates of Dorothy Ellingson, 16-year-old "jazz baby," who has confessed the murder of her mother, faced the girl today in jail for the first time since her arrest.

Lord, brought here from Los Angeles, declared to detectives that Dorothy had lied to him about her age.

"Her mother told me she was only 16, but she told me not to believe her mother; that she was 19, and, besides, Mrs. Ellingson was not really her mother, and she was only a boarder where she lived," asserted the boy, who is charged with a statutory offense against the girl.

"She got me into this; it's all her fault," Lord was quoted as saying.

And as the "jazz baby" and her "shieks" fell apart, San Francisco women and clergymen were reported to be scouring the city for every evidence of "night life" orgies by the young that they hope to introduce when Dorothy is brought to trial—a trial that already has been labeled "the trial of the jazz age."

Women with sons are said to be interested in the elimination of "shebas" and women with daughters bent on an extermination of "sheiks."

While this was developing, the more material police sought for further evidence that Dorothy was older than 16 years, as she formerly contended, a fact that would bring her to trial before a higher court on a more serious charge.

Interest in the girl however, though perhaps inspired by different motives, still is causing clashes between her men protectors. Public Defender Egan, favored by the girl for her defense, is reported to have had a wordy clash with Attorney Alex Mooslin, who claims the girl's brother retained him. This may result in the two lawyers handling the case, it is said.

forms forecast is also calculated to disarm opposition by the Socialists, particularly since the Cabinet's first official action concerned the establishment of an eight-hour day for steel workers and other industries, where men are employed under conditions inimical to health.

SEEKS PEACE

With reference to Germany's foreign policy the Chancellor declared that his government would strive for a real and permanent peace among all nations. Its policy would be based in its main points on the London agreement and the laws enforced by reason of this agreement would be loyally carried out.

Dr. Luther reiterated the demand that the documents bearing on the asserted failures of Germany in the matter of disarmament should be furnished, so as to enable the government to reply.

Respecting Germany's position toward the League of Nations, this, he pointed out, had been made clear in the late government's memorandum to the Council of the League and he declared he would continue the previous government's efforts to relieve Germany from the unjustifiable reproach contained in the Versailles Treaty regarding war guilt.

'PULSATOR' PICKS GEMS

Diamonds Adhere to Grease, While Semiprecious Stones Roll On

A machine called a "pulsator" picks diamonds out of material wherein they cannot be seen by the human eye. For years engineers had been seeking a method of saving the small gems which were being lost by hand sorting and washing because they could not be seen.

Magnetic separating devices, sorting by electricity and other ways were tried without success. Then one day an old workman was oiling the bearings of the revolving arms in the washing pan when a lump of the lubricating grease slid from the fat stick and stuck to the bottom.

A few days later, after the concentrates had been taken out and the muddy water drawn off, a tiny diamond was found sticking to the black smear. Believing that he had stumbled onto the solution for the automatic separation of the precious gems, the workman reported his find to the engineer in charge.

Experiments were carried out with a crude apparatus and water from a faucet. The diamonds stuck to the grease while pebbles and semiprecious stones rolled off. There is some sort of affinity between the diamond and the grease, but the "why" is still a mystery.—[Kansas City Times.

CHAPMAN TO BE SPIRITED TO ATLANTA

Notorious Convict Will be Taken Back to Prison to Finish Long Term

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 19.—Gerald Chapman, alias "The Professor, and "The Duke of Grammercy Park," escaped convict and nationally known criminal, who was captured in Muncie yesterday and brought here last night, will be spirited out of Indianapolis and started on his return to the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., as soon as two assistant deputy wardens, who are en route here, arrive, it was announced tonight.

The deputy wardens will be required to sign a receipt for Chapman's person, otherwise there will be no formalities connected with the return to the Federal prison, from which Chapman escaped in March, 192, after serving only a fe wmonths of a twenty-five-year sentence for a $2,400,000 robbery in New York City, according to A. J. Cavins, United States District Attorney for Indiana.

It was understood that Chapman is to be spirited out of Indianapolis because of the belief of Federal agents that an attempt might be made to hold up the train and effect the prisoner's rescue.

United States Marshal Linus Meredith received a request this afternoon that Chapman be held here pending the arrival of authorities from Connecticut, who assert that the prisoner is wanted there for ehe murder of Policeman Skelley of New Britain during a robbery. District Attorney will be returned to the Atlanta penitentiary.

KINDS OF COINAGE

Sixty Nations Have Twenty-three Different Monetary Units

When a nation has lost all its metallic money and has as a circulating medium only a mass of paper money bearing the government's promise to pay at some remote date in the future, it is customary to say that it has an irredeemable paper standard. It would be more correct to say that it has no standard at all. Many of the South American and Central American countries have had such currencies for more than a generation, and nearly every country in the world has been in this unfortunate situation since 1914.

All the paper-money countries nominally retain their prewar gold standards. Some of them have never in any official or legal way admitted that they are not on a gold basis. Assuming for the moment that the nominal metallic standard is the actual basis, we find that among the more than sixty nations with a gold currency there are twenty-three distinct and separate units, varying from the French franc of about 29 centigrams, worth about 19 cents, to the Egyptian pound of about 750 centigrams, worth $4.94. Of these twenty-three units not one has a gold content that can be expressed in an even number of grains of the English system or of grams of the metric system. Only one can be expressed in an even number of centigrams. The others are unwieldy decimal fractions. The gold in the British pound weighs 113.0015 grains, or 7.3223 grams. The German mark contains 35.8442 centigrams of gold. And similarly for all the others. The fractional weights are not, however, such impediments to commerce and business as might be expected. In considerable measure the difficulties have been overcome by the highly efficient methods of modern mints and by the use of tables and rule-of-thumb methods in international transactions in exchange. The great evil is not in the weights of the individual units but in the extraordinary diversity in the group of standards as a whole.—[Neil Carothers in Current History Magazine.

Strong Argument for Smoking

A tobacconist's circular received asks us if we ever imagine the time when every part of the world will be overpopulated. "Driven by hunger," it goes on, "man will prey upon man. Cannibalism will be the order of the day. Those whose blood is well saturated with nicotine will be shunned by the cannibals, for nicotine turns the flesh bitter and distasteful."

This rather startled us. We shall take up smoking immediately.—[Boston Transcript.

HEADLIGHT RULE MAY BE EASED

Modification in Favor of Old Cars Run on Magnetos Proposed to Legislature

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 19.—Leniency in the interpretation of the headlight law relative to automobiles operating on magnetos will be asked tomorrow in a resolution to be introduced in both houses of the State Legislature. This was decided today following a conference between members of the Senate Motor Vehicle Committee and Will H. Marsh, superintendent of the State Motor Vehicle Department. Marsh refused to assume the responsibility for permitting a technical violation of the headlight laws, but declared he would instruct his officers to abide by any decision recommended by the State Legislature which would reflect the opinion of the people.

Under the terms of the proposed agreement, 75,000 light automobiles of a single make manufactured prior to 1919 and still in use, will be allowed the privilege of operating under a magneto system.

It was declared by Senator Jack Inman of Sacramento, that should these automobile owners be required to change their lighting system, it would entail an expenditure of approximately $1,000,000.

He declared the cost would not justify the expenditure and would work a hardship on farmers who use small automobiles during day hours.

Marsh declared, however, that he intends to enforce all provisions of the State Motor Vehicle Act except when the people desire a change which can be regulated through the State Legislature.

In criticising the administration of the motor vehicle department, Senator Inman of Sacramento told the Senate previous to the committee meeting that there was no law under which cars could be required to operate on a battery and generator system.

Marsh, in admitting that licenses were being held up on machines of a certain make of models prior to 1919, cited the statute which requires that lights much not exceed an eight-point intensity and the intensity must not be variable. He maintained that this required his department to withhold licenses from cars the lights of which burned on a magneto because, he said, the intensity of the light then varies with the speed of the car.

PERMISSION OF NATION GRAZING FEES ASKED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. — Remission of all grazing fees for use of the national forests during 1925 would be authorised under a joint resolution offered today by Senator Cameron, Republican, Arizona, free use of the land being left to the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture and subject to regulations promulgated by him.

100 PER CENT AMERICANISM

It is not wrong for us as a nation to say that we do not propose to let the standard of living and culture here be debased to any lower level. But that is only half the story, and that, unfortunately, is all that too many of us see or talk about. We must go on, and say that we do not propose to let the levels of living and culture remain anywhere debased. We propose to examine public questions from the standpoint of "how this thing will affect us as a nation." We propose to go on and to ask how it will affect other nations.

The question as to whether a contemplated act will work a hardship upon others is as pertinent a question for a nation as for an individual. This is not "vague internationalism," "disloyalty," "un-Americanism." It is patriotic to the core. It is putting America first—way first. It is the only 100 per cent Americanism worth putting on the high eminence alongside 100 per cent Christianity.—[Universalist Leader.

ADOPT NEW MEASURE

The "mile of standard cable," which has been used in telephone engineering in this country for more than twenty years and has been adopted in other countries as the unit for expressing the transmission efficiency of telephone circuits and apparatus, has lately been replaced in the Bell System by another unit which is becoming known as the "transmission unit," abbreviated "TU."

The "mile of standard cable" served its purpose for a long time, but in the last few years the advent of carrier telephony and carrier telegraphy, together with the development of improved transmission measuring devices, have made it advisable that a new unit be standardized. The new unit differs from the "mile of standard cable" by only a few per cent in magnitude and is an improvement in other important respects. Already the new unit is receiving favorable consideration from some of the more important European telephone administrations.—[Telephone Press.

The two men were arrested by detectives, on information furnished by a chorus girl. They are said to have boasted of the theft of securities worth $120,000 from Rhodes Co., brokers, and the Liberty Central Trust Company of St. Louis.

When arraigned before Magistrate Frothingham the two prisoners insisted they were engaged in a general brokerage business at 342 Madison avenue, and that they had come into possession of the bonds without knowledge they were stolen. Detectives declared, however, the two were not known at the Madison-avenue building. They gave the Ansonia Hotel as an address.

The specific complaint charges receiving of $40,000 worth of bonds stolen from the Rhodes firm on November 25 last. Horowitz is said to have given the bonds as collateral on a loan from the United States Mortgage and Trust Company for $30,000.

Most of the $30,000, detectives declared, was spent on high life on Broadway by the two prisoners. Records at police headquarters show both have been arrested previously on other charges, Detective Fitzpatrick said.

LEACH IN CORPORATION QUIZ

State Calls Score of Witnesses in Stock Sale Application of Motor Firm Head

Nearly a score of witnesses were called before the State Corporation Department yesterday to testify in connection with an investigation being made relative to an application of Martin A. Leach, president of the Leach Biltwell Motor Car Company and other concerns, for a renewal of his stock broker's license.

An Anaheim business man, William Trapp, declared before the department that Leach got him drunk and took his note for several thousand dollars to apply on stock in one of the motor-car companies. Louis Henning, an Anaheim rancher, testified that he traded his $65,000 ranch for the stock on Leach's representation that $1000 profit was to be made on each of the motor cars.

Another witness declared that he was told that the Leach Biltwell company would produce 1000 cars a day.

A witness for Leach explained that only fifty or sixty Leach Biltwell automobiles were manufactured, and counsel stipulated to the department that approximately $500,000 was taken in from stock sales by the Leach Biltwell Motor Car Company.

Attorneys Norman Bailie and Henry Goodwin, representing the motor-car manufacturer, called on several character witnesses during the afternoon session who declared that as far as they knew Leach's reputation was good. Among those were E. G. Judah, managing director of the Commercial Board of Los Angeles; Dr. Ernest L. Commons, a physician; Eugene Webb, Jr., president of the Culver City Commercial and Savings Bank, and James W. Young, general manager of the First National Loan and Discount Company and president of the Coast Securities Company.

Deputy Commissioner Borron, before whom the case was heard, continued the hearing until 1:30 p.m. today when additional evidence will be submitted.

NEW TRAFFIC CODE SIMPLE

Provisions Will be Explained in Series of Articles by Expert; Ordinance Effective Saturday

[Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of daily articles explaining the new traffic ordinance which will go into effect Saturday. It was written by Miller McClintock, traffic consultant, and was issued by the Traffic Commission.]

The new traffic ordinance, which becomes effective next Saturday, is marked as being the simplest code used in any American city. It is the belief of police officials that its simplicity will relieve both the public and the police of many petty annoyances and that there will be no excuse for anyone claiming ignorance of the law. The simplicity of the regulations makes it especially necessary that complete obedience should be given to them by the public.

Under the new regulations there will be but one downtown district, known as the central traffic district. In the boundaries of this district left turns are prohibited from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Right turns are permitted at any place in the city provided the vehicle is in the line of traffic nearest the curb and that due care is exercised for the safety of pedestrians.

NEW TYPE SIGNALS

Provision is made for the erection of new types of signals and paint marks for the guidance of the public. Vehicles are prohibited from standing beside curbs which are painted red. The color for loading zones has been changed from red to yellow. Opposite curbs so painted at any place in the city vehicles must not stand longer than is necessary to load or unload.

The new regulations lay down simple but definite rules for the obedience to traffic signals. When red is shown in a signal, vehicles which have not entered the intersection are required to stop and remain standing until released, but vehicles which have already crossed the intersection line may proceed. When green is shown vehicles may enter the intersection freely. The showing of yellow, or the ringing of a bell, is a warning that there is to be a change in traffic movement and requires that vehicles shall not enter the intersection until released.

The ordinance also provides that the police shall continue to mark school crossings with yellow paint and motorists are forbidden to enter such cross-walks, when the right half is occupied by a pedestrian.

WHITE LINE WALKS

An innovation in the ordinance is the requirement that the police shall paint white line cross-walks at all places in the central traffic district and in outlying business districts. Pedestrians have the right of way over vehicles at all cross-walks, however, and drivers are required to permit pedestrians to pass over before driving into any cross-walks, when pedestrians signalize their desire to cross.

A graduated scale of penalties is provided under the new regulations. For the first offense the maximum penalty is $50 and five days; for the second offense, $100 and ten days, and for the third offense, $500 and six months. All penalties collected under the ordinance are to be placed in a traffic fund in the city treasury and are to be used for the improvement of traffic conditions.

In order that the public may become familiar with the details of the ordinance the Automobile Club of Southern California has published the ordinance with a digest of the State Vehicle Act, and the Traffic Commission has prepared a digest of the ordinance and of the State Act which will be distributed by the police department.

JAYWALKERS WILL GET ONE DAY OF GRACE

The police traffic bureau decided yesterday to give jaywalkers another day of grace and, though the new traffic ordinance goes legally into effect on Saturday, will not start enforcing it till Monday morning. One reason for the delay is the necessity of getting cross-walks painted in the central traffic district.

Nearly 700 traffic complaints were filed in Police Court yesterday, the majority of them being for asserted violation of the pedestrian stop ordinance. Of this total, 564 cases were filed in Police Judge Richardson's court yesterday morning. Most of them will be heard today.

This total indicates that police are pushing the drive against violators of the ordinance which superseded the "school stop" law.

All motorists are required to stop at the pedestrian crossings if anyone is within the zone crossing the street. Officers have been stationed at various stops throughout the city to see that the law is enforced.

FILM ACTOR DIVORCED FROM WIFE ABROAD

When Wilfred A. Pollard, film actor, came to the United States from England in 1912 his wife refused to accompany him, he told Judge Thompson yesterday when his divorce suit against Lydia N. Pollard, was heard.

Ten years afterward, he said, he requested a mutual friend, then in England to visit his wife, and ask her if she would come to America.

"I don't want to," his wife is quoted as saying. "All my friends are here."

"Would you live with your husband if he were here?" the friend asked.

"No," Mrs. Pollard is said to have replied, "I have someone else I am interested in now."

Pollard got the divorce.

CITY IS DIYNG

Constantinople Losing Population and Trade; Harbor Deserted

According to Les Temps, Constantinople is a dying city. Its formerly busy harbor is deserted, banks will loan money only on exorbitant terms, big business houses are liquidating their affairs and closing their doors. Foreigners are leaving en masse or—as in case of the Greeks and Armenians—are being expelled by the authorities; and even part of the Mussulman population is migrating to Anatolia in the hope of bettering its condition.

Constantinople suffered severely during the succession of wars that began with the Balkan conflict in 1912 and only ended with the defeat of the Greeks last year. A series of conflagrations, the ravages of which could not be repaired in the prevailing unsettlement, has swept away more than one-fifth of the city. Revolution and civil war have practically extinguished the Black Sea trade: and Constantinople, like Vienna, is suffering from the shrinkage of the territories of which it formerly was the commercial center.

Last of all, the department of 3000 Greeks and Armenians, like the expulsion of the Jews from Spain and the Hugenots from France, has prostrated important economic activities of the city. Meanwhile Constantinople's rivals are profiting by the distress of their old competitor. Alexandria, Beirut, Piraeus and Soloniki are no longer simple satellites of the metropolis on the Bosporus, but are rapidly becoming independent trade centers.

Notwithstanding this discouraging situation, however, correspondents point out that the causes of the present depression are political and transitory, while the natural advantage that has made Constantinople great—her strategic situation at a focus of land and sea routes—remains unaffected, and they confidently predict her ultimate revival.—[Living Age.

CHILD MEASURE WINS IN ARIZONA

Amendment Passes House by Vote of 41 to 3

Segregation of Negro School Children Proposed

Governor is Hit by Favoring of Librarian Fund

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Jan. 19.—The child labor amendment to the national Constitution went through the House today by a vote of 41 to 3, with three absent or excused, though four of the six members of the reporting committee had signed a negative decision. The House also gave favorable consideration to a direct appropriation of $275,000 to the State university for completion of a new library building. A slap at the Governor was a vote of $2000 to the State Law Librarian, something vetoed by the executive two years ago.

New bills include: Demanding $100,000 bond from building and loan associations, authorizing incorporated cities to adopt zoning ordinances with building restrictions in each, strictly segregating children of African descent in the public and high schools, amending the primary election code, amending the irrigation district law, amending the fish and game code; for submission to popular vote; permitting the superintendent of the State prison to dispose of the bodies or of parts of the bodies of executed criminals and stopping any court action that may have been founded on any official invasion of the graves of such individuals. The list offered by Senator Hardy, covers the action of Supt. R. B. Simms of the State penitentiary in sending to an eastern scientific institution the skulls of two executed murderers. A special committee herefater will investigate and report on compensation claims of State employees or their heirs, this expected to consolidate the many claim bills biennially put before the Legislature.

PURCHASING POWER FOR YEAR GAINS

Moody's Review Points Out Tremendous Development in National Ability

"Most striking among the financial developments of 1924," John Moody writes in his annual review and forecast, "has been the vast increase in the purchasing power of American investors and business men, an increase not even paralleled relatively by what occurred here after the Civil War, and in Great Britain after the Napoleonic conflict. This vast new buying power is almost dominating the security markets, and is seeking new avenues of expansion in all domestic industries and in foreign fields.

"Notwithstanding the high level of stock prices, stock markets have always shown strength and progress so long as real betterment and expansion of general trade continue. This promises a continuance of the broad upyard trend of stocks during the large part of 1925.

"The radio of capital supply to capital demand is extraordinarily high. It is then perfectly normal and logical that interest rates and bond yields, or in other words, the prices of money and capital should be low. Hence it is reasonable to expect that interest rates should be very low during the first quarter of 1925, and almost as low during the second quarter, but that they should begin to move upward during the third quarter. Bond yields naturally follow interest rates, but in a tardy manner. This implies a strong bond market for some months, with a recession later in the year.

"The railroad industry has the remarkably good fortune to be in the best position in several decades. Steel and metal industries are benefitting from the situation, because railroads are the largest single consumers of steel. In view of the extensive engineering and industrial construction under way, it appears not impossible that steel production in 1925 might make a new high record."

EXPLOSION OF STILL MAY HAVE SET FIRE

Fire, thought to have been caused by the explosion of a small still and a quantity of inflammable liquid, gutted a garage in the rear of 335 North Serrano avenue yesterday afternoon and until extinguished by members of Fire Engine Company No. 29, seriously threatened adjoining property. Sergt. L. S. C. Nelson and squad from the Hollywood Police Station discovered a small still and a dozen empty containers, thought by the police to have contained alcohol. According to Acting Captain Harry Adams of Engine No. 29, the fire might have been started by neighborhood children playing with matches in the burned structure. Philip Joffee, according to the police, owns the garage and lives in the Serrano-avenue address.

SENATE IN TRIBUTE TO DEAD

Memories of Lodge, Brandegee and Colt Honored at Solemn Ceremonies; Mrs. Coolidge Present

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—In an atmosphere of solemnity unusual even to that grave body, the Senate today paid tribute to the memory of Senators Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, Frank B. Brandegee of Connecticut, and Lebaron B. Colt of Rhode Island.

The center aisle division between the two parties was forgotten, differences as to political theory were laid aside, and personal disagreement was obliterated as speaker after speaker arose on both sides of the chamber to express appreciation as a citizen and as a Senator of the services of the three veteran members.

Each of the three had long careers in the public service, paralleling in many cases those of the speakers, and evidence of keen emotion crept frequently into formal prepared addresses. The gallery audience reflected the atmosphere of the chamber, most of those who took their seats when the Senate convened at noon remaining through the long session.

Mrs. Coolidge occupied a seat in the Presidential row with Mrs. Gillett, wife of the Speaker of the House, and members of the families of Senator Lodge and Colt were in the same section. In near-by seats were many who had been identified with the late Senators in their life at home who had traveled to Washington to join in the tribute.

Without exception, the speakers emphasized the nonpartisan, warmly nationalistic purposes of the three Senators when any points arose affecting the country as a whole. Those who had opposed Senators Lodge, Brandegee and Colt on various matters declared this characteristic was present throughout their careers.

STAKED LIFE AND LOST

Mexican Celebrator in Drunken Freak Wagers Life at Cards to Woman Who Claims Forfeit

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19.—It has been said that life is held lightly in Mexico, that one may lose it for a few cents, for an insulting look or a casual word, but in the world's annals of crime there is surely nothing on record similar to the result of a drunken bout which is now being investigated by the Mexico City police as result of a gamble in which the stake was a human life.

The facts of this extraordinary case are as follows: Concepcion Saucedo, a railroad employee, arrived in the city a few days ago after an absence of some years. Bent on having a good time, and with his pockets bulging with money, he soon got on the track of two lady acquaintances, friends of his when he was last in the capital.

The three proceeded on a jaunt around the lower quarters of the city, and few were the saloons unpatronized by them. Toward afternoon, all being in a state of hopeless intoxication, they reached a cafe where, apparently seeking excitement in addition to drink, they decided to play cards. At first the stakes consisted of money, and the women appear to have been the winners.

This did not cause Saucedo any material inconvenience, indeed it seems to have bored him, and he proposed a more exciting stake. Addressing one of his companions, by name Hortenia, he said. "Let us play for a life." If I win, I will have the right to kill you, and if I lose you can kill me." Hortensia accepted and the game was played, luck favoring the woman. Without any show of emotion, Saucedo handed her his revolver. The woman, without a word, shot him in the head. Saucedo is still alive.

The number of unemployed in Austria that are subsidized by the government jumped from 66,000 last August, to 116,000 in December.

Rescued Sailors Still Suffering Due to Struggle

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Jan. 19.—Capt. Jean Louis Richman and his crew of nine South Sea Islanders of the French schooner Raita, which was smashed to pieces on the rocky shore of Vancouver Island seventy-five miles north of here yesterday, were still in a condition of collpase today. All the men were exhausted in their struggle for life.

When the gale clutched her, the Raita was driven shoreward. She passed safely over the first of three reefs and anchored. When she began dragging her anchor toward the inner reef, the crew took to the lifeboats and rowed for their lives. As they reached shore they saw the Raita lifted on a huge swell and crashed upon the rocks. She fell back and sank.

FINANCE PLANS SAVING MEXICO

Official Lauds Calles for Budget Economy

Continues Work Initiated by Obregon

Fourth of Revenues Devoted to Public Debt

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Jan. 19.—While in San Antonio on his way to Canada to visit a son, who is attending school there, Alberto J. Pani, Sr., Minister of Finance of the Mexican government, made an optimistic statement of economic conditions of Mexico and the financial plans of the government. He said that agricultural and industrial conditions are better than for several years, and that good progress is being made in relieving the government from threatened bankruptcy.

During the brief time that President Calles has been in office further attention has been given to reducing the deficit. During the last eleven months of President Alvaro Obregon's administration the deficit was reduced from $56,000,000 to $47,976,288, exclusive of salaries of members of Congress and magistrates, which are many months overdue, he said.

"The economic plan started in October, 1923, when the threatened bankruptcy of the Federal government became apparent and which was continued in 1924, despite the military uprising headed by De la Huerta, who was the author of the financial difficulties of the government, will be accomplished in 1925, with the energetic measures taken by President Calles," Pani said. "The plan will be feasible, thanks to the work of President Obregon and President Calles.

"As the result of the new economies introduced in cutting down expenses wherever possible, the expense budget for 1925 will be only $202,244,699.05 for salaries and expenses and $84,149,672.95 for the public debt, making a total of $286,399,372. Unless the unforseen happens, it is conservatively estimated that a sum not less than $290,000,000 will be paid into the treasury in 1925.

"With receipts estimated at $290,000,000 and authorized expenses reaching $286,399,372, there will be a surplus of several million pesos which will be applied to the foreign debt in accordance with stipulations in the agreement of June 16, 1922 between the Mexican government and the international committee of bankers."

Mr. Pani said the proposition of J. L. Arlitt of Austin to float a loan of $50,000,000 to the Mexican government was a thing of the past.

PROBLEM IN DRAINING OF TEXAS LAKE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Jan. 19.—Use of Medina Lake as an irrigation reservoir when the 43,000-acre irrigation project under way is developed will force the State of Texas to make special provision to restock the lake with fish from time to time.

Lowering of the water level during times when irrigation is necessary will destroy thousands of fish, thereby necessitating re-stocking, declared Turner E. Hubby, newly appointed Game, Fish and Oyster Commissioner of the State, who spent Wednesday in San Antonio. The commissioner-elect declared that special attention will be paid to the lake.

Even with the relatively small acreage now under irrigation—about 7500 acres—considerable water is drawn from the lake from time to time. With almost six times as much land under irrigation ultimately with the development of the project, there will be occasions when so much water will be drawn off that the water level may be reduced almost to the river channel, in cases of extreme drought.

This would come at the season of the year when that would be most apt to expose the spawn of the fish, especially bass, before the young fish hatch out, Hubby said. Not only would a vast amount of fish be lost by this exposure, but thousands of small fish would be caught in the waterweed which covers the floor of the lake. Small fish stay in such growths as this for protection, he explained.

French Hotels Wail Against Tourist Taxes

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Jan. 19.—French hotel-keepers are raising a loud squawk over the new regulations governing tourists visiting France. The regulation orders tourists to pay a tax of $2.50 a head for identification cards, which must be stamped by the police at every change of address.

"It means the ruin of the hotel industry in France," wails a leading hotel manager. "We will lose all our rich American clients who visit us every year. They will go to Italy and Spain, where they are not bothered with such idiotic regulations."

SLAVERY RING QUIZ WIDENS

Five Orientals Arrested as "Buyers" of White Girl

Uncle and Aunt Also Held in Sordid Transaction

Police Study Asylum List in Search of Father

HARTFORD (Ct.) Jan. 19.—Details surrounding the sale of a 13-year-old schoolgirl to a group of orientals as their white slave grow more sordid as the police round up additional members of the band asserted to have "bought" the girl from her aunt and uncle.

Four Chinese and one Japanese are now under arrest, with John and Pearl Oakes, the latter the uncle and aunt of the "slave girl," Dorothy Wright.

When the first investigation was made by the authorities only two Chinese were arrested, but further investigation developed that a large group of orientals shared in the possession of the young schoolgirl.

LIVED OVER SHOP

The Chinese arrested are laundrymen, most of whom work in a shop on the first floor of the apartment-house where Oakes and his wife live at 106 Church street.

The Japanese arrested is S. Teraoka, butler at the home of Mrs. G. F. Heublein, Hartford society leader. The four Chinese under arrest are Charlie Jung, 57 years of age; Lee Jin, 63; Charley Wong, 20, and Chung Ten, 35.

Police are now bending their efforts on establishing the identity of the child, said to be the niece of the Oakeses.

CHILD'S KIN SOUGHT

The man and woman say they obtained the child from an orphan's asylum near Houlton, Me., and that the mother of the girl was killed in a grade-crossing accident. The girl's father is said be be living somewhere near Houlton.

Inquiry at Houlton has failed to reveal any trace of the girl's father or any record of the child having been in an orphanage.

Meanwhile, the seven defendants are held under heavy bail. A sentence of 30 years faces each of the defendants if convicted.

INDIAN WHO STOLE LOVE LOSES EYES

Jealous Husband Blinds Sheik Rival by Hurling Can of Lye

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CEDAR RAPIDS (Iowa) Jan. 19.—Amos Morgan, a 47-year-old Indian, invoked the unwritten law to revenge himself on Albert Moore, a 36-year-old Indian sheik of Oklahoma, with the result that Moore occupies a bed of pain in the hospital on the Indian reservation at Tama, blind in both eyes as the result of receiving the contents of a can of concentrated lye in the face. Morgan has confessed, according to Federal Marshal Healy of this city, who placed him under arrest. Moore also admitted that he had been friendly with Morgan's young squaw wife, Healy said. He also is under arrest for contributing to the girl's delinquency.

Healy's investigation showed that Moore, who is an educated Indian, from Oklahoma, is a typical sheik and had won the hearts of nearly a score of squaws.

DEBATE ARRANGED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OAKLAND, Jan. 19.—The Oxford-Mills debate, to be held on Mills College campus Wednesday evening, is arousing much interest among the associated students. It is the only debate the Oxonians are holding with a team of women contestants. The method followed will be that used in English universities. The decision will be made by the audience. The subject for discussion is, "Resolved: That in a modern democracy the Cabinet members be directly responsible to a popularly elected assembly rather than to the executive." The Oxonians will uphold the affirmative side of the question, and the Mills debaters, the negative.

P. HENRY'S FOLLOWER GETS WISH

"Liberty or Death" Says Colorado Benedict; Wife Given Divorce

DENVER, Jan. 19.—"Give me liberty or give me death."

Beginning three weeks after his marriage, that was the favorite quotation of Lawrence W. Smith, Colorado Springs insurance man, according to the testimony of his wife, Alma J. Smith, in County Judge George A. Luxford's court.

"Whenever we had any kind of a difference, my husband always threw up his hands and cried: 'Give me liberty or give me death.'" Mrs. Smith testified.

"Was your husband related to Patrick Henry?" asked Judge Luxford.

"No; but he often told me he thought Patrick Henry must have been unhappily married."

Mrs. Smith said she was married at Colorado Springs January 21, 1922, and lived there with her husband until October of last year.

He insisted, she testified on taking lonely walks and on observing days of absolute silence when he would not talk to her or allow her to touch him.

Judge Luxford granted Mrs. Smith a preliminary decree of divorce.

DEATH HIDES IN CASES OF OLD SCOTCH

Warning Issued After Ten Deaths Occur in Chicago from Faked Whisky

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Warning that death lurks in beautifully labeled bottles supposedly filled with old Scotch was issued today by Health Commissioner Herman N. Bundesen.

"Chicago is flooded with masquerading moonshine that in many cases is deadly poison," he declared. "Ten deaths have been traced to this source since the 1st inst. Do not take a drink from anybody, under any circumstances, without first having the stuff analyzed."

He added that the label business should not deceive the public, as there is virtually no real whisky on sale in the city.

"It is too early to say how many cases of blindness will develop from promiscuous drinking of this stuff," he said. "But the situation is serious. Because the traffic is illicit, we have trouble tracing the sources, but a large proportion of the samples we have analyzed have disclosed that the 'good old Scotch' is in reality deadly poison."

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

por Heliodoro Dueñes

NUMERO 15

Tema: Uso de los Artículos

Para que los lectores de esta sección, que están aprendiendo la lengua castellana o perfeccionando sus conocimientos en la misma, puedan obtener algún fruto de estas pláticas, me propongo, aunque sea con la brevedad que requiere el corto espacio de que dispongo, expresar con toda claridad las reglas gramaticales que norman este idioma, presentar ejemplos al alcance de todas las inteligencias y escoger aquellos temas que considero de mayor importancia para el aprendizaje de la lengua.

Toca su turno en esta vez al artículo, que paso a definir brevemente.

ARTICULO es la parte de la oración que se antepone al nombre, o a otra palabra que haga las veces de nombre, para determinar su género y número.

Hay dos clases de artículos en castellano: el determinado, el, la, lo, los, las; y el indeterminado o indefinido, un, unos, una, unas. El plural de el, es los; el de la, las; el de un, unos y el de una, unas. El y un, son masculinos: la y unas, femeninos; lo, es neutro y no tiene plural.

Los nombres propios de personas, y en general de seres animados, como Napoleón, Sócrates, Rocinante, no admiten ordinariamente el artículo definido; a no ser que lleven antepuesto "señor" o algún calificativo; por ejemplo: el invencible Alejandro; la señora Pardo Bazán; el flaco Rocinante. Los apodos que caracterizan a ciertas personas, requieren el artículo definido: don Jaime el Conquistador; don Alfonso el Sabio. "Santo y Santa" y el apócope del primero "San", no llevan artículo definido antepuesto; pero es costumbre darlo a los del antiguo testamento: El Santo Job; el Santo Rey David. Si el título que lleva anexo el nombre pertenece al empleo que desempeña la persona que lo ostenta, debe ponerse el artículo: el lord canciller, los lores del Almirantazgo.

Es práctica muy común en España y desusada en la América española (a no ser en tono despectivo) referirse a "la Gonzalez" o "la Ordóñez", en atención a que los apellidos no pueden ponerse en forma femenina.

Hay ciertos casos en que el artículo indefinido hace veces de definido, como en el siguiente ejemplo de literatura clásica: "Vuesa merced me parece,—Señor juez, que aquí ha venido—Contra ciertos delincuentes.—Sí, señor, un Luis Perez.—Contra el don Alonso es—Por haber dado la muerte . . ." (Calderón) En este caso, el artículo indeterminado "un" está haciendo las veces del definido "el". Los pronombres posesivos y demostrativos, presuponen la existencia del artículo definido: "Su casa" (La casa suya) "Aquel palacio" (el palacio aquel.)

NUMERO 16

El artículo indefinido, — dice Bello—da a veces una fuerza particular al nombre con que se junta. Decir que alguien es "holgazán" no es más que atribuirle este vicio; pero decir que es "un holgazán" es atribuirselo como vicio principal y característico.

Suele usarse de la misma manera el adjetivo determinativo "alguno": "Ahora digo que no ha sido sabio el autor de mi historia, sino algún ignorante hablador." (Cervantes.) En frases negativas se usa "ninguno": "No soy ningún ignorante para que trates de engañarme".

A veces el artículo definido se usa para dar énfasis a la frase, ya poniendo de relieve cualidades o ya defectos de la cosa o persona de quien se trata, como en los siguientes ejemplos: "Echaron de ver la borrasca que se les aparejaba, habiendo de haberlas con un rey de Francia. (Coloma)." "A pesar de haber confiado el gobierno de la ciudad a un conde de Tendilla, espejo de caballeros, tan generoso y clemente en la paz, como bizarro en los combates; a un Fr. Hernando de Talavera, cuyo nombre recuerda la caridad y mansedumbre de los primitivos apóstoles." (Martinez de la Rosa.)

Se usa el artículo indefinido sustantivado, como cuando se dice: "es difícil que uno se acostumbre a tantas incomodidades". En este caso significa "uno mismo, o alguna persona". También se dice: "No puede uno resignarse a hacerlo", manera enfática de negarse. Lo mas corriente es que si la persona que habla es mujer, diga en tal caso "una", por ejemplo: "Tiene una que acomodarse a sus circunstancias, y entonces ¿qué ha de hacer una?" (Moratín).

Unos unas, se usa para dar una idea aproximada del número cardinal con que se junta: "Sitiaban la plaza unos tres mil hombres."

Ocasiones hay,—observa la gramática de la Academia,—en que es tan determinante el artículo genérico "un, una" como el artículo determinado "el, la: v.gr.: UNA mujer honrada es corona de su marido."

El erudito filólogo don Andrés Bello, encuentra una gran afinidad entre el artículo y los pronombres demostrativos, y lo demuestra diciendo: "Donde las otras lenguas romances y el inglés emplean pronombres demostrativos equivalentes a él, ella, etc., nosotros empleamos el artículo el, la, etc.: "La vegetación de la zona tórrida es más rica y variada que LA de los otros países". Los franceses traducirían este LA por CELLE, como los italianos por QUELLA, y los ingleses por THAT. Tan estrecha es la afinidad entre el artículo y el pronombre demostrativo".

DEFEATED CHINESE AT BAY

Forces of Marshal Chi Hsieh Yuan Making Last Stand as Victors Continue Advance

BY JOHN POWELL

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1925, by the Chicago Tribune.]

SHANGHAI, Jan. 19.—The forces of Marshal Chi Hsieh Yuan who were defeated in the fighting of yesterday are making a last stand at the town of Wusieh on a line running to the Kiangyin forts on the Yangtze.

Further heavy fighting is not expected until Marshal Lu Yung Hsiang's Fengtien and Russian troops catch up with Chi's men over approximately fifty miles of intervening country.

Credit for Sunday's victory of Marshal Lu is given to his Russian troops, who excel the Chinese in strategy and markmanship.

It was practically established today that Marshal Sun Chuan Fang of Chekiang is not co-operating with Chi since most of Sun's troops have moved from the vicinity of Shanghai and have been taken back to Hangchow. Sun sent no help to Chi.

The Allied naval commanders here held a meeting this morning at wheih they perfected plans for defense in case Chi is defeated and his forces fall back to the borders of the foreign settlement. Three additional American warcraft are expected in Shanghai from Manila tomorrow.

BOY 'PRINCE' RETURNS TO DAD'S TABLE

Youth Who Posed Here as Hungarian Noble at Home in Indiana

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Eudre S. Gregor, 19 years of age, of Indiana Harbor, today was back in the home of his father after a rather hectic trip to Los Angeles, where he posed as Prince Eudre Esterhazy, a scion of the famous Hungarian house of nobility.

Young Gregor deserted his studies in high school, where he was an honor student, for a touch of high life.

He basked in the sunlight of publicity because of his assertion that he was on a secret mission in the United States as a representative of the famous house of Esterhazy.

The denouement came, however, when he was arrested on a charge of stealing an overcoat. The dashing scion of nobility revealed his identity in Juvenile Court and was released on probation.

Opposition to Stock Disease Claims Denied

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 19.—State Controller Ray L. Riley today denied published reports that he would oppose the payment of indemnity claims of almost $3,000,000 as the result of the campaign waged last year to stamp out the foot-and-mouth disease, providing the money is appropriated by the Legislature in accordance with the provision of a bill introduced by Assemblyman N. V. Wemple of Litchfield, Lassen county.

On the contrary, Riley said, the Wemple bill was acceptable to him as controller. Under the terms favorably reported the money will be paid to a designated agent of the State Department of Agriculture for direct settlement of claims instead of having the claims pass through the controller's office for auditing purposes.

LABOR DIFFICULTIES ARE COMPROMISED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 19.—Difficulties between the electrical contractors and labor unions were compromised this morning and building operations were resumed when the union men were reemployed. Working terms will be similar to what they were when the misunderstanding arose a week ago, according to both contractors and union men. Fear of a general tie-up is said to have influenced conflicting forces to get together and iron out their difficulties.

SUGAR CONSUMPTION BREAKS ALL RECORDS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The amount of sugar used by the people of the United States during 1924 was 11,200,000,000 pounds, or almost 100 pounds for each person in the country. This includes sugar consumed through table use and in manufactured food products such as bread, pastry, ice cream, candy, bottled drinks, chewing gum, condensed milk and tobacco. It is the largest quantity ever used by this country in any one year and is far larger than is consumed by any other one nation.

ORPHAN IN LIFE QUEST OF FAMILY

New Jersey Waif Spends Days in Search of Kin Long Lost to Him

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—William Hunter, most of whose twenty-one years have been spent in search of his lost family has started out on his quest again from the North Bergen (N. J.) Police Station. He had appealed to Chief Leonard Marcey to help him find his parents, brothers and sisters.

Abandoned by his mother after his father abandoned her, given away for adoption by grandparents who could not support him, William's life has been one long search for his vanished kinsfolk.

Institution after institution gave him shelter, but he always ran away, anxious to find a home with his parents.

The reformatory at Jamesburg was his last home. Since then he has worked his way all over the country.

Christmas Day he was discharged, homeless and penniless, from the City Hospital in Trenton, N. J.

North Bergen policemen advised him to go to the bureau of vital statistics in Jersey City, where he will find records of his family. He is listed at the Laurel Hills almshouse in Secaucus, N. J., as the third child of his parents, but where the other two brothers or sisters are is unknown.

BORIS LIVES LIKE PRINCE IN NEW YORK

Grand Duke and Entourage Occupy Palatial Suite on Arrival in America

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Though admitting that the story of his possession of millions in American banks was "somewhat exaggerated," Grand Duke Boris Vladimirovitch evidently is far from short of finances. With his whole entourage he occupies palatial suites at the Ritz Carlton where, with a broad smile, perfect English and a keen sense of humor, he met reporters.

He answered numerous queries and made it clear that he has no prejudices for or against liquor, and that his actions of twenty years ago, when in New York he paid considerable attention to Broadway shows, must not be taken as a criterion of his general conduct. The women of the party, including the Duchess, denied themselves to interviewers.

A tall gentleman of Russian features was mistaken for the royal visitor before Boris received the representatives of the press. When the error was discovered, this man explained he was "Ivan Ivanovich, keeper of the royal dogs."

GUN ELEVATION LOST IN SENATE

Johnson is Only Republican Supporting Measure

Vote Reflects Opposition of President Coolidge

Motion Testing Sentiment by Senator McKellar

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Elevation, for the present at least, of the big guns on thirteen of America's battleships, opposed by President Coolidge, received the emphatic disapproval of the Senate.

The vote was 45 to 22, and came on a motion by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, to suspend the rules for consideration of his amendment to the pending annual naval supply bill authorizing an appropriation of $6,500,000 for the gun elevation.

Only one Republican, Johnson, California, supported the motion which would have required a two-thirds majority. Eight Democrats, including Senator Swanson, Virginia, ranking minority member of the Naval Committee, and one Farmer-Labor, Shipstead, voted against it. The roll call follows:

For the McKellar motion:

Republicans—Johnson, 1.

Democrats—Bayard, Broussard, Copeland, Dial, Edwards, Ferris, Fletcher, Gerry, Harris, Heflin, Kendrick, McKellar, Mayfield, Overman, Pittman, Ransdell, Reed of Missouri; Sheppard, Simmons, Walsh of Massachusetts, and Walsh of Montana—21. Total, 22.

Against the motion—Republicans: Ball, Bingham, Brookhart, Bursum, Butler, Cameron, Capper, Couzens, Cummins, Curtis, Dale, Fernald, Hess, Frazier, Hale, Harreld, Howell, Jones of Washington; Keyes, McLean, McNary, Metcalf, Moses, Oddie, Pepper, Phipps, Reed of Pennsylvania; Shortridge, Smoot, Spencer, Sterling, Wadsworth, Warren, Watson, Weller and Willis.—36.

Democrats—Bruce, Caraway, Dill, George, King, Neely, Ralston and Swanson.—8.

Farmer-Labor — Shipstead.—1. Total, 45.

In offering his resolution last week, Senator McKellar took the lead in what became a fairly general assault from the Democratic side on the administration's position with reference to gun elevation and also on the Washington Arms Conference. Both were defended by Chairman Hale of the Naval Committee.

When the Tennessee Senator called up his amendment today, Senator Hale made a point of order against it on the ground that it was similar to that approved by the Senate two years ago and also that it authorized an appropriation not approved by the House and by the Budget Bureau.

McKellar then moved to suspend the rules so his amendment might be in order.

Senator Hale told the Senate he thought it unwise to "take affirmative action while a protest of a foreign government in this matter is pending." He was referring to a formal representation made by Great Britain that gun elevation would be violative of the naval limitation treaty.

Senator McKellar replied that Senate action would assist in the settlement of the issue and would strengthen the arm of the American government in dealing with the subject. He also explained that there was no intention to have the funds used immediately, but merely to have them available, and argued that Japan had elevated the big guns on her battleships, while the rifles on thirteen of America's eighteen battleships were out-ranged by the guns of both the British and Japanese battle fleets.

Swallowed Spoons Keep Host Awake Nights; Operation Relieves Him

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Jan. 19.—To be awakened from sound sleep by two spoons rattling in your stomach was the unusual sensation of Cecil P. Baines, who was operated upon and the silverware recovered. Baines claims that, absent-mindedly, he swallowed the spoons in mistake for food.

But police declare Baines ate the metal "dish" while in prison two years ago in an attempt to commit suicide. The spoons didn't cause him any trouble until recently when they began pushing against his ribs.

STATE CONTROL ASKED FOR COMMISSION MEN

BILLS IN LEGISLATURE SEEK SUPERVISION OF FARM PRODUCTS TRADE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 19.—Three bills each aiming at placing brokers and commission merchants who deal in farm products under the direct supervision of the State Department of Agriculture, were introduced in the Assembly today. The bills provide that commission brokers must take out licenses and file bonds before they are permitted to do business.

The measures were introduced individually by Assemblymen Adams, Livingston; Cleveland, Watsonville, and Jost of Hayward. Adams's bill, indorsed by the California Farm Bureau Federation, would fix the license fee at $25 or more, depending on business volume of the concern and would empower the Department of Agriculture to inspect at any time the accounts of commission houses.

Both fines and imprisonment would be provided for brokers who are found guilty of "price fixing" to restrict competition or issue false statements regarding the condition or quality of farm products. The measure also provides that the broker must settle with the farmer within seven days after receipt of goods.

STATE OIL CONTRACTS SHOW HIGHER PRICE

PURCHASING AGENT ASSERTS AGREEMENTS PROTECT AGAINST RISE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 19.—New contracts for crude oil to be used in State institutions made public today by W. G. McMillan, State purchasing agent, involve an increase in the delivery price of 40 cents a barrel over the contracts of a year ago. The new contracts, involving expenditures of about $400,000, give the State a rate of approximately $1.40 a barrel.

McMillan said the State has a guarantee against an advance in price during the life of the contracts and will be protected in the event of a decline. Contracts have been signed with the Shell Oil Company, which will get the bulk of the business and the Standard, Associated and Richfield Oil companies.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—The propriety of a number of transactions incident to the asserted fraudulent sale of assets of the Hackfeld sugar interests in Hawaii following their seizure during the war by the Alien Property Custodian, was attacked by counsel for the plaintiffs today in the accounting suit of former Hackfeld stockholders on trial in Superior Court here. The plaintiffs are seeking recovery of $10,000,000 from the Trent Trust Company, Ltd. of Honolulu, and others on the ground that property worth $17,500,000 was sold on instructions from the Alien Property Custodian for $7,500,000.

A large percentage of the $7,500,000 was represented by Liberty bonds of the United States government, the records show. The bonds were accepted by the Trent Trust Company, depositary acting for the Alien Property Custodian, at par, although all the issues were from 7 to 10 points "off" in 1918, the date of the transaction, according to the records submitted as evidence.

BONDS TAKEN

Richard H. Trent, president of the Trent Trust Company, admitted Liberty bonds were accepted by him at par in payment for stock in American Factors, Ltd., formed to take over the Hackfeld assets, but declared he had full authority from A. Mitchell Palmer, Alien Property Custodian, for so doing.

Subscribers to American Factors stock and amounts of Liberty bonds turned in by them were listed as follows:

C. Brewer & Co., $330,800; Matson Navigation Company, $375,000; Welch & Co., $350,000; Frank C. Atherton estate, $20,000; Frank C. Atherton, personal, $12,500; Alexander & Baldwin, $375,000; Wallace M. Alexander, $75,000; Alexander Properties Company, $34,950; Baldwin, personal, $375,000; George Sherman, $103,000.

Attorney John F. Neylan for the plaintiffs also attacked the manner in which the appraisal of the Hackfeld properties was made, which was done by averaging the earnings of the former German-owned properties over a period of eight years. Trent denied that that was done in order to arrive at a lower valuation.

AUDIT MADE

The Trent Trust Company's audit of the Hackfeld properties was made as of December 31, 1917, the records showed. No mention was made in the report to the Alien Property Custodian of the $1,600,000 profits made during 1918, Trent admitted, but explained that he informed the custodian that the profits were accruing at the rate of approximately $100,000 a month.

Several additional copies of letters and other communications exchanged between Trent and Palmer were introduced in evidence by Neylan. They were intended to trace Trent's activities early in 1918, when the two powerful factions in Hawaii were endeavoring to gain control of the Hackfeld properties. The correspondence showed that Trent throughout sided with representatives of the three big competing sugar companies of Alexander & Baldwin, Castle & Cooke and C. Brewer & Co., in giving that faction control.

The trial will be resumed tomorrow morning. The case is entering its fifth week, with Trent still under direct examination.

TWO DIE IN PLUNGE OF ENGINE AND CAR

COUPLING PIN BREAK SAVES OTHERS IN MEXICAN RAILROAD MISHAP

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19.—Breaking of a coupling when the engine of a passenger train which left Juarez for Mexico City Friday plunged over a precipice just south of Zacatecas Saturday, carrying an express car with it, probably prevented the wreck from becoming a serious disaster. As it was two persons were killed and three others injured when the engine left the tracks because of the breaking of a rail in the intense cold of the past few days and fell over the cliff.

Three other express cars were overturned but the parting of the coupling to the first car and the moderate speed of the train climbing the steep grade between Zacatecas and Guadelupe kept the rest of the cars, including the second-class passenger cars which jumped the track, from falling into the abyss. None of the passengers was injured. They are due to arrive in Mexico City some time today.

The engineer and fireman strangely escaped death although they were badly burned. Those killed were a man and a woman in charge of ammunition boxes in the car which followed the engine over the precipice.

ARGUMENTS AGAINST EXPRESS CUT BEGUN

ROADS CONTEND DECREASE WOULD COST THEM MILLIONS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 19.—Arguments on application of western and southern railroads for an injunction restraining the Interstate Commerce Commission and the American Railway Express Company from decreasing rates in March were begun here before a special commission of three Federal judges.

D. W. Scandret, general counsel for the Northern Pacific Railroad, headed a formidable array of counsel for the fifty-three carriers which brought the suit, contending the proposed decrease would cost them millions of dollars in revenue annually.

The proposed rates were ordered June 9, 1924, after extended hearings before the Commerce Commission.

TWO LOST AVIATORS BACK SAFE

Pair in Camp After Ten Days in Jungle Region of Amazon River

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. — Walter Hinton and Capt. A. W. Stevens, aviators, who had been missing for about ten days in the wilds of the Amazon River in South America, have returned safely in their hydroplane to the advanced camp of the Rice expedition on the Parina River, according to a radio message. The message was received in this city by John F. Grinan, wireless operator of the Radio Club of America.

Their airplane disabled by landing on rocks up the Parina in the wilderness, the aviators lived principally on fish until they met some friendly Indians, according to the message.

After long labor, the plane was repaired sufficiently to return to camp.

The radio dispatch was sent from the Rice expedition wireless base at Boa Vista on the Rio Branco, and was dated yesterday.

Hinton was one of the pilots of the seaplane NC-4, first aircraft to cross the Atlantic, and was one of the naval officers lost in Canada in December, 1920, during the flight of a navy balloon. Capt. Stevens is an army aviator.

FORMER NEAPOLITAN QUEEN PASSES AWAY

MARIA SOPHIA AMELIA IS DEAD AT MUNICH; WAS WIFE OF FRANCIS II

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MUNICH (Bavaria) Jan. 19.—Former Queen Maria Sophia Amelia of Naples, died here today. She was born at Possenhoff on October 4, 1841, the daughter of Duke Carl Theodore of Bavaria and was married in 1859 to Francis II, last of the Bourbon kings of Naples.

Francis was routed in 1860 by Garibaldi, when the latter conquered Sicily and Naples in his triumphant expedition for the unification of Italy. When the queen and king were forced to withdraw to Gaetana with their troops, Maria Sophia placed herself, with flag in hand, at the head of the forces, encouraging them to resist the invaders.

Her courage was unavailing as the fortress was betrayed and capitulated on February 12, 1861. Naples became united with Sardinia in one kingdom and the royal pair fled to lead a wandering life in Austria, France and Bavaria.

CYCLONES TAKE HEAVY TRIBUTE

Twisters Claim 2000 Lives in Eight Years

Midwest Seems Playground of Freak Storms

Weather Bureau Unable to Forecast Coming

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—During the last eight years there were 752 tornadoes in the United States that caused an aggregate property loss of more than $62,000,000 and the loss of 1929 lives. Arkansas led all the States in the number of these storms, while Illinois led in the total property loss. Indiana and Illinois suffered the storm that caused the greatest number of fatalities—103.

These statistics are announced by Herbert C. Hunter, of the United States Weather Bureau, as summarizing the data gathered since 1916, when the Weather Bureau resumed the systematic collection of tornado statistics for the entire country. The result for the eight-year period can now be compared with the conclusions reached by Finley, about forty years ago, and by Henry, another expert over twenty-five years ago.

The tornado is a wicked storm that in this country seems to prefer the Middle West as the scene of its depredations. It is cyclonic in its movements, but instead of being 1000 miles in diameter like the continental cyclone, or 100 miles like the tropical hurricane, it usually has a diameter of gyration of only about 100 to 300 yards.

SPEED DEFIES MEASURE

Its speed of rotation is said to be so terrific that no instruments have ever been held together long enough to measure its velocity, which must equal that of a rifle bullet. Reputable and reliable persons have reported wheat straws that were shot by the wind of a tornado at least half an inch into the tough body of an oak tree, and in another instance a two by four pine scantling was driven through five-eighths of an inch of solid iron.

As a rule tornadoes occur in the spring of the year, in the southeast quadrant of a cyclone, when the temperature and humidity are high. Their direction is nearly always toward the northeast and at the height of their destructiveness they mow a path like a gigantic, irresistible scythe. The traditions of their freaks are innumerable.

In the entire country from 1916 to 1923 there were, as stated, 752 storms classified as tornadoes, an average of 94 a year. The annual count was greatest in 1917, with a total of 121, while 64 was the smallest number reported for any one year. The average number is appreciably larger than the annual average reported by Finley and Henry forty and twenty-five years ago, probably because of better news-gathering facilities.

ARE COMING OFTENER

The principal area or section of the country where the present compilation indicates that tornadoes are more numerous than they were in the earlier surveys in the central and western parts of the cotton-growing region.

During the eight-year period Arkansas was visited by a total of 76 tornadoes, with Kansas, Texas, Iowa, Missouri and Oklahoma coming next, in order. No other State reported as many as fifty of these storms. Arkansas also had the greatest number in a single year, with thirty-two in 1916. In eight States there seem to have been no tornadoes during this period. However, the records show that ten States that were visited by tornadoes once or oftener had no loss of life, and in eleven other States the number of persons killed was less than ten.

Mississippi reports the greatest loss of life for the eight years of any of the States, her total fatalities being 257. Arkansas came second and Alabama third.

Of the aggregate loss of life of 1929, these deaths were the work of slightly less than one-third of the tornadoes, and only one tornado in fourteen took ten or more lives, while only one—that which visited Indiana and Illinois—caused as many as 100 fatalities.

The total damage to property reported as due to these tornadoes averaged a little less than $8,000,000 a year. Of the whole amount —$62,000,000—the year 1917 accounted for almost one-fourth, while the loss in 1920 was only a trifle less.

NO DEFENCE POSSIBLE

While governmental authorities may gather statistics relative to tornadoes or cyclones they have never been able to devise any defense against these visitations. Tornado alarms have been perfected, giving warning a minute or two in advance of the danger, but even they rarely suffice to save lives or property. Persons caught in the path of one of these terrific storms are simply out of luck, unless they have cyclone cellars handy and have the presence of mind to dive into them at the first signs of danger.

The term cyclone was originally applied to the violent rotary tempests of the tropical and sub-tropical regions, called in the West Indies hurricanes; in Senegal, tornadoes; at the Cape of Good Hope, trovados; in the Chinese Sea, typhoons, and on the west coast of Central America, papagallos.

Since the discovery of the rotary course of winds, even at a distance from the tropics, the term cyclone has been applied to any system of winds blowing around a center of low pressure, and a cyclone is distinguished from an anticyclone, which is a system of winds with a center of high pressure.

LIGHTS MAY SPOIL VIEW OF ECLIPSE

New York Will Have Full Service in Daytime So as to Prevent Crime

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Lighting companies, in the view of the astronomers and the experts of solar eclipses, are going to spoil a lot of the big show for certain American cities within a strip 100 miles wide from Wisconsin to Rhode Island next Saturday morning, when the sun is going to be covered by the moon for nearly two minutes.

Prof. Ernest W. Brown of Yale said that the sight will be quite ruined if the headlights of automobiles are blinding spectators. Every car owner in the eclipse zone should remember this and turn his lights off, he said.

And right along on top of that come the local lighting companies with the information that all of greater New York streets will be lighted just as they are at night. Fears that hold-ups and robberies would take place led the lighting companies to offer the service free.

In most Connecticut towns it is planned to forego lights and trolleys and automobiles are going to stop for a couple of minutes to give the people a chance to see the big show.

"No lights, no traffic, no noise," cautions Prof. Brown.

LIVE-STOCK MEN TO ASK LOWER RATES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 19.—Members of the Railroad Commission of Texas, the Corporation Commission of Oklahoma and the Cattle Raisers' Associations of Texas and a number of Western States will attend the hearing on live-stock freight rates which is to be held before Examiner William A. Disque of the Interstate Commerce Commission at Kansas City on January 21.

It is stated by Sam H. Cowan, attorney for the American National Live-Stock Association, that the rates to be considered at the hearing affect interstate and intra-State cattle shipments in the territory west of the Mississippi River. Reductions of from $10, to $40 a car on cattle shipments are being asked by the cattle shippers, who assert that prohibitive tariffs put into effect during the World War are still in effect and are doing much to keep the cattle industry in a demoralized condition, Mr. Cowan stated.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

BIRD HEROES TO RETURN TO EAST

Homers at Ross Field Are Leaving Thursday

Several of Them Prominent in World War

One-Legged Pigeon is Victim of Shrapnel

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ONTARIO, Jan. 19.—After having basked in the sunshine of Southern California for a number of months, the "hero birds" of the United States Army, homing pigeon department, are this week to be taken back to Army pigeon headquarters at Camp Alfred Vail, N. J., according to announcement today by Capt. Ray R. Delhauer, Army pigeon expert, who is now preparing the birds for their long journey at the lofts of his ranch in South Euclid avenue.

Included among the birds which will be personally escorted to the East by Capt. Delhauer and which played such a real and important part in the successful termination of the World War will be "Spike," who has a record of having carried fifty-two messages of great importance to the American Expeditionary Forces from the front-line trenches to headquarters at the rear.

The "Mocker," who successfully carried the message that silenced a German machine gun which was working great havoc among the American forces in the Argonne and "President Wilson," who carried important messages for the Tank Corps and lost one leg by a piece of shrapnel in the enterprise, will also be included.

In the shipment east, will be a number of captured German birds and some fourteen of the best stock birds, including the famous Putnam cock, which sold in Europe for $1500, the Silver Osman cock and others.

The birds to make the journey are said to be valued at some $5000.

Capt. Delhauer, who will leave Thursday, is going to Washington in connection with the reorganization of the Pigeon Service, now under way, and probably will do some experimental work along pigeon lines at the Carnegie Institute at Cold Springs Harbor, N. Y.

Under the reorganization plan, the government is greatly reducing the Army Pigeon Service and civilian organizations and individuals are being encouraged to produce and train homers along the line of a Pigeon Reserve Corps for use of the government in time of need.

In line with this, pigeon activities have already been discontinued at Ross Field, Arcadia, where the "hero birds" have been stationed, and at Rockwell Field, San Diego. Some of the birds from these fields have been shipped to Crissy Field, San Francisco, where government lofts will still be maintained, and to the Hawaiian Islands.

Boy Scout troops and other organizations are already interesting themselves in breeding, affiliated with the pigeon reserve movement, according to Capt. Delhauer.

The Pigeon Service has experienced a considerable trouble in the past through the promiscuous shooting and theft of birds, but with a Federal law for the protection of homing pigeons now in force and carrying with it a severe penalty, less difficulty along these lines is anticipated in the future.

PARTY FOR WOMEN IS CONDEMNED

Vice-Chairman Mrs. Hert of National Committee Makes Pasadena Talk

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Jan. 19. — The women of America kept cool with Coolidge, took six States out of the doubtful column and, like the famous Mrs. Partington, swept back the radical wave six weeks before election. This was the opinion of Mrs. Alvin T. Hert, vice-chairman of the Republican National Committee, expressed at the Maryland today at a reception Pasadena Republicans gave in her honor.

"The men of the Republican party realize the women did it," said Mrs. Hert. "They took their citizenship duties more seriously than ever before."

Mrs. Hert declared the women of California were further advanced in politics than those of other States.

"We do not need a women's party nor want one," she declared. "Men and women must co-operate, not compete, in politics."

William H. Archdeacon, who presided at the reception, and Hiram W. Wadsworth, chairman of the City Board of Directors, also spoke briefly.

Boy Believed Not Mortally Injured Dies

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, Jan. 19. — Eugene De Masters, Fresno schoolboy, aged 15, who was found unconscious by his bedside and died a few hours afterward, died from injuries received in an automobile accident three weeks ago, according to a telephone message received by Mrs. Thelma Lewis of this city, deputy County Clerk, sister of the boy, giving the verdict of the Coroner's jury. The boy went hunting on the plains on the west side of Fresno county. His car was struck by a passing stage and demolished. Eugene complained for several days of headache, evidently caused by a blow on the head received in the accident, but his condition never seemed critical.

Manslaughter Charge Faced by Angeleno

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

POMONA, Jan. 19.—G. F. Marston died in the Pomona Valley Hospital late Sunday afternoon, the victim of an accident last Thursday when he was struck by a speeding automobile and sustained internal injuries, fractured ribs and, it is believed, a basal skull fracture. He failed to regain consciousness after the crash.

Fred J. Shoaf of Los Angeles, driver of the death car, now under $1000 bond, pending trial on a charge of reckless driving, will probably be charged with manslaughter following a Coroner's inquest to be held at the Todd & Reeves mortuary tomorrow at 2 p.m.

Mr. Marston, 59 years of age, had been in the employ of the Pomona Manufacturing Company for many years. He lived with Mrs. Marston, his sole survivor, at 737 Wisconsin street. While riding his bicycle east on Commercial street about 1 o'clock last Thursday afternoon he was struck by a light touring car driven by Shoaf, who is said to have entered the intersection of Commercial street on Garey avenue at a rate of thirty miles an hour in a fifteen-mile zone. The Pomonan was dragged forty-five feet, according to the police report. Shoaf was immediately arrested and held until he was able to raise the $1000 bond to insure his appearance for trial at a later date. Sergt. Wilson will probably raise the reckless-driving charge to that of manslaughter after the inquest, he indicated today.

SURRENDERS, CONFESSES BURGLARY

Youth Surprises Pasadena Police When He Lays Gun on Station Desk

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Jan. 19.—"I'm a burglar, lock me up." With this startling bit of information, Walter M. Socolow placed a large caliber revolver on the police sergeant's desk and asked to be arrested.

The youth, who gave his age as 23 years, was apparently suffering from the pangs of hunger, although he said his conscience was bothering him. Socolow then told the officer a story of how he had come here from New York and had been unable to find work. Driven desperate by hunger and lack of clothing, Socolow said he robbed the Inlay grocery store, 86 West Mountain street. This robbery occurred on the 11th inst. He took his loot, which consisted of several cans of sardines, tobacco and a quantity of money, to an improvised shelter in the Arroyo Seco. But soon his provisions ran out and at the same time he was stricken with remorse for his first act of burglary. Socolow then appeared at the City Jail.

Chief of Police Charles H. Kelley today declared he would endeavor to secure probation for Socolow when his case comes up in Superior Court.

BARN-YARD HEN IN RACE WITH OSTRICH

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Jan. 19.—The time has come for all self-respecting ostrich ladies to pull their heads out of the sand and look to the laurels of the clan. A rival has sprung up over the southeastern horizon and threatens to claim the prestige heretofore enjoyed by the lanky fowls from the deserts of Africa. W. H. Luetzenkirchen of this city was today displaying an egg weighing more than six ounces, laid yesterday by a Rhode Island Red hen. It measures seven and one-half inches one way and nine and one-half inches the other way, and would apparently make an omelette large enough to feed a platoon. The mother is doing nicely.

BLUE LAW WAR GIVEN IMPETUS

Pomona Situation Enlivened by Sabbath Sermon

Special Fund Raised to Fight Ordinance Repeal

Hard Fight Looms as Election Draws Nearer

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

POMONA, Jan. 19.—An active campaign to keep the widely known Pomona "blue law" on the local statute books was foreshadowed when, in a vigorous sermon before his congregation, Rev. Fletcher G. Watson, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, exhorted his flock to get back to the good old-fashioned Sunday observance, and at the end of the sermon a special collection was taken up to raise funds for advertising and organization expenses in fighting the proposed repeal ordinance, which comes before the local voters on February 17.

The pastor championed the case of the church against Sunday activities which do not conform to the Third Commandment. Speaking on the theme, "Shall We Preserve the Christian American Sabbath?" Dr. Watson scored the editors of local newspapers, attacked those who, he charged, were "using" the American Legion, denounced support of a movement to repeal the current Sunday closing law and made a plea for the observance for Sunday in his morning service to over 750 persons. In the evening, to an audience of 500, he extended the theme in a sermon charging the abandonment of the Christian Sunday in favor of the graven images of greed.

Until Mr. Watson's striking sermon the blue-law repeal ordinance, which will come up for vote at the special election next month, had failed to excite much comment, and it was the hope of parties on both sides that there would be no animosity shown before the election.

Just what effect Mr. Watson's sermon will have upon the coming election, no doubt remains on the backing it receives. If an active campaign is started as the result to keep the blue laws on the books there is no doubt that as hard a fight will be made by the opposition, led by the local American Legion, to take the Sunday closing ordinance off the local statutes, a fight which in 1921 divided the town into two distinct factions and interrupted the city's harmony for several months.

Santa Barbara Officials Win First Skirmish

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 19. — Mayor Andera and Councilmen McGuire and Freeman won their first skirmish in court this morning when Superior Judge Crow threw out the ouster suit of W. J. Weatherbee and so defined the statutes under which it was brought out that it will be impossible to amend the complaint, according to attorneys.

Weatherbee brought suit in the name of the people of the State of California and demanded that the Mayor and two Councilmen be removed from office for alleged failure to call a charter freeholders' election within sixty days of the time the petition was filed with the clerk.

According to the decision of the court the petition to call the election would have to be verified and presented to the Council for action before that body could act upon it.

The defense was upheld in its plea that this procedure had not been followed. Weatherbee is given fifteen days to file an amendd complaint.

MAN BLOWN TO PIECES

Major Torrance, Riverside, Killed When Fifty Sticks of Dynamite Explode in Orange Grove

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 19.—Maj. Charles E. Torrance, 75, was literally blown to pieces this morning, when a quantity of dynamite exploded prematurely in the Lixon orange grove, Hawarden Drive.

Maj. Torrance met death while placing a stick of dynamite in a hole near an orange tree. Chief of Police Deiss and Deputy Chief Johnson, who investigated, expressed the belief that something happened while the concussion cap was being attached to a stick of the high explosive.

The discharge of the single stick caused fifty other dynamite sticks in a box near by to let loose with a terrific jar.

Marshall Marlow, 151 Indiana avenue, was working on the same row of trees with Maj. Torrance. The two men had been "shooting" a number of trees in the grove. Marlow declared that he was about four trees distant from the major, his part of the program having been to make the holes. The major was following, placing the dynamite in each hole and then tamping the same. Marlow explained that he was knocked off his feet when the dynamite let go with a roar. A great hole was torn in the ground where Maj. Torrance had been standing. Marlow escaped injury.

Maj. Torrance resided at 237 Vine street. He was an authority on orange groves and was also representative in Riverside for the Dupont Powder Company. He was a familiar character about the city, was well read and owned two houses near his Vine address, in addition to a duplex bungalow on Sixth street between Walnut and Locust streets.

Maj. Torrance had been a resident of Riverside for thirty years. He came originally from Montreal, Can., where he was born and raised. He is survived by a wife and son, both residing in Wales.

Bullet Imbeds in Wall After Piercing Man

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 19. — As the aftermath of a quarrel alleged to have been over a pretty McFarland girl, Felix Herrera is in the County Hospital probably mortally wounded, and Encarnation De la Cruz, 35, is in the County Jail awaiting the outcome of his asserted victim's battle for life. De la Cruz, jealous of the girl's friendship for the youthful Herrera, according to the Sheriff's office, Sunday morning went to her home in McFarland, found his rival there and shot him. The bullet, a steel-jacketed slug from an automatic pistol, pierced Herrera's body. It entered his left side, less than three inches above the heart, and made its exit on the right side, lodging in the wall of the house.

CAT PLAYS SLEUTH

Feline's Actions Cause Arrest of Burglary Suspect

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ONTARIO, Jan. 19.—W. C. Smith, 42 years of age, who was taken into custody yesterday by the Ontario police with the aid of a plucky woman and a black cat where he was reported in the act of burglarizing the dwelling of Ernest O. Lee, 860 North San Antonio avenue, was this afternoon held in jail in lieu of $2000 bail, awaiting preliminary examination, following his arraignment before Judge Holbrook.

Chief of Police W. O. Hardy today gave much credit for the capture to Mrs. Lee, who rendered prompt aid to her husband by securing a revolver, which was pressed against the man's ribs while the officers were called.

Mrs. Lee, however, gave chief credit for the capture to her black cat, whose ruffled back and fluffy tail gave the first warning to Mr. Lee and herself that something was wrong when they returned to their home shortly before noon. Smith was nabbed by Mr. Lee as the former was attempting an exit from a side door. He had secured considerable loot when the Lees returned and is said to have made full confession to the police.

Oil Prospects Halt Deal for Clover Field

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 19.—According to a statement of Frank E. Bundy, investigating the purchase of Clover Aviation Field by the city and member of the Chamber of Commerce, the property comprising 171 acres cannot be purchased from the Stanton brothers, owners of the property.

Prospecting for oil has become prevalent in the vicinity of the field made famous by the start of the world flight and the owners assert they wish to be free to accept a lease when the present lease with the city runs out in the course of two years.

The Chamber of Commerce is investigating an offer made by J. B. Kirkham two weeks ago to sell 154 acres between Pico Boulevard and Central avenue at Fourteenth street. Mr. Kirkham states the land can be bought at $4650 an acre.

A report from the aviation committee will be made at a meeting of directors of the chamber in the Merritt Jones Hotel Friday noon. The report will include a statement as to the attitude of the government on the proposed change in location.

TEXAS TAKES TO POLO

Three Events on Mid-Winter Schedule in Lone Star State; American Polo Association Offers Cups

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Jan. 19.—Three events will constitute the program of the Southwestern Midwinter Polo Tournament to be held in San Antonio beginning February 15, according to announcement by Col. James F. McKinley, polo officer of the Eighth Corps Area, which also contained other details, including committees to arrange for the tournament, officials in charge of tournament and rules for the tournament.

The three features of the tournament will be a low goal handicap, open to teams of four, whose aggregate handicap does not exceed five goals; southwestern circuit cup, to be played for under handicap of the United States Polo Association, and the southwestern circuit elimination contest, to be played on flat.

The cup is offered by the United States Polo Association to be played for annually, and remains the property of the polo association, but may be held by the winning team for one year. Any army team is eligible to compete.

The rules for the tournament provide for a contest between teams representing the several circuits into which the clubs and army post members of the polo association are divided. The teams must not be over twelve goal aggregate handicap, and will be selected to represent their circuit by elimination contests held by the respective circuits.

Special individual cups for the winning team in each circuit will be provided by the association. The winner of each circuit elimination will be eligible to play in the championship tournament to be held under auspices of some club yet to be named and the association will provide a cup to be awarded to the winning team.

Kirby Training Hard for Race Against Nurmi

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Edward Kirby, the Cornell distance runner, who showed the way to five other American distance stars in the Olympic 3000-meter race at the Colombes Stadium in France last summer, is training intensely up at Ithaca in anticipation of a race against Paavo Nurmi, Finland's wonder athlete, in the Olympic 3000-meter race at the Wilco A. A. games in the Thirteenth Regiment Armory, Brooklyn, on February 7.

An invitation was extended to Kirby by Chairman Hugh H. Hirshon of the Wilco A. A. over a month ago to be a starter in the meet on February 7, but Kirby stated in a letter received by Hirshon this morning that he had refrained from answering until he was satisfied that he could regain his 1923 form and until he could make sure that the midseason examinations would not interfere with his plans.

PARK GRID MEN GIVEN LETTERS

Players Praised by Coach Landreth, Who Presents Coveted Monograms

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 19. The Sparitan heroes of the gridiron of 1924 have received their emblem letters from the student body. For the first time the letters were of the new colors, orange and gray, which were recently adopted by the school.

The heavyweight eleven received their letters from Coach Vern Landreth who stated that the team had this year, won more games than any varsity eleven the school has yet had. They were informed that they had been the only school to defeat Compton besides Glendale, who defeated the Bay League titleholders in the final game for the Southern California championship. The boys receiving the letters were Capt. Zehrbach, Captain-elect Hoff, North, Reed, Brigden, Caldwell, Mathie, Thorn, Neidhedt, Kasperowicz, Brown, Dougherty, Hardy, Berry and Millar. Minor letters went to Syphers, Denman, Erwin, Schultz and Martin.

Class B eleven, winners of the Bay League championship for four successive years, were given their letters by Coach "Pop" Squire. They were Capt. Martin, Captain-elect Adams, Gilbert, Spielberger, Thompson, Jones, Eldred, Murray, Sargent, Strom, McKee, Chambers and Warnack. Kneael received a minor letter.

Coach J. C. Penniwell presented letters to Class C eleven, which was in the final game for the Southern California championship. The boys were Capt. F. Chin, A. Chin, Harrah, Wildey, Edlefson, Jones, B. Smith, Sarver, Sargent, Wier, Mathews, Goodwin and J. Smith. Minors went to E. Smith, Baird, Paine and Hoard.

STATE OF TEXAS TO BAR SIKI

Proposed Bout Between the Senegalese and Goodrich is Not Apt to be Held

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Jan. 19. Battling Siki will not be permitted to show his wares in San Antonio. That much was made plain by Dist.-Atty. C. M. Chambers, who made the simple announcement.

"Battling Siki will not be permitted to box here." The emphasis given his words and his demeanor showed the District Attorney had made up his mind that he would not change it.

"You can take it from me, this boxer will not be permitted to appear here," he repeated.

Further, Mr. Chambers did not wish to discuss the matter, but indicated that the record of the Senegalese was the reason for his action. He said in plain language that he did not think much of Siki as a man, and did not care about his record as a boxer.

Siki's record since coming to this country is replete with arrests for various breaches of the misdemeanor laws, and Mr. Chambers is understood to have taken his stand on that record.

The "Singular Senegalese" had been booked for a twelve-round bout with Sonny Goodrich, San Antonio negro battler. Jack Shelton, San Antonio promoter, announced he had closed a contract with Siki's manager for the bout, and the Senegalese and his manager were expected to reach San Antonio this week

LOCKHART IS REINSTATED

Famous Racing Driver Back in Fold of A.A.A.

Former Ascot Pilot to Race at Culver City

Fengler Also Signed Up for February Event

FRANK LOCKHART

Reinstatement in the A.A.A. of Frank Lockhart, youthful Los Angeles racing driver, was yesterday confirmed by officials of that organization. Lockhart will compete in the Culver City race February 22. With his reinstatement in the American Automobile Association, Lockhart received a fine for competing under the I.M.C.A. colors at Ascot last year. He originally belonged to the former organization, but never drove under its auspices. Last year, he received offers from George Bentel, manager of the Ascot Speedway, and jumped the A.A.A. Lockhart developed rapidly until he was the main attraction at the Broadway bowl and ended his career there on last Thanksgiving Day, by winning the 500-mile race.

Harlan Fengler, heralded as the "boy wonder" of the speedway after he had captured the final race on the old Beverly Hills course with a new world's record for the 250-mile distance, and who was seriously injured in practice shortly before the 500-mile Indianapolis race, yesterday signed an entry for the coming Washington's Birthday classic on the new Culver City speedway. Fengler entered his fast Miller-built racer and hopes to pilot the car in the coming speed feat, although it may be necessary for him to nominate some other driver.

PHYSICIAN STEPS IN

Fengler was not a contestant in the opening race on the Culver City board bowl as his physician refused to allow him to compete on account of his physical condition due to his narrow escape at Indianapolis last spring. The young speed prince has shown great improvement during the past few weeks, however, and it is quite probable that Fengler's name will be on one of the pits at Culver City when Starter Fred Wagner sends the fast field away in the opening contest of the 1925 American Automobile Association series.

Should young Fengler's physician decide that the boy is not physically capable of standing the strain of the wild pace that will undoubtedly be set on Washington's Birthday, some other famous star of the speed trail will be named to pilot the Fengler entry. There are some five or six capable drivers who are anxious to drive for young Fengler if he is declared out of the meet by his doctor on the eve of the great race.

With the filing of the Fengler entry last night there are now ten stars of the "roaring road" listed for the championship event. In addition to the six drivers who entered on the first day that the lists were declared open and Fengler, three other famous speed men turned in their signed entry sheets. Harry Hartz, Fred Comer and Jerry Wonderlich are the last three names to be added to the roster, bringing the total up to ten.

AWAIT ENTRIES

The Duesenberg team is yet to be heard from and there are several other drivers who are almost certain to be in the race. One of them is Dr. William E. Shattuck, Kentucky medico, who was such a sensation in the last race at Culver. The doctor is now in the east but is to be back in Los Angeles within another week and Harry Miller is certain that Dr. Shattuck will be one of the first drivers out for practice when trials start.

ARIZONANS PLAN FOR SERIES OF POLO TILTS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Jan. 19.—Plans are being made for a series of games between the Fort Huachuca and University polo teams, following return of the former from a California tour. The governors of the polo association are sponsoring the Tucson rodeo, for which all funds already have been raised for prizes.

FIGHT PERMIT BLANKS HERE

Application blanks for fighters, wrestlers, managers, seconds, referees and all individuals who are required to be licensed under the new fight law are now on tap at room 216, Hollywood Security Bank Building, it was announced yesterday by Chairman Seth Strelinger of the Boxing Commission. Promoters who have been operating under temporary permits can also get fixed up at the same address with yearly permits.

LET'S GO SWIMMING!

An invitation issued by Natalia Kingston might be effective in spite of the fact that this is January. Natalia is enthusiastic about swimming, and is learning just how to do it from Vance Veith, instructor par excellence.

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

RAY MILLER, the young man with the devastating right who has been laying 'em low back East, eased into the city yesterday with his talented manager, Larney Lichtenstein, and announced that he is ready for all comers. Ray is 19 and ambitious, and has demonstrated his ability in the fighting ring by knocking out eighteen of his last thirty opponents.

In his three years of fighting he has never lost a battle, according to Lichtenstein, and has met some of the classiest boys east of the Rockies.

Miller is hailed as the western featherweight "K. O." king, and made a great hit in New York under the guidance of Lichtenstein. He is a sterling puncher, and while some of the eastern writers refer to him as a "child" they are agreed that he is destined to break into the big time and the big money.

Some of the experts believe he could lick "Kid" Kaplan, the featherweight titleholder, and it might not be a bad idea for Jack Doyle to get the boys together in view of the fact that Miller is already here and Kaplan is due to scrap Bud Ridley at Vernon on Fegruary 10.

Lichtenstein says he has no bouts lined up here for Miller, but both Doyle and the Hollywood managements are very anxious to obtain his services.

Miller's manager is also the guiding genius of Ernie Goozeman, with whom Coast fans are very well acquainted. Goozeman is fighting in San Diego tonight, and one of Lichtenstein's first acts on arrival here from Chicago yesterday was to get ready to leave for the southern seaside city, where he will second Goozeman tonight.

DEFERS SAILING

Louis "Kid" Kaplan, American featherweight champion, who planned to start for Los Angeles today, will not leave until Saturday, according to a wire from the East last night.

His advisers have decided it will be better to forego the California trip until they see what Johnny Dundee, former world's featherweight champion, has to say upon his return home next Friday, and to see what is doing on the match with Billy Mascart.

A world's featherweight championship match between Kaplan and Billy Mascart, European featherweight champion, may be closed within the next few days.

Tentative arrangements for the match have been proceeding among Tex Rickard, Dennis Marhon and Scotty Monteith, managers of Kaplan, and Lew Burston, who, it is understood, was cabled instructions authorizing him to act as Mascart's representative, pending the arrival of William H. "Sparrow" Robertson, who is on the steamship La Savoie, which will dock in New York today.

Through Dundee's official retirement and Kaplan's winning of the featherweight elimination tourney Kaplan stepped into clear possession of the American featherweight title.

Besides his manager the conqueror of Johnny Dundee will have as traveling companions three other boys of Monteith's stable—Joe Ryder, 120 pounds; Jack Snyder, 122

NEW CLUB TO STAGE CARNIVAL

Edgewater Club Planning Athletic Attraction on Sand Esplenade

Elaborate plans for a series of athletic and aquatic carnivals and tournaments on the sand esplanade before the new $650,000 home of the Edgewater Club in Santa Monica are being formulated, according to an announcement of Robert Connors, of the executive committee of the club.

In addition to affording recreation for the club members, the sport festivities are expected to bring out athletic talent among the membership for future interclub and organization contests.

The Edgewater Club numbers among its 1500 members some of the best-known amateur athletes in the Southland and the series of sport events are expected to bring to the front little known stars in varied lines of sport.

The unique location of the new home of the club, where Pico Boulevard meets the ocean, with an esplanade a block long between the board walk and the surf, offers an ideal site for the contests.

Swimming, surf-board riding, shallow diving and beach field events are being considered for the program, in addition to clock and putting contests for the golfers, and tennis, handball and other specialized sport tournaments to be held on the club property.

DR. DWIGHT BOWEN HOOKS STEELHEAD

Dr. Dwight Bowen, who is noted for his ability as a hunter as well as an angler, brought in the first steelhead trout to be displayed locally yesterday, at Tufts-Lyon Arms Company. The fish measures twenty-nine and a half inches in length, proving beyond doubt that the big fellows are beginning to come in.

Dr. Bowen caught his fish off the mouth of the Ventura River, and states that there are lots of fish at the river mouth if one is just smart enough to catch 'em.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER, BILL HENRY

IF KNUTE ROCKNE has finally refused to accept the Trojan offer to coach at U.S.C., his decision is greatly to be regretted by all concerned, for the Notre Dame leader is a man ideally qualified to take hold of the situation at the local university and handle it as it should be handled. According to an announcement made late yesterday by Gwynn Wilson, Rockne has definitely declined to replace Elmer Henderson.

The Trojans seem inclined to hang much of the blame for failing to land Rockne on the local newspapers which, they say, prematurely published the story of the switch and created so much excitement over the situation that Rockne did not feel that he could accept the Trojan post without criticism from several sides.

Nobody in Southern California will regret Rockne's decision any more than the newspapers and if anything published by the press influenced Rockne in his decision every newspaper man will feel doubly sorry, for Rockne is extremely popular with the jour-

FAMOUS COACH IS NOT COMING

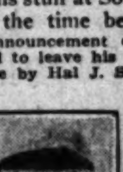
Wire from South Bend Rejects Local Position

Statement is Given Public by Secretary Stonier

Willis Hunter to Run Affairs for Time Being

Mr. Knute Rockne, whose skill as a molder of football teams brought Notre Dame the undisputed championship of the United States during the 1924 season and brought the mentor himself a lucrative offer to assume the position of head coach at U.S.C., will not accept the overtures of the local institution. The noted Norwegian pigskin authority turned down the Trojan bid yesterday and to all intents and purposes will continue to do his stuff at South Bend, Ind., for the time being.

Announcement of Rockne's refusal to leave his alma mater was made by Hal J. Stonier, secretary of the president at U.S.C. Stonier issued the statement yesterday. It follows:



KNUTE ROCKNE

University officials were notified today that it would be impossible for Mr. Rockne to accept the position of head football coach at U.S.C. Mr. Willis O. Hunter has been appointed temporary director of intercollegiate athletics in addition to his duties as head of the intramural program. An announcement concerning the new head coach will be made during the early part of next month.

[Signed]

H. J. STONIER

The official announcement that Rockne is not coming naturally causes a lot of grief here. Practically every man, woman and child interested in sports in this city would have liked to see him take over the local position. His decision to remain at Notre Dame only bears out what his old friends here had to say when the matter was first thrust into print. At that time those who knew him best stated that his interests kept him heart and soul with the Irish and apparently they were right, although the adverse publicity, which under the circumstances was unavoidable, probably had something to do with his refusal to come.

Coach Joe Pipal Shrouded in Gloom Over Prospects of Title Track Team

LOSS OF VET HURTS TIGERS

Occidental Athletes Working Hard for Meet

Interclass Affair to Get Attention Soon

Bengals Hope to be Strong in the Sprints

"Keep quiet and keep plugging" seems to be the motto adopted by Joseph Pipal veteran Oxy mentor who is handying track at the Tiger institution this year. Most of 1924's stars having graduated, Coach Pipal is gathering up the odds and ends and adding thereto, in hope of turning out a 1925 model that will not be a disgrace to the Tiger institution. Incidentally the renowned "Gloomy Gus" has nothing on Pipal when it comes to dispensing gloom, that is when he is willing to talk at all.

Facing the necessity of building almost a whole new team, the Oxy mentor has had nearly all of the male portion of the school out burning up the cinders in hope of discovering some latent talent. At present it would seem that the Tigers will be rather strong in the sprints, the distance events and the jumps, while they will be woefully weak in the weights, pole vault and the hurdles.

GOOD SPRINTERS

With Bud Nash, Phil Buckman, Leo Greg and Broadhead in the sprints the Tigers should have little trouble grabbing off a couple places in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, while Montgomery, Morey and Kelso ought to do pretty well in the quarter mile. Nick Carter, Montgomery and Bailey will strut their stuff in the 880, which sounds like several points for the Tigers in every meet, Montgomery having done 1:59.4 in the event last season.

Pipal has a host of aspirants out for the distance races, Carter, Clayton Long and the Miller brothers looking best in the mile at present, while La Velle, Williams, Gardner, Evans and Shearing look fairly promising in the eight-lap affair.

In the broad jump Bud Nush is holding down high honors, having leaped well over twenty-one feet consistently of late, while Squint Fulton, Criswell, Bierer and Turley are showing pretty fair form. Frank Bradshaw, who is a letterman from last year, will probably be the best Tiger in the high jump, although Tanner, who was on the frosh last season, looks fairly promising. So much for the happy side of the story; now for the bad news.

The Tiger mentor has no one to fill Goodenough's shoes in the pole vault, Fontaine of the frosh, and the only promising man that loomed, having transferred to Stanford.

LITTLE ABILITY

In the weights the Tigers will have Stevens, Fulton, Ebers, Conde and Swede Renius of football fame. Non eof these men have been showing anything to get all excited over, however, and this, combined with the fact that no one has shown any ability in the hurdles, is why Pipal has the dumps.

Occidental will stage its first meet a week from Friday, the event being an interclass affair, which the juniors are favored to cop. Coach Pipal states that he will enter a full team in the A.A.U. relay carnival slated for the latter part of February, his idea being to give the men as much experience as possible before the regular season opens.

HOCKEY ASSOCIATION WILL HOLD MEETING

The newly formed Ice Hockey Association, which recently elected officers, will hold it's first regular meeting tonight at Spalding Bros. sporting goods store.

Plans for the formation of a Palais De Glace, now under construction, will be discussed and definite action taken. The league already numbers among its members some of the most prominent hockey players in Southern California, but new members are still wanted. Anyone interested in the sport is cordially invited to be present tonight. The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m.

PHOENIX, Jan. 19.—In the women's contests at the Phoenix Country Club staged recently Mrs. Barry Goldwater led in the driving match, her three shots respectively covering 129, 151 and 168 yards. Though Mrs. C. C. Cragin was second, the next distance score was of Mrs. Charles McArthur, 162 yards. In the semifinals of the January women's handicap, Mrs. M. H. MINE BOY TO MANAGER

BUCKY HARRIS'S STORY BY HIMSELF

This is the sixteenth installment of the autobiography of Stanley Harris, youngest major league baseball manager in the history of the game and the victorious strategist and one of the outstanding players in the 1924 World Series, in which his Washington club won the championship for the first time. The rise of Harris from colliery boy to big league manager in eight years is one of the most remarkable life stories America has ever produced.

Chapter 16—MAKING GOOD AT LAST

BY STANLEY (BUCKY) HARRIS

[Copyright, 1925, in United States and Canada by North American Newspaper Alliance. All rights reserved]

I finished the season of 1917 with Reading. I played in seventy-five games, getting 70 hits in 280 times at bat, for a total of only 85 bases, and an average of .250. I was so light then I was seldom able to do more than slap the ball out of the infield. My fielding average wasn't impressive. Yet it was an improvement over any previous work. I had 153 put outs, 214 assists and 26 errors, for an average of .934. There were six worse fielding second basemen in the league.

The first time I successfully placed a hit was against Utica that seson. I had been trying to perfect the play since the day Merle took me in hand. With a man on first Wiltse ordered me to hit to right. I dragged the ball down the base line. Frank Brower, who later was with Washington and Cleveland, was playing first for Utica.

The ball was hard hit and tore the web out of his glove. He cuffed it around and recovered in time to retire me. I was still suffering from the effects of an injured ankle, and was slow on the paths. Alex Ferguson, later of the Red Sox, was pitching for Utica that day. Frank O'Rourke, who later came up with Washington and Detroit, played shortstop for Utica.

Ferguson had plenty of speed. In fact, I never had looked over such fast ball pitching. He didn't have much more than a straight ball at that time, but it was enough for me. He was a big, rugged, hard-working youngster, and even then showned signs of becoming an effective pitcher. I couldn't understand why he wasn't in the big leagues the day I first batted against him.

Crowds were small that season. The clubs were hard put to make ends meet. Reading, like the others, carried a few extra players. So after I hurt my ankle in Syracuse I didn't get much rest. Jack Fox, one of our pitchers, strapped my foot. I injured it in sloding into second. I didn't know how to time my slide, and had to pay the penalty. While I was hobbling around we were playing a pitcher on second.

THE KINDEST WORD

Finally Wiltse ordered me back in the line-up.

"Go ahead out there on one leg," he said. "You'll do better than any other two-legged bird I have." When I heard this order I felt I had at last made good in the ranks of the professionals. I would have played on my hands and knees for Wiltse.

Oscar Tuero, who later came up with the Cardinals, was the leading pitcher in the league. He won twenty-four games and lost only 7 in 1917. He had a fast ball and a mean-breaking hook. I was pretty much of a sucker on a curve ball in those days. Most young players are, unless they are natural-born hitters.

I won't go so far as to say that a batter can be made. I do contend, however, that a careful coach can improve almost any hitter. Furthermore, a player, by studying his faults and correcting them, is almost certain to increase his batting average. I have found it a good thing to study my swing before a mirror, when in a slump, and thus try to discover what it is I am doing wrong. Furthermore, a batter must keep up his courage. If he goes to the plate determined to hit the chances are he will do so. Confidence without fear is the real tonic to cure batting as well as fielding ills.

When the season ended with Reading in the second division, I returned home to find myself something of a hero in Pittston. Jimmy Fitzpatrick, one of Pittston's good sports, told me I might even get in a world series some time. The previous year he had taken a party to see the world series games in Brooklyn, between the Dodgers and the Red Sox. He had me as one of his guests.

That was my first trip to New York. The lights of the big town dazzled me. Jimmy took us to one of the big Broadway cabaret shows. I didn't know how to act. the richly dressed women and their escorts, the soft lights, fine linens and silver awed me. I spent an uneasy evening.

I WATCH MAYS

Carl Mays, against whom I was destined to make my major league debut, pitched for the Red Sox in the first series game I saw. He was ineffective and the Dodgers beat him, 4 to 3. This was the only contest of the series won by the older league entry. I didn't see Babe Ruth in action. He wasn't the home-run king then. He had won twenty-three games and lost twelve as a pitcher in the league season, and had beaten Sherrod Smith in the second game of the series in Boston. It went fourteen innings to a 2-to-1 decision.

I was particularly interested in Chick Shorten. He came from the home district. He put up a great game in the series, hitting well over the .500 mark, and having a perfect fielding average. I also studied the playing of Hal Janvrin, the Boston second baseman, and George Cutshaw, his rival. Janvrin was a star in the absence of Jack Barry. He was a timely hitter, and fielded excellently. When I came to the majors I took his place with Washington. I wasn't thinking of such a thing coming to pass when I watched him play in the 1916 world series. My seat was in the left field bleachers.

As I watched the final game in Brooklyn I recalled the incidents surrounding the first world series in which I took a vital interest. That was in 1909. I received the returns of the final game of the Pittsburg-Detroit series, while shivering in a snowstorm on the streets of Pittston. I was bitterly disappointed at the failure of the Tigers. Neither when a bulletin board spectator in Pittston nor an actual one in Brooklyn did I ever dream I ever would be a world series participant. What a difference a few years make; 1909—a shivering kid watching a bulletin board; 1916—a youngster in a bleacher seat at the championship game; 1924—a world series club manager.

Arizona Varsity Rifle Shots in Many Matches

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Jan. 19.—The University of Arizona rifle team has started upon its winter matches with other colleges, including Syracuse, Minnesota, Oklahoma A. and M., Oregon Agricultural, University of Kentucky, University of Nevada and Norwich. On March 10 will be shot the corps area match and on March 14 the last of the series, a shoot with Pomona College. In the local team are Harry Saunders, who carried off the cup for high score among officers' training camp representatives at the last national meet at Camp Perry; Harry Renshaw, who won the national championship in the citizens' military training camp matches, and Paul Schurtz, who was third in the national R. O. T.C. matches.

MESA JACKRABBITS PLAY EL PASO FIVE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MESA (Ariz.) Jan. 19.—Thursday night the Mesa Jackrabbits, twice winners of the State basketball championship, will meet the quintet of the El Paso High School. The following night the visitors will play Phoenix High in Phoenix.

HARRIERS RUN SATURDAY

The opening event of the 1925 track season will take place this Saturday afternoon at Occidental College, the affair being the A.A.U. cross-country run for both high schools and colleges. The race will begin at 2:30 p.m.

Coruses laid out call for a two and one-tenth-mile run for the high-school class, while a four and one-quarter-mile course has been laid out for the older men.

This afternoon Fred Johnson or Bill Anderson will be at the Tiger institution to show any of the entries who wish over the course, and it is expected that a great number of athletes will be on hand to take advantage of the opportunity.

Entries for both races have been pouring in at a pace that bids fair to overwhelm those in charge of the event, men from schools all over Southern California having signified their intention to enter the affair.

SCHLOCKER TO TACKLE MILLS

Bercot brothers, this one Bud by name, will do his best to live up to the reputation his manager, Lonnie Austin, has built for him of being able to hit harder than his brother "Dode," who fights Bobby Barrett of Philadelphia, the 27th of next month.

Pal Moore Vs. Rubidoux

Pal Moore, who has probably met more of the good boys of his weight without winning the bantamweight championship than anybody else in the country, will fight Ad Rubidoux in the ten-round main event at the Lyceum next Saturday night, Dick Donald announced yesterday.

Moore has been in the game since 1913, and is still going good for a veteran. Just before the Christmas season he fought Jimmy McLarnin at Vernon, and while McLarnin was given the verdict many believed that the flailing boy from Memphis, Tenn., was entitled to the decision.

Donald's semi-wind-up will be Phil Chavez and Eddie Shannon.

Two Top Spots

The Chief Petty Officers' Club has two top spot fights on Thursday night's card, one being Jimmie Hackley vs. Sailor Reed of the Idaho, and the other being Sailor Near of the Pennsylvania vs. Sailor Thode of the Idaho.

The first bout is scheduled for eight rounds and the second for six frames.

Returns as Manager

Eddie (Kid) Bell, who fought in Los Angeles in the old days, paid the City of the Angels his first visit in years yesterday, and he had in tow a couple of promising boys he is managing now. They are Kid Dugan, who is said to have twenty-two knockouts out of fifty-one scraps to his credit, and Joe Trabon, who avers he has never been defeated in thirty-seven starts. The first named is a bantie, and the latter a lightweight. Both boys are scheduled to start at Vernon in the near future.

Loyola Preps Meet Sawtelle Quintet Today

The Loyola prep melon heavers will tangle with the Sawtelle five this afternoon in the Loyola gym, in what should prove to be a high-class battle.

The Lion preps have an extra strong-looking aggregation which should be able to give a good account of itself this afternoon. Gus McIssacs, a regular on the college squad is looking out for the preps as their coach. Under his able guidance they are rounding into a formidable-looking squad. In the impending struggle, he plans on starting Sidenfaden and Despars, as forwards; Donahue, center; Hoeffer and Barry, guards. However, there is a raft of good-looking material which will be given a try out. Notable among these are Gass, Kelly, O'Hara, Duffy, Styfert and Daley.

PROMOTERS CANCEL FLOWERS RING DATES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. — The knockout defeat handed Tiger Flowers by Jack Delaney at Madison Square Garden last Friday night caused the promoters at Boston and Newark, N. J., where Flowers was slated to appear, to cancel the engagement. He was to have met Tommy Robinson in the bean town, the 27th inst. and Ted Moore in Jersey, February 2. An effort is being made to substitute Delaney, but it is likely he will demand too much money for his services.

POMONA TRACK HOPES BRIGHT

Intra-Mural Events Slated for This Week

Sir Charles Paddock to Strut His Stuff Friday

Loss of Jack Cowan is Hard Blow to Sagehens

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

POMONA COLLEGE, CLAREMONT, Jan. 19.—Six Intra-Mural track events will usher in the active season of track contests on the Pomona College campus this week. Two events are to be held each day beginning Wednesday afternoon and on Friday Pomona's batch of sprinters will see Charles Paddock, demon speed star of the track, in action in an exhibition race.

Coach Robert Strehle is grooming his sprnters in order that he may pit two or three of his best short distance travelers against the former Trojan star. Paddock has offered to spend a few hours in the afternoon showing his form for the dashes and his marvelous starting form, which has distinguished his running.

KEINKE OUT

Although the varsity stars are not expected to be in suits for regular practice until February 1, several men have already donned the abbreviated costume and spiked shoes, working out with the thirty or more frosh runners and field stars who have been practicing for the last two weeks. Wednesday afternoon Ed Reinke, former Downey High School speedster, will try his mettle for the first time this season against a Pomona visitor, High Pinney, former Pomona High School short-distance star. Both men have been clocked at ten flat and the race should be one worth watching from the sidelines.

That the season looks promising for the Sagehens is realized on the campus as Pomona's varsity and frosh teams will both be well-balanced outfits. Several more short distance stars than usual will be in evidence on the Alumni Field track.

One loss, however, has hit Coach Strehle hard. Jack Cowan, who ran a great race last year in the 440, will not return to Pomona next semester. Cowan has been hit by Cupid's darts and will be married in February.

NEEDS GOOD MAN

His loss leaves Strehle seraching for another quarter-miler to complete his four-man relay team. Severa laspirants are being considered, chief among them being Graff, Knight, Allee, Phelps and several others. Just who will be picked can be better told after the first one or tw oconference meets. By March 28 when Pomona meets the University of California in a dual meet the Sagehens will have reached top-notch form.

As the conference failed to throw out the hammer from the list of track events, Earl Merritt is continuing his work in the heavy event. Merritt has practiced the hammer throws for the last two years and is becoming quite proficient in tossing the leaden ball. His friends are anxiously awaiting his first competition in the hope that he might break the college record in the event. Merritt will also be heard from in the pole vault and weight events.

At east 100 men are expected to be on the Sagehen oval daily after February 1, practicing for the biggest season of meets Pomona has ever tackled.

STEVE O'NEIL WILL WORK WITH SHOCKER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—One of Miller Huggins's primary reasons in taking the veteran catcher Steve O'Neil from the Boston Red Sox is to have a battery partner for Urban Shocker, who can handle the big spitballer's delivery. Wally Schang is a splendid catcher, but he is not good in holding spitballers, in fact, he does not like to catch them.

O'Neil is accustomed to handle spitballers as he caught big Stanley Covaleskie, Cleveland's former pitching ace, for years. Then in Boston last season Steve caught Howard Ehmke and Jack Quinn, both of whom use the anointed delivery.

ALBERT JOHNSON WILL RIDE IN SADDLE AGAIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Albert Johnson, who rode the winners of nearly a score of rich and coveted stakes three years ago, will be seen in the saddle again this year. The noted jockey made a flying trip to this city from his home in Baltimore today. He said he was here to discuss a rider's contract with two prominent New York sportsmen.

STAR ARTISAN CAGER HAS SERIOUS INJURY

Piper, star forward on the Manual Arts lightweight team, may not play in any more games this year unless his accurate right arm gets better soon. According to Coach Al Wheeler, Piper left the Lincoln-Manual Arts lightweight game last Friday with torn ligaments and muscles that have left his arm numb and practically useless. Piper is the mainstay of the fast Artisan quintet, and his absence from the floor will seriously affect its chances for a city title this year. Manual is tied with L. A. High for first place with three victories and no defeats. The two teams meet at L. A., Friday and the game will virtually settle the city lightweight situation. If Piper doesn't play, the stock of the Romans will go up considerably.

The Grand Circuit is the oldest of the light-harness associations. It will start its season at North Randall June 22 and close at Atlanta October 1. It was organized in 1873 and has given 468 meetings, awarding money prizes amounting to $15,612,650.88.

GOLFERS SIGN UP FOR TEXAS OPEN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 19.—With five official entries for the Texas open golf championship received today, the total of early entrants in the annual tournament has been increased to fifteen. Bob MacDonald is among the recent professionals to sign up. The field will include George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, celebrated British pros, who are now in California. The tournament opens February 12.

OBSERVATIONS BY BILL HENRY

nalists and we all believe that he would give U.S.C. a popular and winning football team.

But—all the press comment was the natural result of the apparently well-grounded rumors which came directly from U.S.C. All the public debate and guessing could have been stopped by the U.S.C. management with one definite statement. No such statement was forthcoming for three or four days after the first publication of the rumor and meanwhile the newspapers and public alike were forced to do some heavy guessing.

It was extremely unfortunate that the situation was fubbled as it was, but nobody can blame the newspapers for drawing their own conclusions when faced by a complete absence of definite information from the only place from which such information could come. If the newspapers had their way about it, Rockne would be head coach at U.S.C. and if there is still hope that he may come after the tempest has somewhat subsided, here's hoping that he does.

The Trojans, with proper loyalty to their school, want better teams and have decided that the only way to organize their athletic department as it should be organized is to start all over again. They started out by removing the head of the department and, as long as they were going to remove him, the Trojans certainly did the right thing and the proper thing by paying him in full to the end of his contract.

The people of Southern California would like to see U.S.C. with a winning team and with a coach who would be pleasing not only to the public, but to the Trojans themselves. If Gus Henderson wouldn't do, and Rockne can't be had, it is to be hoped that whoever may succeed to the mantle of Gloomy Gus will succeed in all the above laudable ambitions.

U.S.C. is certainly a fertile field for a good coach. There are more good football players available for next year than in any college in the country, in all probability. The Trojan student body is united in the demand for a winning football team and will get behind the new coach to the limit.

The Trojans have been going through just exactly the same transition period as was suffered by Stanford after the war when the Cards hired and fired coaches so fast it kept everybody dizzy trying to keep up with them. Finally they got desperate and went out and got Pop Warner and now Pop's word is gospel and they all swear he's the greatest guy that ever lived. The same thing ought to hold true at U.S.C., and it should be a good thing in the long run.

Meanwhile conditions continue to point to an amicable resumption of relations between the Trojans, Cards and Bears. If reports are to be believed several high California officials are due down here to look things over and, incidentally, talk things over. If the Bears and Trojans can get together about 90 per cent of the difficulty will have been overcome and the sooner the better for all concerned.

GOLDFISH IDEAL BAIT FOR BIG-MOUTH BASS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MIAMI (Ariz.) Jan. 19.—Small goldfish are ideal bait for big-mouth bass, according to W. A. Sandige, who has about 25,000 of the goldfish, reared by him in pools at the employees' gardens, of which he is in charge. His first try in Roosevelt Lake with the glittering bait brought him a five-pound bass and a number of smaller fish thereafter. Fishermen generally are having good luck at Roosevelt, bringing in bass, crappie and salmon.

The Oglethorpe College football team will hold spring practice for the first time this year.

HORRELL NEXT PIONEER COACH

California Captain Will Sign Contract Next Year

Succeeds Bruce Kirkpatrick as Head Grid Mentor

Wilshire Institution Regrets Passing of Oxy Star

It was learned last night through authentic sources that Babe Horrell, Captain and center of the 1924 California eleven has agreed to sign a contract to coach football at Los Angeles High School next season. Horrell will take the place of Brue Kirkpatrick, who is leaving the Roman institution to take a position at Fairfax High, in the Registrar's office.

Horrell, who is accredited with being one of the smartest players that the Bear institution has ever turned out, and who has won All-America mention on teams chosen by several writers, will have to go some if he is to prove himself Kirkpatrick's equal as a coach.

During his period of mentorship at the Pioneer knowledge factory, which has lasted over a period of four years, the former Occidental star has turned out two championship teams, by himself, and helped with another, handling the line of the 1923 squad, while Herbert E. White ran the backfield. Kirkpatrick's teams have been noted for their strong line, and their tricky offense. In the main, however, his success has been based on the wonderful fighting spirit that he has been able to instill in his men.

He is as good a coach as will be found in Southern California, and has made a host of friends among the boys he has mentored at L. A. High. He will be keenly missed.

The Bruin center will, in all probability sign his L. A. High contract next July, thus preventing his becoming a professional while finishing his college course, and at the same time complying with the regulations of the Board of Education.

Horrell will find a host of good material at the Blue-and-White institution. Moses, Almada, Tupper, Cushing, Tappan, Pendergast, De Ford and Smith, all of whom starred during the last season being back next year. With such a coterie of stars on hand the Bear star should not find it hard to turn out a good machine.

FEW TIMBER WOLVES INFEST ARIZONA WOODS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Jan. 19.—Due mainly to the work of the Biological Survey hunters, claim now is made that not more than half a dozen timber wolves remain alive in Arizona. A few occasionally stray over from northern Mexico but usually are taken within twenty-five miles of the border. Destruction of lions continues, George Ainsworth, a Survey attache, alone reporting the killing of twelve since December 16. He is operating around Prescott.

HOCKEY ENTHUSIASTS IN MEETING TONIGHT

A general hockey meeting will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at A. G. Spalding & Brothers store. Dr. Charles Hartley, president of the California Amateur Hockey Association, will preside. All interested in hockey are invited to attend this meeting.

University of Virginia has invited southern conference track teams to compete in the events in its new Memorial Gymnasium, Charlottesville, February 13. The gymnasium is the largest in the South. It has a twelve-lap to the mile track and affords facilities for high and broad jumping as well as pole vaulting.

UNITED OIL HAS EARNINGS GAIN

Net Income $486,693 More Than in 1923

Automobile and Truck Sales in December Decline

Electrical Engineers Assist War Department

Operations of the United Oil Company and its subsidiary, the Richfield Oil Company, for the year 1924 resulted in a net profit of $1,225,183.53, after the deduction of general expenses, depletion and taxes, or the equivalent of $6.81 on the outstanding stock. Compared with 1923, this is an increase in net earnings of $486,693. Earnings in 1923 were equal to $4.10 a share.

Gross earnings from operations, according to the preliminary statement before allowance for deductions, totaled $4,427,432.36, more than double the gross income of 1923, which was $2,112,363.30.

General expenses and taxes, not including Federal income taxes, depreciation, and other similar items exacted a toll for 1924 of $2,629,223.72.

Abandoned properties, interest and reserve funds required the deduction of $480,025.11.

The Federal income and profit taxes are estimated for deduction at $93,000.

These three items represent a total of $3,202,248.83.

A 12 per cent regular annual dividend, or $3 a share, amounting in all to $540,000, has been paid, which leaves a surplus balance from the year's business of $685,183.53.

The refinery completed about July, 1924, is now handling in excess of 15,000 barrels daily. Other items which augur a favorable future for the United Oil Company are an increase in production and a steadily growing business.

Trucks on Decrease

Sales of automobiles in Los Angeles county for December, last, were 2440 less than during the same month in 1923, according to figures compiled by the Automobile Publishing Company, and released yesterday. Last month's figures were 5059 and in 1923 they were 7499. Truck sales in December, last, were 802, as compared with 1213 in December, 1923.

Sales of automobiles in Southern California in December, last, were 6822, as compared with 10,015 in December, 1923. Counties in the Southland, exclusive of Los Angeles, sold 1763 cars.

Construction Aided

N. A. Carle, vice-president in charge of operations of the Public Service Production Company, was appointed by the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, of which Mr. Carle was at one time a vice-president, as one of the five engineers to represent the institute, at a conference held by the War Department, on the 16th inst., at which ways and means were discussed for bringing to the assistance of the department, in the study of its many problems of construction, the skill and experience of the leading engineering societies of the country.

Associated with Mr. Carle as representatives of the A.I.E.E. include Prof. C. A. Adams of Harvard University, past president of the institute; E. W. Rice, honorary chairman, board of directors, General Electric Company; H. W. Eales, chief electrical engineer, Union Electric Light and Power Company, St. Louis, and J. H. Finney of the Aluminum Company of America, former vice-president of the A.I.E.E.

Director Added

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the National Mortgage Company in San Francisco yesterday Morice DeLong, trust officer of the Pacific National Bank of Los Angeles was elected a director. The old board was reelected.

The National Mortgage Company has just finished a successful year of operation in the mortgage investment field, and the enlargement of the board is in line with the announced policy of increasing the scope of operations of the company. Both the personnel and field of operations of the Los Angeles office of the National Mortgage Company will be greatly enlarged during 1925.

Olmstead in Office

Edward L. Olmstead, who, until his appointment to the vice-presidency of the Continental National Bank at the annual stockholders' meeting on the 13th inst., was president of the First National Bank of Brea, yesterday assumed his position with the metropolitan institution. Olmstead has been engaged in the lumber and baking business in Orange county and has been president of the county's Chamber of Commerce and its bankers' association.

Additions to the working force of the Continental National Bank were made recently following the enlargement of the floor space and new facilities to the extent of 50 per cent.

Securities to Open Office

John E. Barber, vice-president of the First Securities Company, yesterday announced that the company would open an office in San Francisco, February 1, and will be represented there by Alan J. Lowrey. Mr. Lowrey was formerly associated with Blair & Co., and more recently has been engaged in the bond and brokerage business in San Francisco.

Chauncey Anderson of the law firm of Pendleton, Anderson, Iselin & Riggs, both of New York City, had been added to the De Forest board of directors.

AMERICAN SUGAR PROSPERS

President Reports Emergence from Depression; Dividend Resumption Probable

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Another one of the great industries has cast off the yoke of post-war depression. The emancipation of the sugar refining business from a protracted period of high operating costs and erratic fluctuations in the price of the raw and refined product was proclaimed yesterday by President Babst of the American Sugar Refining Company in his annual statement. The portion of the message freighted with the most significance to the business world was this cheerful bit of news:

"The company is in a financial and operating position to resume a common dividend whenever conditions warrant."

The struggles of American Sugar to combat the heritage of the world-wide disruption in price levels are a familiar story to followers of the stock market. The situation grew so acute in 1921 that the company voted to suspend the common dividends in July. Throughout that year and in 1922 and 1923, a policy of retrenchment and reorganization was pursued by the management in an effort to meet the existing conditions of competition. As an illustration of the difficulties confronted, President Babst stated in his annual report for 1923 that the price of raw sugar during the twelve months changed 115 times, and the extreme fluctuation of 3.375 cents a pound in raw sugar prices was greater than the fluctuation of the entire ten years preceding the war.

PRICE FLUCTUATIONS

He also painted a few more shadows in the picture when he said that the post-war fluctuations of sugar were greater than in any other basic commodity. Compared with the average prices of 1910, sugar's fluctuations since the armistice were greater than the combined fluctuations of wheat and cotton, and almost equal to the combined fluctuations of wool, rubber, coal and copper.

To extricate the company from this muddle was not an easy task, and one discouraging enough to undoubtedly warrant receivership proceedings at several stages of the process. The means taken to accomplish the end, as recited by Mr. Babst, are worthy of comment as an index of the methods resorted to by big business when things are going wrong.

First of all, the 7 per cent common dividend was suspended, even though net income since that time has been sufficient to maintain such a rate after the payment of all charges, losses, depreciation and preferred dividends. Turning to the heavy losses incurred by the repudiation of contracts, bankruptcy, loans and inventory of the war decontrol period, the company charged off an amount of $22,911,757.58. The undelivered sales on the books of the company when the collapse of 1920 occurred, amounted to more than $60,000,000.

A program of refinery rehabilitation was put under way, costing in all including maintenance, repairs, additions and improvements, the building of the Baltimore refinery, ships, tank cars, etc., a total of $45,000,000. The company discovered in 1916, largely through competition for export, that it had only two refineries that could meet competition. An important gesture in the way of reducing costs lately failed when negotiations were dropped for the merger of American Sugar and National Sugar Refining. The offer came from the former company and was predicated on the belief that efficiency of operation would be promoted by such a union.

Another source of weakness in the theme of operations of this large corporation was found in the ownership of the raw supply. It was discovered that 40 per cent of the raw sugar refined in the United States was owned by competitors, such as the United Fruit Company and the Hawaiian interests with their San Francisco plants. This condition was met by the purchase in 1919 of Central Cunagua, and the development of Central Jaronu, the two plantations constituting an acreage capable of producing 1,200,000 to 1,400,000 bags of raw sugar, equal to about 12 per cent of the average requirements of the American Sugar refineries. This venture has been profitable and of great assistance, according to President Babst.

SALES STIMULATED

In the merchandising end, the management developed a package business in sugar and table syrup under well-known trade names. The success of this innovation is attested by the statement that the volume of the package business now constitutes about one-half of the company's production that goes into the households.

The company's output in the last ten years has been sold at a profit of 2¼ per cent on sales, or less than 1-5 of a cent on each pound of sugar handled. This, the president declares, is a margin of profit as small, if not smaller, than that prevailing in any industrial field.

Yet, the annual report for 1924 shows that in this ten-year period, American Sugar has become the largest trade-mark package merchandiser in the country. It has gone over its refining operations with a fine tooth comb, and eliminated everything inefficient. One new refinery has been built, and a low-cost Cuban plantation has been acquired and developed, which has added about $10,000,000 to surplus.

And moreover, the stockholders will benefit some time this year by his thorough campaign of rehabilitation, if the hint in President Babst's statement is not misleading.

NEW HOTEL BOND ISSUE ANNOUNCED

Fresno Hostelry Offers Obligations; Form Direct First Mortgage

The First Securities Company is offering an issue of $500,000 Sun-Maid Hotel Corporation first closed mortgage 6½ per cent bonds, due serially from 1927 to 1939. The 1927 to 1928 maturities are priced to yield 6.25 per cent, and the 1929 to 1939 maturities are priced to yield 6.50 per cent. The bonds are exempt from the California personal property tax, and application has been made to have them certified as legal investments for California savings banks.

The Sun-Maid Hotel Corporation is the owner of the California Hotel, an eight-story reinforced concrete building, located in Fresno. The bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first closed mortgage on the land, hotel building, furnishings and equipment, all of which, based upon appraisals and certified values, have a value of $1,118,693.13, or more than twice the total amount of the bond issue.

The California Hotel has been in operation since January 1, 1924, under the management of H. Wingate Lake and Albert Bettens, both of whom are experienced hotel men.

COTTON GOES HIGHER; FUTURES ARE SLUGGISH

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Futures moved listlessly again today in a thoroughly uninteresting session in which fluctuations were within an extremely narrow range. Outside business continued very small, speculators preferring more active markets. Final prices, however, were within a point or two of the day's best and 1 to 9 points net higher. Spot cotton closed 5 points net higher at 24.07.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Cotton values declined early on selling based on expectations of a larger showing of the crop by the ginning census returns due Friday, than was given by the government report last month. This is uppermost in the minds of traders and is expected to be for the next three days. Liverpool was weaker and closed 5 to 8d lower. Cotton traders ignore the larger exports and increased amounts brought into sight this season owing to the heavier crop as well as the better trade conditions and increased consumption, as compared with last year, and remain mostly bearish.

COPPER BUYING SLOWING DOWN

Consumers Marking Time on Wait for Developments

Europeans Are Expected to be Big Purchasers

Last Quarter of 1924 Shows Huge Improvement

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS

Consumers of copper are apparently marking time awaiting indications as to the trend of the market in the immediate future. Buying is slow and the price is remaining around 15 1-8 with some offerings at 15 cents, while futures are quoted from 15 1-8 to 15 1-4. It is time, however, for the demand for February and March shipments to show and a considerable loosening of buying is anticipated by the producers in the very near future.

The indications are that the early part of 1925 should see some exceptionally large buying from European countries as they have little or no stocks of copper and have reason to feel some uneasiness over the continued advances in the price of the metal. However, it is not to be expected that a good demand from abroad will affect the price materially in view of the cent a pound advance of the last few weeks.

Even greater stability of the copper price should come from the announcement of the production, consumption and export records made during the last quarter of 1924, the figures just having been made public by the American Bureau of Metal Statistics.

The last quarter of 1924 showed some improvement in consumption of copper over the previous quarter, particularly in exports. The total consumption of copper was 333,994 tons as compared with 291,637 tons during the previous quarter. The greatest gain came in exports, these totaling 158,788 tons as against 132,229 tons during the previous quarter. This was the largest export copper sales for any quarter since the war.

EXPORTS GREATER

Of the export copper during the last quarter, Germany took 25 per cent, France 21 per cent, England 19 per cent and Italy 11 per cent, while during the entire year the percentage stood respectively 22 per cent, 21 per cent, 20 per cent and 12 per cent. Since the acceptance of the Dawes-Young reparations plan, Germany has been greatly increasing its takings of the red metal.

Domestic consumption made a gain from 159,408 tons to 175,206 tons but this only brought the figures back to their usual place, the third quarter of 1924 being a rather bad one in so far as domestic consumption was concerned. The total domestic consumption for the year showed but a little gain over 1923, being 753,389 tons as against 735,531 tons for 1923. However, nothing spectacular could have been expected in domestic consumption as it has been very satisfactory in every way and has grown by leaps and bounds.

The domestic consumption in 1921 was but 307,260 tons and has now grown to more than double that amount, being 753,389 tons in 1924, and everything indicates that it will hold its advantageous position. Exports have been hovering around 130,000 tons each quarter for almost two years and the rise during the last quarter to 158,788 tons is gratifying and was probably largely responsible for the increase in price during December.

STOCKS UNCHANGED

Inasmuch as production during the last quarter of the year was 333,672 tons and the consumption was almost on a balance or 333,994 tons, there has been practically no change in stocks of refined copper. The copper surplus available for delivery was, on the 1st inst. 136,434 tons or about five weeks' supply.

The production records for the last quarter are quite satisfactory, although a somewhat larger amount of scrap copper was placed on the market. Of the 333,672 tons of copper produced, 323,333 were primary copper and 10,339 tons were scrap. The production for the year stood at 1,300,3332 tons as against 1,163,885 tons for 1923.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Foreign Issues [illegible]

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—With a firm undertone prevailing in today's bond market several foreign government and domestic corporation issues developed conspicuous strength and worked into new high ground. Trading interest centered principally in Mexican obligations and the bonds of the St. Paul, New York Central and "Katy" railroads.

Prospects that negotiations would be opened for a resumption of debt payments continued to be the chief sustaining factor in the case of the Mexican loans.

St. Paul bonds followed an upturn in the road's shares, apparently based on the belief that the present investigation of the road's position would lay the basis for a funding program.

Trading in "Katy" adjustment 5s was stimulated by the large increase reported in 1924 earnings and by prospects that the road's prefered stock, into which the bonds are convertible, would be restored to its full [illegible] per cent dividend basis this year. In crossing 81 the bonds established a new high record.

New bond offerings exceeding $60,000,000 were well absorbed. An issue of $50,000,000 Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company notes and a block of $5,000,000 Munson Steamship Line notes were oversubscribed.

Following are yesterday's high, low and closing prices of bonds on the New York Stock Exchange, and the total sales of each bond. This market is over Associated Press wires and to expedite transmission the closing is omitted when it is the same as the low, and both low and close are omitted when they are the same as the high.

NEW YORK CURB

Erratic Prices

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Considerable irregularity developed in today's curb market after an opening show of strength in many parts of the list. Profit-taking and bear selling forced a number of popular issues below Saturday's closing quotations but the losses as a rule were small.

A drop of 3 points to 330 in Prairie Oil and Gas (old stock,) was offset by gains of 1 to 1½ points in Prairie Pipe, South Penn and Swan & Finch.

Further recovery of Commonwealth Power, which advanced 1½ points to 123½, featured the mixed movement in the public utilities.

Following are the closing quotations on the New York Curb Market, furnished by Logan & Bryan, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 634 South Spring street:

PACIFIC-SOUTHWEST TRUST & SAVINGS BANK, Los Angeles, TRUSTEE

EXEMPT FROM PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX IN CALIFORNIA

Application has been made to the Superintendent of Banks to have these bonds certified as legal investments for California Savings Banks and they are offered subject to being so certified.

Mr. E. G. Hughson, President of the Company, summarizes from his letter to us the following salient features of this issue:

PROPERTY The Sun Maid Hotel Corporation is the owner of an eight-story, reinforced concrete hotel building located in Fresno, California. This hotel, known as "The Californian Hotel," has been in operation since January 1, 1924, and is therefore thoroughly modern in construction and equipment. In addition to its 240 guest rooms, the hotel contains nine rentable stores.

SECURITY These bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first closed mortgage on the land, hotel building, furnishings and equipment, all of which, based on appraisals and certified valuations, have a sound value of $1,118,693.13 or more than twice the total amount of this bond issue. As additional security there will be deposited with the Trustee the lease under which the hotel is now being operated.

LEASE AND RENTALS The hotel property is leased to and is now being operated by Californian Hotel, Inc. This lease expires on March 31, 1940. The fixed net rental under this lease is $70,800 annually, payable $5900 monthly in advance. In addition to this fixed amount, the Sun Maid Hotel Corporation receives annually 25% of the net earnings realized from the operations of the hotel. The aggregate fixed net rental due under this lease from December 1, 1924 (the date of this bond issue) amounts to $1,085,600 and is sufficient to provide for the payment of the entire principal and interest of this bond issue, leaving a surplus of over $200,000. The lessees pay the insurance, taxes, upkeep and repairs.

SINKING FUND Beginning on December 1, 1924, and monthly thereafter, the Company agrees to deposit with the Trustee a sum equal to one-twelfth of the total annual interest charge on the bonds outstanding; and on December 1, 1926, the Company agrees to deposit the sum of $10,000 and quarterly thereafter a sum equal to one-fourth of the principal maturing in the year in which the deposit is made. These deposits shall be applied by the Trustee to the payment of the principal and interest of these bonds as they mature.

INSURANCE The hotel building, furnishings and equipment will be kept insured in an amount not less than $500,000. Coverage of fire, plate glass, boiler and elevator insurance is required to be carried by the lessees under the terms of their lease. All insurance policies shall be deposited with the Trustee for the benefit of the bondholders.

MANAGEMENT The management of The Californian Hotel is in the hands of H. Wingate Lake and Albert Bettens, both of whom are experienced hotel men who have been successfully engaged in this line of business for many years.

LEGALITY AND TITLE All legal proceedings relating to the issuance of these bonds will be subject to the approval of Messrs. O'Melveny, Millikin, Tuller & Macneil, Los Angeles, for the underwriters and Mr. Milton M. Dearing, Fresno, for the Company. A Bondholders' Policy of Title Insurance in the amount of $500,000 will be issued by the Security Title Insurance and Guaranty Company, Fresno, California.

WHY LESS THAN THE BEST?

DEFEATING DESTROYERS OF PROPERTY

The only difference between loss of value by fire and loss of value through the insidious effects of depreciation is the element of time. In one case indemnification is provided by insurance; in the other through the provision of an adequate reserve for depreciation.

In either case indemnification can not be complete unless the base sum, the value of the property, is accurately ascertained. A property analysis and appraisal is the only possible means to assure the protection which insurance and depreciation reserves are designed to afford.

The precision with which that appraisal is made is of the utmost importance to the property owner. Half truths or optimistic estimates will not here suffice for verifiable facts. Recognition of this condition accounts for the predominant position of The American Appraisal Company today, after a generation of service. Property owners everywhere realize that for so important a service they can not trust anything less than the best.

No. 4 of a Series of Personal Messages from the Directors and Governors of Credit Finance Corporation

The Business Man's Investment

BY

JAMES F. ROTHGEB

Treasurer Credit Finance Corporation

Former Vice-President of Beyer-Rothgeb Company

Many times, during my long association with the manufacturing interests of Los Angeles, I have been asked to indicate my conception of the ideal "Business Man's investment;" and this opinion is based mostly on observations of many of this city's most successful business men.

Next to the most important feature of Safety of Principal, it seems to me that an early Return of Principal is desirable. All his life the typical business man is accustomed to the habit of buying merchandise in some form or another and then quickly selling at a profit. In other words he is "in and out" all the time, each turn-over of capital accomplishing some degree of profit to himself with a release of his capital after every turn-over. To tie up his capital indefinitely without a probable return of his principal within a reasonably short time is contrary to his business policy.

In the organization of Credit Finance Corporation, of which I am an officer, the serial Retirement of Principal consequently appeals to the strictly business class. Personally, it meets every requirement necessary to my conception of an ideal investment from the business man's viewpoint, and this seems corroborated by the fact that practically every dollar of our capital, now actively operating, has been raised among the better business class of Los Angeles.

Jas F. Rothgeb

* * * * *

The keen business man of today is building his Surplus, to take care of his declining years. He works at concert pitch to crowd the utmost of Earning Power into each moment of time and into every dollar of his capital. He must make no mistakes. Credit Finance Corporation, organized and managed by a group of men representing the highest type in Los Angeles business circles, offers a Re-funding type of investment that instantly appeals to the active operator. It is of Short-term duration; has an instant collateral value for extension of credit; and carries a most attractive profit.

SECURITY: A First Closed Mortgage on the property located at Twelfth, Broadway and Hill Streets, Los Angeles, having a frontage of 250 feet on Twelfth Street and a depth of 202 feet, and on the Class A eight-story Chamber of Commerce Building now being constructed at an estimated cost of $2,500,000. The value of the real property alone is conservatively appraised at $1,500,000 giving a combined valuation for the property and building of not less than $4,000,000 or approximately $2,000 for each $1,000 bond.

This building, erected primarily for the purpose of housing the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, will because of its strategic location, become one of the commercial centers of the City.

EARNINGS: Based upon conservative estimates, the gross annual income derived from the rental of stores, offices and other sources, will be approximately $560,000 which, after the deduction of $174,000 for operation, insurance, taxes and contingencies, shows net annual earnings of $386,000 available for interest charges on this issue. Net earnings will thus be in excess of three times the maximum annual interest requirements on this issue and about two and one-half times interest and Sinking Fund requirements.

Over 50% of the total space in the building has already been leased, and it can be confidently anticipated that the entire building will be occupied immediately upon its completion.

SINKING FUND: The Trust Indenture securing these bonds will provide for annual Sinking Fund beginning January 1, 1933, sufficient to retire $890,000 of bonds by maturity through purchase in the open market, if obtainable at par or below, or by call at par and accrued interest.

GENERAL: The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce was organized in the year 1888 for the primary purpose of furthering the development of Southern California. Its membership of over 12,000, is the largest of any Chamber of Commerce in the world. It is a non-profit organization composed of the leading individuals and corporations in Southern California. The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce Building Corporation, the entire capital stock of which is owned by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, was organized to purchase the property described above and to construct, own and operate the new building.

LEGALITY: The legal proceedings incident to the issuance of these bonds have been passed upon by Messrs. Fredericks and Hanna of Los Angeles, and approved by Messrs. O'Melveny, Milliken, Tuller & Macneil of Los Angeles.

STOCKS YIELD TO PRESSURE

Barometric Shares Record Slight Losses

Dividend Suspension Brings Break in Oils

Money Cheaper; Sterling in Short Jump

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Reactionary price movements characterized today's stock market, which was unable to absorb the pressure of profit taking and bear selling, except at concessions in quoted values. Net losses in many active issues ranged from fractions to 4 points, but special strength was shown by a wide variety of stocks. The day's sales were slightly below 1,500,000 shares.

All so-called pivotal industrial shares lost ground. United States Steel common, which touched 126 in the early trading, the highest price since 1917, later fell back to 125, where it was off ½ point on the day. American Can closed nearly 2 points lower at 161, and Baldwin showed a net loss of 2⅝ at 132¾; Studebaker yielded fractionally to 44, and General Electric broke 3 points to 310.

NEWS FAVORABLE

Except for the omission of the dividend on Mexican Seaboard common, most of the day's trade and financial news was favorable. It included lower money rates, record high prices for wheat and corn, and gasoline price advances in the South. Nash Motors continued its sensational gain, soaring 20 points to a new record top at 290. Other outstanding strong spots included American Sugar preferred, which advanced 4¼ points to 96 on publication of the ten-year analysis of the company's earnings, and International Harvester, American Express, Pressed Steel preferred, Wickwire Spencer Steel preferred and General American Tank, all of which closed 2½ to 6 points higher.

Chief interest in the railroad group centered in the brisk demand for the St. Paul issues just before the close, the common advancing 2 points to 16, and the preferred 2½ to 26¼. A good inquiry also was noted for the New York Central issues, which showed a net gain of ¾ at the close, 122⅞, after selling as high as 123½. Jersey Central advanced 5 points on one sale, but Delaware and Hudson, Lackawanna, Denver and Rio Grande Western preferred, Gulf, Mobile and Northern preferred, Lehigh Valley and the Missouri issues were heavy, losing from 1 to 3¼ points.

SHARP LOSS TAKEN

Mexican Seaboard broke nearly 4 points to 15¾ on the announcement of the dividend action, and most of the other oils turned heavy in consequence. Net losses of 1 to 3 points were recorded by Houston, Colorado Fuel, Phillips Petroleum and Tidewater.

Call money opened at 3¼ per cent and then dropped to 3. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges moved within narrow and irregular limits. Demand sterling and French francs ruled a trifle higher, around $4.77⅜ and 5.40 cents, respectively; Italian exchange was slightly easier, ruling about 3 points lower around 4.14½.

CANAL STIMULATES TRADE

Marked growth in the trade of the United States with the countries of the west coast of South America is indicated in a report dealing with South America's shipping relations with the United States and Europe, prepared by E. T. Chamberlain of the transportation division of the Department of Commerce. Measured by the net tonnage of ships entered and cleared, the trade between Unitd States' ports and the ports of Ecuador, Peru and Chile was 50 per cent greater in 1923 than in 1914, Mr. Chamberlain reports, while sea intercourse between the Pacific Coast ports of the two continents was almost doubled in 1923 over 1922.

The opening of the Panama Canal is mainly responsible for the change in South American trade relations with the rest of the world, a change, says the pamphlet, of much advantage to the United States. The canal cuts down the distance by sea from Valparaiso to New York from 8350 miles to but 4600 miles; while the distance to Southampton and Cherbourg, which by the Straits of Magellan, had been 8500 miles, not a day's run longer than to New York, was reduced to 7100 miles. This leaves the Atlantic ports of the United States about 2500 miles nearer to Chile and Peru than the channel and North Sea ports of Europe. Another permanent advantage which North America has obtained, the pamphlet points out, is due to the growing use of oil as a fuel, and the shifting centers of oil production is given as one cause for the nearly doubled traffic between the Pacific ports of the two Americas in one year.

Trade between the east coast of South America and the rest of the shipping world has not yet returned to normal since the war, Mr. Chamberlain observes, but the tendency toward restoration of the normal equilibrium has been evident, especially since 1922. No event such as the opening of the canal has occurred to divert the east coast trade from its normal channels. The great seaports of Brazil and Argentina are 500 miles to Gibraltar than to New York and 1000 miles nearer to Gibraltar than to New Orleans. France, Great Britain, Germany, the Netherlands and Italy have all taken recent measures to co-operate with and assist the steamship lines carrying their respective flags to South America ports, an evidence of the importance they attach to their future trade with South America.

The Whole Truth

Nothing is so false as half the truth. The advantage of the Detailed Audit is that it is the whole truth—nothing but the truth and the truth in such fullness that only one conclusion regarding the condition of your business is possible—and that conclusion—the exact truth.

The trouble with the ordinary audit is that it is only half the truth. True as far as it goes, but too often confining itself to surface figures and stopping without disclosing the real facts underlying the figures—facts essential to the whole truth.

So often does the Detailed Audit disclose, where least expected, facts absolutely essential to a true revelation of business conditions that we advise it—unreservedly.

In his knowledge that he has the whole truth of his business conditions before him, the executive finds confident power and freedom of action.

CRIPPLED GIRL GIVEN VERDICT

Young Woman Wins $75,000 for Injuries

New York Held Negligent in Auto Accident

Car Topples 40 Feet Down Embankment

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—A verdict of $75,000 against the City of New York was awarded to Miss Ruth Knoeller in Bronx Supreme Court for injuries, described as permanent, she suffered when an automobile in which she was riding toppled forty feet down an embankment at Burke avenue and Bronx Park Boulevard, February 15, 1924. Two men and one woman were killed.

CITY NEGLIGENT

Miss Knoeller accused the city of negligence in not posting a visible warning sign at the junction which was described by witnesses at the trial as a death trap. The jury was out about three hours, and lopped off only $25,000 from the girl's plea for $100,000.

The city was given the usual sixty days' privilege in which to appeal the case, but it is unlikely it will do so.

Miss Knoeller, who is 27 years of age never will be able to engage in work or social life, doctors said. Her injuries were such that doctors marveled she ever recovered. In falling, the automobile turned over and pinned the four occupants beneath.

THREE ARE KILLED

One of the men killed was Roderick O'Connor. The others were Stephanie Dmytrow of Cranford, N. J., and Alfred J. Hodson of Lynbrook, L. I.

Witnesses declared a light suspended eighty-four feet from the embankment failed to illuminate the spot. It was held by Lester Hand Jayne, attorney for Miss Knoeller, that the manner in which the car fell was evidence O'Connor, the driver, was proceeding carefully and not speeding, as had been intimated.

Miss Knoeller's plans at present include a trip to Florida.

THE MODERN GIRL KEEPS UP THE PACE

HAS ADAPTED HERSELF MERELY TO REQUIREMENTS OF PRESENT-DAY MAN

Much has been said of the girl of today, her changed outlook and attitude toward man, dress, and the world in general; she has been compared to the girl of the Victorian era. Well! she is different; but, after all, merely in the sense that she has adapted herself to the needs and requirements of present-day man, for it is man that has changed; therefore, woman now, as from time immemorial, endeavors to appear what he expects and wishes her to be.

The man of "today" leads an outdoor life. Sports of all kinds loom on his horizon, more so than ever. Motors are his toys. Scout camps and jamborees are becoming an everyday affair. Big game shooting expeditions even are more familiarly entertained. Golf alone claims hundreds of devotees. Large is the number who trek each season toward Switzerland or Norway for the fun of skiing.

Compare this life to that of the gay bewhiskered youth who danced attendance on the maiden in the early '80s. Fine fellows they were, too, but with a different viewpoint. The girl of that period was also splendid, but she again adapted herself to what was expected of her. Very dainty in her outlook on life, rather easily upset perhaps, more or less satisfied, certainly to her credit domesticated. Well, that is what the gallants of that period desired of their women folk, and they got it.

But how ridiculous are wasp waists, sunshades, and samplers to the young man of "today," striding along in tweed and golf kit. What he requires is a girl chum to keep step beside him, loose-waisted and trim in tweed skirt, and gaily knit jumper, probably also a sensible pair of brogues, in case there is some climbing to do. Powder? Yes! But no man really admires a shiny nose nowadays. A football match also intrigues the modern girl, but again it is a case of needs must, if she in her turn wishes to interest the man who plays, or the enthusiastic onlooker.

Yes! Man after all is responsible to a great extent for the change in woman. He demands more of her. A girl wise in household ways alone will not satisfy him. His is a broader outlook than in the past, and he expects the same of her, or looks for it elsewhere. The modern girl has realized this and ambushed accordingly. I am not referring to the bachelor-woman, to whom a career alone means everything. She has justified her position.

Fundamentally, however, the girl of today is the same at heart. The desire for love, marriage and children is all there, however contrary the surface may appear, and always will be. Though the modern man is also a stranger in outward ways, to the polished youth of the eighteenth century his aspiration for home and country are as clean and desirable as ever. And, after all, "Old Thing," though it hurts a little to unaccustomed ears, is no doubt just as sincere and well meant as the "My Dear" of married life we are all so familiar with.—[Edinburgh Scotsman.

Is Your Name Arthur?

The name Arthur has evolved from a name popular in the days of Anglo-Saxons. This was Earnthur. The first syllable "earn" meant an eagle, and the second syllable "thur" was the Anglo-Saxon form of Thor, the name of the Norse god.—[Exchange.

Christine of the Hungry Heart

by Kathleen Norris

The story thus far: After a few years of marriage, Christine Knight, young, beautiful and rich, realizes that she is desperately unhappy. However, because she does not believe in divorce, she decides to make the best of her life with her adored little daughter Betty Lou, and her openly bored and neglectful husband, Stuart. So she and Dr. Alan Monteagle, who have recently met, and found themselves in love with each other, decide not to see each other again. Then one day Stuart, driving with the woman whom gossip calls his mistress, runs into his mother's car and almost kills Christine. Alan Monteagle hurries to her side, and by working night and day, pulls her back to life. She divorces her husband and marries Alan. But a few years find her jealous of the time her husband spends on his profession—especially on the Vianneys, young Ivan Vianney wounded in the war, is one of his special interests. And Ivan becomes interested in Christine. He goes away, but returns suddenly and lets Christine know he is in love with her.

Alan was rejoiced to find that Ivan was installed as his house guest for the brief three weeks of his New York stay. For Ivan was going back to the South, he had merely come home to arrange for the dramatization of his first book, "Wages of Life," next fall, and to sign the contracts for the new book, "The Fool."

He was the lion of the moment; Chris knew, when she went with him to tea or opera, or merely sauntered with him down the snow-heaped avenue, that he was constantly being identified. There was no mistaking his clear, child-like color, his black eyes, his yellow hair. She loved him for his honest impatience with mere flattery or hero-worship; a pugilist, a murderer, a vaudeville clown—he would say—each has his hour!

From the beginning, his companionship held for her an ecstacy so poignant that everw insignificant act of life was penetrated and permeated with new importance and delight. Merely to dress, to live, to pour tea, to look up from the morning paper, was significant, now. The old delicious hurrying of her blood, her sudden exquisite eloquence, the hats and frocks that made her beautiful, the pearls in her ears, the fragrance of her filmy handkerchief—these were all parts of the spell.

For a week after he arrived, until after New Year's indeed, he merely surrounded her with a passionate and intense devotion. It was not that he refrained from expressing it so much as that he indicated that it was already fully expressed and understood. It was as if—she thought—they were moving toward some entirely satisfactory solution, and satisfied of its eventual fulfillment.

Then, on the second day of the year, he talked to her. They were in the library, having tea alone. Outside a blizzard wrapped the world in white; upstairs the convalescent Jeffy, thin and pale, was rioting with the little Bleeker boy, who had also had measles and whooping-cough. Alan had gone to Brooklyn, where Dr. Smoker had just died.

Ivan was honest about it, straightforward, he did not equivocate. Chris listened, at first, with pursed lips, a half-smile of maternal rebuke in her eyes, her head shaking slowly.

She must get a divorce; she and Ivan were to be married. It was all so utterly breath-taking and fantastic that it merely surprised and amused her.

The alternative was this empty-half-life, with a man she had ceased to love—she shook her head more definitely here.

"Then you are happy, Chris?" Ivan asked.

"Oh, no—no! Wretched!"

"And you love me?"

He was kneeling on the floor beside her chair. Now she pushed back the beautiful rich wave of his hair, and looked sadly into his eyes.

"I'm afraid so!"

That was enough. He made no further point that day. But that night, when they dined alone, and talked before the fire again, he kissed her as he had never kissed her before.

She was wretched with Alan: point one. But to get a divorce from Alan, according to these cused laws, meant dragging herself through filth unspeakable. Alan must give cause, or she must. She knew that.

"Alan never will!" she said, positively.

Well, then? She was—how old—30?

"Ah, don't, Ivan—don't!"

She had shrunk down into silence, her face in her hands, when Alan came in cold and subdued. They talked of poor Smoker. Nice widow, elderly woman—nice married daughter. Smoker's associates wanted Alan to oversee the publication of a biography, letters, notes.

"He was the biggest nerve specialist in America," said Alan. "Biggest in the world, perhaps!"

"But, Alan," said his wife, "wouldn't that mean an awful amount of work?"

"Well, yes. But in a way it's up to me. No golf now. I could run up to Syracuse almost every week-end. He worked up there. He's left notes—priceless! I feel a sort of duty in it—to poor Smoker, and to the profession, too!"

That was all, that night. A day or two later Ivan talked to her again. His plan was—Rio! Radiant, glorious, sun-washed Rio, with its tree-high begonias, with the Pria curved like a scimitar against the sapphire of the bay, and the bells ringing in the old garden gates, and the men crying "Gallinnas!" through the quiet streets.

Rio; for six idyllic months. Then America again, and her divorce, with no trouble or fuss, and then the world at the feet of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Vianney! What could stop it? How could the plan go wrong? They would perhaps find a tiny cabin at Santa Barbara—or up in the Connecticut hills—or in Italy——

"And I want you to begin to write, too, Chris," Ivan said, discussing impossibilities with a certain male serenity and authority that always stirred her. "You have a marked gift—you've got to develop it. We'll be the writers—husband and wife."

"Ah, my dear——! Don't let's be absurd. I'm married, with children. Even—even if I was considering such happiness, there's Jeffy! My little white-faced boy, with his wretched cough!"

"Jeffy goes with us, of course!" Ivan said, with a surprised look.

"Take Jeffy!" Chrissie mused, smiling. And impulsively she added: "Wouldn't he adore it!"

"He will. Chris, try to disabuse your mind of the idea that there is anything monstrous, or very difficult about all this. You aren't an ordinary woman—you can get away with this, where perhaps another woman couldn't. You go to Rio, live there quietly. Why, we might decide to stay there for years, with just visits here. Alan has his own reputation, his own privacy, to protect. He isn't the sort that makes a big newspaper stir——"

"No—he's not," Chris admitted, reluctantly.

"Well, and then look here, there's another thing. If your brother Dan's ideas are right, by any standard, you're not married to Alan!"

"My dear, but that's sheer nonsense!"

"I know. But isn't it all nonsense, the whole property-protecting, filthy, narrow-minded business! Shake it off, Chris, once and for all! Live up high, in the sunshine of your own soul! You love me—trust me. Take your baby—the other child is wholly yours, and we'll take her with us wherever we go, when we come back. Have a frank talk with Alan, next fall—you're both human beings—there's no reason why you should want to harm him, or he you!"

"Yes, Betty-Lou is mine," Chris murmured, thankfully. "And you're quite right—Alan won't want publicity, and he'll agree to anything reasonable."

"I'll manage the steamer end, she sails the eighteenth," Ivan said, quietly. "You've got a plaid—you'll need thin things where you can easily break them out. We run right into summer, you know!"

"I love to hear you!" Chris said, laughing, "but let's go read one of the Arabian Nights! Less fantastic, and more probable."

Record Trade in Grains Leads to New Crop Highs

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The biggest world's cash wheat trade that ever occurred in a single day, with between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 bushels being taken by foreigners in all positions, including twenty to twenty-five cargoes of Argentine, Australian and Indian wheat and more than 1,000,000 bushels from North America, swept values to a new high today for the season on both cash and futures. The finish was at the top, with net gains of 1⅝@2⅜ on futures here. May wheat here sold up to 1.90⅜, with heavy buying by foreigners a factor, while the bulk of the new speculative trading is going into the July delivery, which sold up to 1.67¼. May finished at 1.90⅛@1.90¼, July at 1.66⅞@1.67 and September at 1.54⅞@1.54¾. March in Liverpool was 2.02¾ per bushel at the close.

Foreigners have apparently over-stayed their market and a tardy realization of the world's shortage lead to a wild scramble for wheat offered by any country. Bulgaria and Austria were among the buyers, and Germany, as well as the United Kingdom, and the continent also bought freely. It is estimated by some of the leading American exporters that practically all of the surplus durum wheat in the United States has been sold abroad, and the buying of futures here, as well as hard winters at the gulf in the face of big premiums as compared with other countries, tended to increase bullish sentiment.

It was a market in which individual operations counted for little, with commission houses aggressive on both sides. The market absorbed heavy profit-taking sales with ease, with the best figures of the day made about the close. The May-July difference narrowed to around 23 cents at one time during the day and July gained 2 cents on the near-by future for the day. Apprehension of damage to the new crop, as the result of the continued ice pack over a wide area, helped to advance the July. Visible supply decreased 2,672,000 bushels for the week, and is 83,161,000 bushels, against 70,493,000 bushels last year, and shows a decrease of around 17,000,000 bushels from the recent high point.

All deliveries of corn sold at a new high on the crop, gaining 1⅝@2⅛ for the day, May touching 1.37⅛ and closed at that price, while July and September were 1.36⅞@1.37.

Commission houses with country connections were persistent buyers, and there was also buying by strong professional traders. Bearish cash news continues to be ignored. Visible supply increased 1,786,000 bushels and is 22,648,000 bushels, against 9,262,000 bushels last year.

Oats were the only grain on the list that failed to get into new ground for the season during today, as a result of pressure of cash grain. The finish was ⅛@⅜ higher. Visible supply increased 992,000 bushels for the week.

SICK WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Can Be Carried Comfortably Over The Critical Period by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound —Note Mrs. Headden's Case

Macon, Georgia. — "During the Change of Life I suffered with my whole right side and could not lie on my left side. I was in bed about two months and could not get up only as my son would lift me. After doctoring without relief a man who was rooming with us told my son that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured his mother at the Change of Life, so I began taking your medicine. After taking it for two weeks I could get out of my bed by myself. I am now 53 years old and in better health and stronger than ever in my life. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to many suffering women, young and old, and you may use my name anywhere as long as you please. I will be glad to answer any letters sent to me." — Mrs. F. B. Headden, 5 Holt Avenue, Macon, Georgia.

In a recent country-wide canvass of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, over 200,000 replies were received and 98 out of every 100 reported they had been benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

STUDIED BEAUTY OF SURROUNDINGS

California Mausoleum Company's Beautiful Structure is a Fitting "Chaste Temple"

The enduring qualities of reinforced concrete, granite and marble have been wonderfully utilized in this cathedral-like building erected in the Inglewood Cemetery by the California Mausoleum Company, and which is now being availed of by so many thoughtful people who would have their beloved dead fittingly laid away for perpetuity. Here there is nothing to mar and everything to enhance the dignity and solemnity of "mighty death." Coming into the fresh, sweet, wholesome air of this mausoleum, whether to witness the entombment of a body or to leave flowers at the crypt of a dear one who has passed on, one is impressed with the ordered taste of every detail of architecture and arrangement. How much better such a disposition of the dead than burial; and what a recognition of our sense of responsibility to those who have passed on—to provide for the proper and enduring care of their mortal garments. Yet the expense involved is little greater than decent burial arrangements. Telephone for the handsome booklet issued by the Company, MAin 1534, or call at the Offices, 206 Harris Bldg., 110 West 11th and arrange for a representative to show you the Mausoleum.—[Advertisement.

WORKMEN DIE IN FLOOR FALL

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Two men, falling through eight successively collapsing floorings of new four-inch cement with their wheelbarrows, were killed at Irving Hall, a ten-story apartment-house for women only, sponsored by Miss Anne Morgan and other notables, at 308-12 West Thirtieth street, still under construction.

A third man, caught by the crashing cement, timber and iron mesh work, was critically injured while working on the first floor and was taken to Bellevue.

The dead are:

August Da Andrae, Brooklyn, and a man as yet unidentified and known only as Tony. His body was taken to the morgue. The critically injured man was Morris Mandelbaum, a laborer.

CRASH NEAR LIFT VENT

The ten stories of the building had been completed. In the center of each floor a ten-foot square had been cut for a construction lift, and it was this part on each floor that was being filled in yesterday with cement-meshed flooring.

When the two victims who fell eight floors wheeled their barrows over the ten-foot square on the eighth floor the still wet cement collapsed and they, the flooring and barrows, filled with liquid cement, crashed through the newly filled holes on the other seven floors.

The roar as the men fell through caused about 100 workmen to believe the entirely building was in a state of collapse and they ran screaming to the street, bringing large crowds and police to the scene. The whole neighborhood was in turmoil.

DEAD UNDER DEBRIS

Chief Lamb of the fire department rescue squad soon got his men to dig for the victims. Da Andrae and the man known as Tony were found dead under the debris.

The District Attorney and homicide bureau immediately began an investigation, and Supt. Snyder was questioned among others. The subcontractor for the cement work was the Kellar Company.

Building Inspector Kuehnle, trying out the newly laid cement of the lift space on the ninth and tenth floors, which were unharmed, said they were strong enough to carry a man, but not wheelbarrows.

The High Cost of Crime

The cost of crime in the United States, according to recent surveys, amounts to $10,000,000,000 a year, which is above 15 per cent of the total national income and three times as much as is appropriated for the running expenses of the government. Approximately $10,000 is the yearly cost of every criminal and about one-fifth of the 1,000,000 lawbreakers in the country are in jail all the time. As each individual, theoretically, has a productive value of $1500 these 1,000,000 criminals represent a loss to the community of $1,500,000,000. The remainder of the staggering total is made up of cost of maintenance of courts, jails, police and detective departments and the estimated value of plunder taken by criminals.

Efforts are being made to popularize English low-priced automobiles in India, while competition there between English and French tires is keen.

SAYS RIVAL DOMINATED HER HOME

Wife of Screen Director Says "Other Woman" Was Made One of Family

Charges that John Frederick Caldwell, film director, installed the "other woman" in his home despite objections of his wife and beat his wife when she continued to remonstrate against such an arrangement, were contained in a divorce complaint filed against the director yesterday by Mrs. Cora Ella Caldwell.

The third person in the asserted domestic triangle named as corespondent is Muriel Reynolds Smith, with whom Caldwell is asserted by his wife to be living at the present time at 4061 Monroe avenue.

According to the complaint, Caldwell became acquainted with the corespondent on August 15, 1922, and has been intimately associated with her since. In the autumn of 1923, Mrs. Caldwell asserts, she left her husband for a month and returned when he promised to stay away from Miss Smith.

Caldwell is declared to have sent Miss Smith to Sacramento, where she remained until January, 1924. During her absence, Mrs. Caldwell declares, her husband and Miss Smith communicated with each other frequently by telegrams and long-distance telephone.

When Miss Smith returned here in January, 1924, the complaint asserts, Caldwell employed Miss Smith and insisted on her living in the Caldwell home, despite his wife's objections.

On one occasion, in September, 1924, Mrs. Caldwell complains, she and her husband and Miss Smith were at a party in Hollywood. Caldwell became intoxicated, his wife declares, and he and Miss Smith left the party. When Mrs. Caldwell returned home, she said, she found her husband and Miss Smith.

On the day Mrs. Caldwell left her husband, on December 22, last, she declares, her husband beat her. According to the complaint, the Caldwells were married in 1913 and have a son, twenty months of age.

DEPUTIES IN SEARCH FOR CAR BUYERS

Officers Go to Tia Juana on Quest for Asserted Confidence Men

Deputy sheriffs started for Tia Juana last night, bearing warrants for Frank Koehl and Frank Burns, asserted confidence men, who are declared to have obtained a score or more automobiles from dealers of Los Angeles and vicinity.

The two men, it is declared, deposited $40,000 in a local bank and posed as New York capitalists. They purchased all the cars, it is said, on promissory notes, using the bank as reference, then withdrew their deposit and fled. They are believed to have headed for Mexico.

The complaint against them charges them with larceny by trick and device.

MURDER TRIAL ON TODAY

Walter S. Daniels, accused of murder, is scheduled to go to trial today in Judge Reeve's court. The case had been set for yesterday, but was postponed because of the closing argument in another case. On October 31, 1924, the charges against Daniels recites, he killed Peter A. Zarilla.

DEL VALLE HITS M'CLURE STAND

State Engineer's Report on Owens Valley Scored

Public Service Head Asserts Official Not Impartial

Refutes Charge That Growth of District Retarded

BY R. F. DEL VALLE,
President, Public Service Commission

Raising his voice with those, who for the past year have been lashing the Public Service Commission because it will not consent to hand over $12,000,000 of the public's money for land it does not need and for "reparations" it does not owe, State Engineer W. F. McClure has made a report on the Owens Valley water situation, according to accounts printed in Los Angeles newspapers.

That report, so far as revealed through the newspaper publications of its effect, is simply a rehash of the statements of the leaders in the movement to extort millions of dollars from the city. It takes no account whatever of the city's side of the case.

Mr. McClure did not choose to supply the commission with a copy of the report before or since releasing it for publication. Consequently, the commission must be content with the somewhat detailed summary of the report which appeared in the press.

IMPARTIALITY DOUBTED

Mr. McClure, in his report, entirely loses sight of the role assigned to him of an impartial investigator and appears solely as a partisan spokesman for Owens Valley interests.

As a matter of fact, Mr. McClure was entirely disqualified to undertake the part of an unbiased judge regarding the controversies in Owens Valley. He is a former resident of that valley, having for several years, before becoming a State Engineer, lived in the valley and served as preacher in a church in Bishop when its population was aproximately 500.

Considering Mr. McClure's particular relation to Owens Valley it probably was too much to ask of him that he undertake to judge impartially between the people of that section and the people of Los Angeles. Where he offended was in pretending to be unprejudiced and using his State office to cloak his hostility to Los Angeles.

EVIDENCE LACKING

McClure is quoted in his report as asserting that "the people of Owens Valley have a real grievance against the city of Los Angeles." Like all the others who have made this charge, Mr. McClure fails to name a single specific instance of wrongdoing on the part of the Los Angeles Water Bureau or to cite a single case where a single valley resident has suffered loss or harm at the hands of the water bureau.

Throughout his report, Mr. McClure heartily supported those who have demanded that they be handed $12,000,000 of Los Angeles taxpayers' money and have emphasized this demand by first dynamiting and later seizing the Los Angeles Aqueduct and wasting the water which belonged to the citizens of this city. As a high State official, sworn to uphold the law, he actually condones these acts of lawlessness and gives his moral support to the perpetrators of these acts of violence.

In fact, we find this State official actually excusing the valley's exhibit of outlawry on the grounds that "the opening of the gates was a most popular move, if we are to gauge it by the number of valley

Newspaper Clipping Brings Mother to Daughter's Arms

A mother and daughter about to be reunited through a newspaper photograph after a separation of thirty years reads like the plot for a motion-picture rather than a page taken from everyday life. Such a reunion will take place shortly in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Florence Manchester Kerr will step from a transcontinental train into the waiting arms of Mrs. George Hetrick of 1800 LeMoyne street, mother and daughter looking into each other's eyes for the first time in three decades. And, a bit to one side, in all probability keenly interested in the reaction, will be A. B. Manchester, the former husband of one and father of the other.

Some motion-picture scenarist of note probably will step off the same train about the same time, with his lips all framed to say for the benefit of the reporters:

"It's great to get back to Los Angeles. These golden sunshine—ahem—frigid—well, what's this?"

The reporters will confide in him the crossing of love trails after thirty years of futile groping, and the scenarist will mutter an imprecation because it actually happened and therefore can't be used for a picture.

The story begins in a Chicago courtroom thirty years ago, when the present Mrs. Hetrick was a doll-playing girl of 5 years. She didn't realize what it was all about, but her mother and father had made a mistake that they've regretted ever since. The court, of course, couldn't foresee the future. There was the present before him for adjudication. He had listened attentively and had made his decision. "Divorce granted," he announced briefly.

As the forms of father and daughter faded in the doorway, hand in hand, two hearts went out of the life of the mother. At least, so she thought.

The years that followed brought the inevitable heartaches. From Chicago in every direction stretched the trail of a mother's yearning—ever seeking the responsive chord. And as often it was flung back, bleeding, baffled. In Los Angeles, the unreasoning heart of 5 was throbbing with the understanding that came with maturer years. From Los Angeles went another trail of longing, seeking in vain for the other.

The scene changes to a social gathering out Garvanza way, where two old fiddlers are swinging their bows with might and main and friends are making merry about them. A newspaper photographer, scientifically loafing, takes a picture of the two aging musicians.

CONFESSES EMBEZZLING THOUSANDS

Book-keeper of Glendale Admits $40,000 Fraud, Official Says

Defalcations totaling $40,000 over a period of time were declared by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hamner yesterday to have been confessed by H. B. Miller, book-keeper of the California Dental Supply Company of Glendale, who was held to answer by Justice Marchetti yesterday on a charge of forgery of a check.

According to Hamner, Miller declared he obtained large sums at various times by cashing checks signed by Roswell P. Annin, secretary-treasurer of the company, with the belief that the checks were to settle accounts made by the company. Miller is asserted to have confessed that he would fill in the checks to cash after obtaining Annin's signature.

The complaint on which Miller was held yesterday charges that he forged a check for $1620. The complaint was signed by E. G. Howard of 670 South Ardmore avenue, president of the company.

Miller is declared to have told Hamner that he presented the check to Annin for signature leaving the name of the payee blank. After Annin signed it, Miller is said to have confessed, the latter cashed it at a Los Angeles bank.

Miller is said to have told Hamner that he spent the money embezzled from the firm on his family.

After hearing the testimony, Justice Marchetti released Miller on his own recognizance. The fact that no bail was required, it is said, indicates that the company does not desire to prosecute Miller. Miller has been a trusted employee of the concern for some time, it was reported.

HARMONY IN PORTIA'S COURT

Legal Machinery Slips Into High Gear Without a Knock and Mrs. Magill at Former Post

Oiled with harmony, its figurative bearings expertly taken up and nary a knock in its legal cylinders, the Woman's Police Court machinery was slipped into high gear yesterday when Mrs. Alice Magill, formerly candidate for the Police Court vacancy, returned to her old position as deputy city prosecutor in Police Judge Bullock's court.

The return of Mrs. Magill was enhanced by the personal appearance in Mrs. Bullock's court of City Prosecutor Friedlander and by the largest calendar in the history of the caurt since Mrs. Bullock took the bench.

In spite of the fact that Judge Bullock suffered from a bad cold and that the dingy courtroom was packed to suffocation, everything was pleasant and everyone was happy—excepting the few bootleggers and others who drew jail sentences.

GLAD OF HER RETURN

Mrs. Bullock was the first one to express her pleasure at having Mrs. Magill back in her cout.

"You can say for me that I am very glad to see Mrs. Magill assigned to my court," she said. "Since her removal to the City Prosecutor's office, where she was given an important position, I have learned to esteem her work as very efficient and I feel that her

Practice Without License Laid to Pasadena Doctor; Hundred Believed to Have Paid Large Fees

Sun rays in the nude and radio rays went into the discard yesterday as a cure for paralysis, cancer, tuberculosis and other ailments in Pasadena with the arrest of one C. E. McCullough, employee of the Caldwell Health Home, on a charge of practicing medicine without a license.

McCullough's radio set is now in the possession of Chief Kelley of the Pasadena police; several of his patients who paid him sums ranging from $100 to $275 each are wondering what became of their money.

PATIENT IN NUDE

Special Agent Albert Carter of the State Medical Board signed the complaint against McCullough following an investigation of several weeks.

According to Carter, he visited the health home and in the rear found a patient reclining in the nude on a piece of carpet on the ground. To one arm and a leg were attached electrodes, which led to a radio set and aerial of the conventional type.

According to the patient he had been suffering from a variety of diseases and had employed McCul-

CONTRACTION OF HEART KEEPS BULLET ACCIDENTALLY FIRED FROM CAUSING MAN'S DEATH

The beat of his heart saved Walter W. Lamon, 58 years of age, from sudden death yesterday. Lamon accidentally fired a pistol bullet through his chest, which would have pierced his heart had the organ not been contracted at that instant, according to Police Surgeon Dunsmoor. But the heart was unharmed and Lamon has an excellent chance of recovery.

Lamon is a real estate man with offices at 6518 South Vermont avenue and lives at 1100 West Seventy-seventh street. He was cleaning his pistol in his office yesterday, he told the police, and must have had an unnoticed cartridge in the chamber.

He told Dr. Dunsmoor it was the second time he had been shot through the chest accidentally, the first time having been when he was 16 years of age.

PHONE RATE REHEARING REQUESTED

Briefs of Citizens' Body and City Protest Order for Increase

Briefs petitioning the State Railroad Commission to rescind its recent decision granting a rate increase to the Southern California Telephone Company and to rehear the case were filed yesterday by the city and the general citizens committee.

The briefs recite eight reasons why a hearing should be granted, and in substance are as follows:

Exception is taken to the order of the commission which will place all business telephones on a measured basis, beginning January 1, 1926, without optional flat rates as now exist.

The rates to apply on this measured service service are declared to be unreasonably high, and will bring in more revenue than the company needs.

Rates to apply temporarily on business telephones until the first of next year are said to be unreasonably high.

The establishment of abritrary measured service is attacked on the ground that it will not fairly provide for the needs of larger consumers in that no provision is made for a reduction in rates for calls in excess of 175.

Exception is taken to the order discontinuing two-party business lines after February 1, next, as it will force these subscribers to take measured service.

The rates on foreign exchange service are declared to be discriminatory and unreasonably high.

It is declared that the entire service of the telephone company should be put in one district.

The establishment of a separate exchange at Culver City is attacked on the ground that it was ordered on insufficient evidence, and without adequate study.

The commission will take the petions under consideration, and is expected to announce whether a rehearing of the case will be granted within the next few days.

Man is Accused as Extortionist; Pal Also Sought

Eddie Hannon, alias Eddie Shannon, was accused of two counts of extortion in a complaint issued yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty Clark. According to C. R. Phillips, Hannon and another man represented themselves as investigators from the District Attorney's office, told him they had found liquor in his house and had to have $500 to square it. Phillips said he paid $200 and later $100 and was to pay $200 more last Friday.

The money was to be passed, he said, at Seventh street and Broadway, where he was waiting in company with Deputy Sheriff Frank Dewar. Dewar attempted to arrest both men but Hannon's companion struck him in the nose and fled. A similar complaint has been issued against the fugitive.

BRETHREN, we are moved this morning to speak of "wise crackers" and "wise cracking."

THEATER CHATTER

If the Lord gave you any genuine direction, the quickest way to get rid of it is to dally with the oversophisticated . . . with those who maintain the pose of being hardened professionals, callous to all emotions.

When William Archer died a short time ago, the Manchester Guardian said that much of his success, in a great career of forty years as a dramatic critic, was due to the fact that he never went out between acts to scoff in the lobbys with the "intelligentsia." He stayed in his seat and read little books which he always carried.

And when he finally came to write a play himself, it was not an Ibsen drama, it was "The Green Goddess"—a rather naive melodrama about a young damsel rescued from the clutches of a wicked Indian rajah by an airplane. It made a fortune for him.

AUTHORS AMONG US

It is said that 70 per cent of the famous authors of the United States now live in Los Angeles. Probably the most valuable mail that leaves any postoffice is ours—freighted with manuscripts.

If they come to Los Angeles to live, they have picked out a good place; but they had better steer clear of that state of mind which is Hollywood.

THE POOH-POOHERS

It's all right to live in Hollywood—if you don't get clear under.

Hollywood has more charming homes than any other city in the world; also, alas, it has more wise crackers, pooh-poohers, ohohers, more people who laugh and say "My gawd, it's turrible!"

FROM GREENWICH VILLAGE

Most of them, by the way, don't live in Hollywood. Most of them are loiterers from Greenwich village. They walk around without any hats and telephone from the corner drug store.

Their cheap little sophistications are poison.

The author who comes to Hollywood to write had better find a beautiful bungalow on a side hill and occupy his mind with keeping the burr clover out of his front lawn and let the haunts of the intellectuals—the studio teas—the professional previews—the cafes where the talent gather—severely and religiously alone.

THE PRESS GALLERY

In short, Hollywood as a place to build a home is charming and inspiring. That Hollywood which is not a place but a state of mind is as destructive to ideas as a press gallery. And, as an abode of stupid, cheap, tawdry, callous cynicism, I will match any press gallery against the world.

A WOMAN WAR EAGLE

It is a sign of the times that Eleanor Franklyn Egan, who died in New York last Sunday, should have been one of the most successful of modern war correspondents.

The "war eagle" is a different character from the days of Archibald Forbes. In his day it was largely a matter of wild rides on horseback to get to a wire; of writing under fire; of physical courage and endurance.

Nowadays, it is mostly a matter of having "pull" enough to get to the theater of war.

One of the reasons why Mrs. Egan won her laurels was having a husband in the J. Pierpont Morgan Company — a magic name. Having always been able to get to "the front," she made the most of a level, sane, courageous mind. She realized that good journalism consists of the ability to absorb little intimate details.

To say that she was "an authority on the Near East" is stretching it pretty far. There are only two diplomats in Europe who even pretend to understand Balkan affairs.

ENROPEAN INCIDENTS

George I. Cochran, president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, furnished an illustration of how far the damaging publicity had spread when he told of meeting persons in Paris during his recent European tour who congratulated him on being away from Los Angeles, where they said they understood there was a pestilence with a death rate of 500 persons a day. "Others in London asked me if it wasn't terrible to have to live in a land where there was no water," said Cochran.

Lacy suggested that the situation was one which demanded the concerted effort of all the organizations having to do with publicity in regard to the city. "It has sometimes seemed to me that there is duplication of effort in the city's publicity," said Lacy. "In this instance I believe we should organize our activities so that whatever is spent for the advertising of the facts will yield a maximum of results."

MONEY PLEDGED

A number of the speakers referred to the amount they believed should be appropriated for advertising purposes, some of them suggesting $1,000,000 a year, at least, for a year or two. Several heads of important business organizations asserted that they were willing to double their former contributions for advertising purposes which have heretofore been used for carrying on the work of the All-Year Club.

The meeting adopted a resolution by Cochran which provided that the chairman be empowered to appoint a committee consisting of one member representing the Chamber of Commerce, one representing the All-Year Club, and three others, who will outline a method of procedure to be followed in the advertising campaign decided upon.

Among the speakers were Henry M. Robinson, president of the First National Bank; Marius De Brabant, passenger traffic manager of the Union Pacific; Harry Chandler, publisher of The Times; George G. Young, publisher of the Examiner; James Woods, vice-president of the Biltmore, and William May Garland, realty man.

Solomon Case Expected to go to Jury Some Time Today

The case of Frank Solomon, on trial in Superior Judge Reeve's court on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses, is expected to go to the jury today. Final arguments by the prosecution and defense attorneys were made before the jury late yesterday afternoon.

Solomon is asserted to have influenced a number of people to give him $86,000 to invest for them on assertions that he had obtained a large stock of paper and typewriter supplies, and needed the money to put the deal over. He is said to have promised large returns on the investment.

COMPANIES AT HARBOR UNDER FIRE

State Labor Department Asserts Men Worked More Than Eight Hours Daily

Provisions of a State law, apparently long forgotten, were invoked by the State Department of Labor yesterday against four concerns engaged in harbor work for the cities of Los Angeles and Long Beach and as a result the companies face the prospect of possibly being forced to pay heavy fines.

The four concerns are charged with forcing their workmen to labor more than eight hours on public improvements.

Officials of the Los Angeles Dredging Company were summoned to answer this charge yesterday. It is asserted that the company worked its men 340 days overtime and was therefore subject to a $10 fine for each day under the old law. City Manager Windham of Long Beach was requested by the department to withhold $3400 from the contract price and to place this in a separate fund to be paid as a fine should the company be found guilty of the charge.

Dr. Louis Bloch of the Labor Department also investigated the operations of the United Dredging Company, which is to appear before the department on Thursday; the Pan-Pacific Dredging Company, which will appear to answer the charges on Wednesday, and the San Francisco Bridge Company, which will answer to the charges at San Francisco.

Burglar Loses Appeal; Must Go to Prison

C. V. Clark's experiences in and out of jail during the past few months are not at an end after all. Although successfully avoiding San Quentin for a time, he must at last visit the State penitentiary to round out his experiences, it was determined yesterday in the decision of Presiding Justice Conrey and Justices Houser and Curtis of the Second District Court of Appeal, Division One, where Clark's petition for a writ of habeas corpus was denied.

Clark pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary. He was sentenced to San Quentin, but Superior Court stayed the execution and sent Clark to work in a county road camp for six months.

Clark walked away from the camp. He was arrested and convicted of escape. He appealed and the Apellate Court decided in his favor.

Clark's release, however, promptly was followed by his rearrest. The first order of Superior Court sentencing him to San Quentin was revived. Clark asked the Appellate court for a writ of habeas corpus.

The Appellate Court held that, as the Superior Court acted illegally in sending Clark to the road camp, the probationary period was void and, therefore, the original judgment will not be satisfied until Clark attends San Quentin.

DEL VALLE HITS M'CLURE STAND

PRESENT AT BARBECUE

Mr. McClure should be an authority on the number of valley residents who visited the Aqueduct spillway while it was in possession of the mob. In his capacity of impartial investigator, he was a complacent member of the valley party that celebrated their contempt for the law by staging a big barbecue at the spillway before the mob dispersed.

He even goes so far in this role of partisan apologist of mob lawlessness as to actually warn the city of Los Angeles not to attempt to prosecute the law breakers who dynamited the Aqueduct and later took forcible possession of an Aqueduct gate and wasted water belonging to this city.

In this connection, Mr. McClure, the State engineer, is quoted as making the following amazing statement: "If 100 or more men came to the presiding judge and confessed to participation in the act and they were all given prison sentences or fine, it is interesting to anticipate what might be the net result affecting the city.

"If harsh measures are resorted to by the city, then may we not anticipate a backwash of action of such character as would occasion some substantial inconvenience to the city."

"HARSH MEASURES"

Thus do we find a man who holds the office of State engineer inferentially arguing that acts of lawlessness and violence go unpunished and speculating that it "is interesting to anticipate" what other lawless acts might be committed if steps are taken to punish lawbreakers. It will be noted that Mr. McClure terms as "harsh measures" the regular processes for the punishment of law-breakers. He insists that the city of Los Angeles submit unresistingly to the destruction of its water system and by his position argues that the city should pay the $12,000,000 demanded on threat of further outrages unless the demand is complied with.

In another portion of his report, Dr. McClure is quoted as stating that the effect of the city's land purchase within the Owens Valley Irrigation District was "to seriously cripple the operation of the district." In the published accounts of his report he is not quoted as explaining specifically in what way the city's land purchases have crippled the operation of the district. The city is promptly paying all assessments levied by the district on lands owned by the city within the district.

DENIES HINDRANCE

If Mr. McClure means to infer that the city has in any way hindered the district in its distribution of water for irrigation on privately owned land or any other regular function, he is without the slightest support in the facts of the case. If he means that by its purchases the Public Service Commission has made it impossible for the district to function as a device to extort unreasonable land prices from the people of Los Angeles he is correct.

Mr. McClure should, as the State Engineer, be familiar with the numerous attempts made by the Public Service Commission during the past ten years to establish a satisfactory water policy in Owens Valley. He cannot help but be familiar with the city's valley policy as announced on October 14, 1924, since he has been supplied with copies of this resolution of policy. Yet, in the face of all this, he has the consummate effrontery to declare that: "The people of the valley, after some nineteen years of uncertainties as to the future, have been insistently and consistently urging the city to state frankly just what action the city proposes to take."

PERMANENT SUPPLY

Later in his report, he admits knowledge of the city's attempt to establish a permanent water policy in the valley, when he is quoted as saying that the city's plans, which provide for the permanent irrigation of 30,000 acres, would reduce the present irrigated acreage some 10,000 to 15,000 acres. In the published account of his report, however, Mr. McClure does not explain the obvious fact that under present conditions, Owens Valley has not, nor ever has had, a reliable and dependable water supply for its irrigated lands, but relies entirely upon the fluctuating flow of the river. Under the city's plan the city offers to establish such water conservation and development facilities as will assure the ranchers a 100 per cent irrigation supply for 30,000 acres throughout the irrigation season every year.

Time and again Mr. McClure in commenting on various phases of the Owens Valley water situation falls back on reporting what the valley residents "think" or "say" about this or that, but fails to include his own findings. In this connection the question naturally arises, did Mr. McClure go to the valley as a disinterested investigator to dig out the facts for himself or as a messenger to report what some one else was saying?

Mr. McClure was duty bound to be just and fair to the people of Owens Valley. It was also his duty to be just and fair to the people of Los Angeles, but in this he failed and failed miserably.

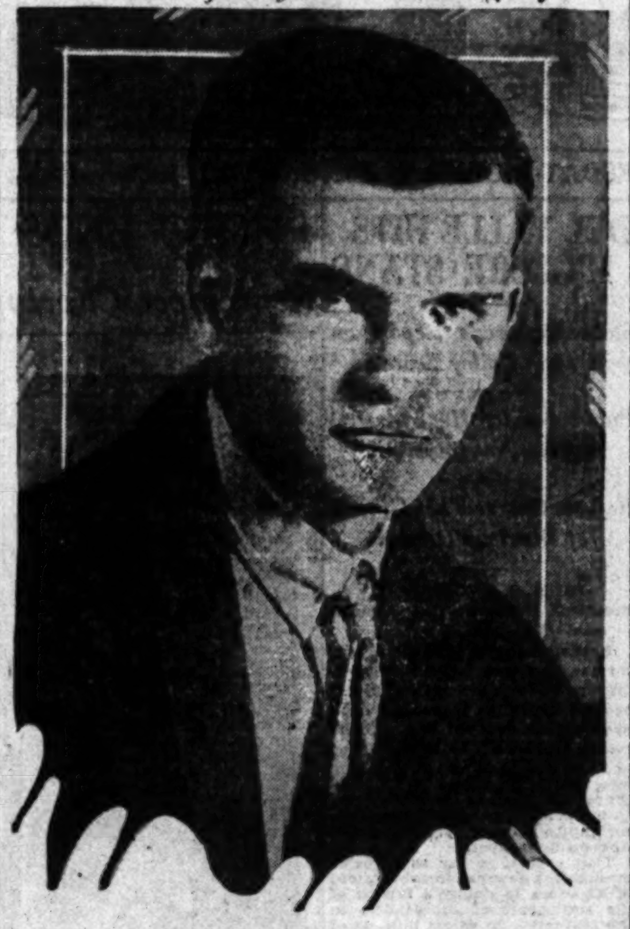
Victim of Mysterious Tragedy



August Timms

HUNT MAN IN HARBOR DEATH

Police Seek Suspect With Blackened Eyes Who Visited Scene of Timms Tragedy

A man, whose blackened eyes indicated he has been in a fight and who visited the spot where the body of August Timms was found Sunday night at San Pedro, was being sought by harbor police yesterday for questioning in what appears to be a baffling murder mystery.

The mystery man, according to reports to police, got out of an automobile at the foot of the embankment where Timms's body was found about three hours after the body had been removed.

"Has there been a killing?" he asked a bystander. Then he got into the car, in which another man was seated, and was driven rapidly away. The number of the car was obtained and police expect to locate both men within a short time.

That this man may have been in a fight with Timms on the top of the cliff is indicated, police say, by marks of a fight on his face. It is a theory that the man may not have known Timms was as seriously hurt as he was and returned to the scene to find that he had been killed.

The body of Timms, 25-year-old former ferryboat captain, and a member of a pioneer San Pedro family, was found lying at the foot of the twenty-foot cliff. The skull was fractured, the face was battered, his clothing was bloodstained and stains of blood were found on the top of the embankment.

An autopsy performed by Dr. Webb, assistant county autopsy surgeon, yesterday at Goodrich's mortuary, San Pedro, showed that Timms's skull had been fractured, but that the scalp had not been broken.

This discovery led Captain of Detectives Cline and Detective Lieutenant Farrell, who have assumed charge of the investigation, to express the belief that Timms fell or was pushed over the embankment and died from the effects of the fall. If Timms had been struck on the head with a blunt instrument, the officers believe, the scalp would have been broken.

But the accident theory of death is directly opposed by cuts and bruises on the face of the victim, which, it is pointed out, could not have been suffered in the fall.

Investigating officers yesterday were delving into Timms's recent activities in an effort to establish a possible motive for murder. They found that he had quit his job as captain of the Terminal Island Ferryboat Real Saturday night giving as his reason the fact that the night work disagreed with him. He was in good health, however, his sisters, Mrs. Egbert Lutz and Nora Timms, with whom he lived at 265 West Eighth street, San Pedro, told police.

One possible clew in the mystery was abandoned yesterday when police questioned a man whose name was found on a promissory note for $170 found in Timms's pocket. The man satisfied police the transaction was regular and that he had not seen Timms recently.

Officers yesterday found Timms's cap that he was wearing when last seen alive, but which was missing when the body was found. It was discovered about ten yards from where the body was found.

return will do much to advance the tasks we have to accomplish here."

Mr. Friedlander, who arrived in the woman's court early in the morning, shook hands with Judge Bullock and with Mrs. Magill.

If any words of edged variety had been exchanged between Mrs. Bullock and Mrs. Magill after Mrs. Bullock became judge, Mr. Friedlander knew little about it and cared less, he intimated.

"Mrs. Magill was asked to come into my office because I wanted her help in reorganizing our work for 1925 and especially help me in drawing up plans for the conduct of the woman's court," he said. "The move was a promotion for Mrs. Magill. Now that the work has been accomplished Mrs. Magill is back. Her ability and efficiency make her valuable here and I am glad to have her help make this court a complete success."

NOTHING BUT HARMONY

Mrs. Magill was too busy to do much talking.

"I am glad to be here, and I wanted to come back because I have given several years of my life to this work and felt that can be of service," was her comment.

She said she did not care to go into history.

"No time for these things in this court, look at our cases," she said pointing toward the mass of humanity crowded into the dark, dingy courtroom. Scores of police officers, asserted gamblers, bootleggers and the other types of violators who crowd the police courts were milling around, most of them seeking a little standing room.

All through the day—when little things went wrong, when the room got hot and stuffy and every one got tired—Mrs. Bullock and Mrs. Magill and Mrs. Nelson, the Public Defender of the woman's court, went about their duties as if there never was anything but harmony in "Portia Row," as the woman's court has been called.

RESTAURATEUR GIVEN WAGE-LAW JAIL TERM

His sentence was suspended on condition he settle with her, but she complained he had failed to do so and he was rearrested.

DOLLEY TO AID IN RUM CASE TRIAL

Stewart and Long Beach Men Face Court Today on Conspiracy Charge

Harold H. Dolley, formerly the agent in charge of the Federal prohibition force in Southern California, has been appointed a special deputy United States marshal by Attorney-General Stone in order that he may take part in the prosecution of Alexander B. Stewart and others charged with conspiracy to violate the Volstead Act. Trial of the case is scheduled to begin today before Federal Judge McCormick.

Stewart, who is president of the Curtis Packing Corporation of Long Beach, and seventeen others were arrested in March, 1923, by Long Beach police and Federal prohibition agents working under the direction of Dolley. The officers confiscated a fishing boat, two trucks, four automobiles and 166 cases of liquor when the arrests were made at a wharf where, it was said, the liquor was unloaded from the boat. Two indictments were returned, the second one naming Stewart and twelve others as defendants to the conspiracy charge.

Thirty witnesses subpoenaed by the government to testify at the trial include the arresting officers. Trial of the case probably will continue throughout the week, according to Mark Herron, assistant United States attorney. As a result of receipt of a "death threat" letter by Herron last Friday, precaution is being observed in preparation of the case although the incident was regarded as a joke.

Miss Cornelia Stewart, 2136 West Twenty-ninth Place, is entitled also to honorable mention:

Emma S. Coleman, 626 1-2 Arroyo Drive, suggests:

This, Miss Coleman writes, was a reed instrument of English origin preceding the cabinet organ.

That Santa Barbara thing still rankles and one diagram isn't, apparently, enough. The requirements of feminine rhyme do not seem well understood by the correspondent who writes, with split infinitive: "It is so apparent that you have lost whatever sense of rhythm and rhyme you had to begin with that it would seem wise to either abandon the limerick contest, or to engage someone who is competent to conduct it. 'Motor car borough' as a rhyme for Santa Barbara is so grotesque as to merit not even momentary consideration."

Once more: Car burra rhymes with Bar-burra. The Limerick Editor hasn't always been willing to fight for the award of the judges, but he'll stick up for that one till the last peak of the High Sierra sinks into the Pacific.

This from a correspondent at Upland is the spirit of most of the fans, thank goodness: "Am getting a great deal of fun out of the limericks even if I never win a prize."

While the patient was dressing, Carter examined the radio set and discovered that melted sealing wax had been poured over virtually all the interior to balk the possibility of an inquiring but unenlightened public gaining an inkling of the "secrets" of the box.

And when Carter sought to gain information from McCullough, it was discovered that the latter had disappeared. Search warrants and warrants of arrest were promptly sworn out and turned over to the Pasadena police last night, where it was reported that McCullough had been picked up.

A list of more than 100 persons whom it is believed were treated by McCullough and his appliance was found by Carter and the police. The majority of these are expected to be subpoenaed as witnesses in the forthcoming trial of the case.

Dental statistics show that four out of every five over 40—and thousands younger, too—are victims of dreaded Pyorrhea. Will you escape?

Pyorrhea is a disease of the gums—not the teeth

You may take good care of your teeth and still get Pyorrhea. Once Pyorrhea secures a firm hold, pus pockets form, gums become weak and flabby, the teeth loosen and fall out no matter how white and sound they may be.

Forhan's means healthy gums

It contains the right proportion of Forhan's Astringent, as used by the dental profession in treating Pyorrhea. Forhan's protects the gums, keeps them in a firm, healthy condition, and leaves the mouth sweet, fresh and wholesome. If you don't care to discontinue your regular tooth paste, at least brush your teeth and gums once a day with Forhan's.

Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

PLANS SECOND-STREET SUBWAY

Transportation Company Organized to Bore Tube Beneath Tunnel; Moveable Platforms Equipped With Seats Are Proposed; City Utilities Board Favors Scheme

All aboard for the Second-street subway!

While waiting for work to start on the large subways in the downtown section, the Tunnel Transportation Company has been organized to build a subtunnel under the Second-street tunnel and operate in it a movable platform on which there will be seats. Passengers will be carried between the Hill-street station of the young subway and Figueroa street.

The project has been approved by the Board of Public Utilities and yesterday afternoon the City Council's Public Utilities Committee agreed to recommend that a franchise for the subtunnel subway be advertised for sale. If the Council adopts the committee report, the franchise will be bought by the Tunnel Transportation Company of which W. C. Hodges, Sr., is general manager and F. A. Lorentz is engineer. The latter said that the tunnel will be completed within sixty days after the city's permission is given to start work and said that the subtunnel construction will not interfere with the use of the Second-street tunnel.

The company plans to spend $250,000 if granted the franchise, as it must build the tunnel at its own expense and install its moving cars as well as build a sidewalk. The franchise will provide that the maximum fare to be charged for riding through the subtunnel shall be two rides for 5 cents. City Engineer Van Norman said that he approved of the project and hoped that if it were a success that one would be built under the Third-street tunnel so that the sidewalks there could be removed and the needed additional roadway space secured.

PERMIT ISSUED FOR CATHOLIC EDIFICE

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 19.—A permit has been issued to the amount of $165,000 for the erection of a new Catholic church at 707 California avenue. The permit was granted the Roman Catholic bishop of Los Angeles and San Diego. It was stated this morning that a Los Angeles construction company would start work on the edifice immediately.

PLAY WAS TOO ROUGH

Judge Agrees With Wife in Plea for Divorce

Gene E. Fisher said he was only playing, but it was pretty rough play, according to his sister-in-law, who appeared as a witness before Judge Summerfield yesterday in the hearing of the divorce suit of Mrs. Violet Simpson Fisher. The court agreed and awarded Mrs. Fisher a decree. "I heard an awful racket in their apartment," the witness related. "I went in and there he was, beating the life out of her. I asked what was up, and he said he was just playing. It certainly was rough play." Mrs. Fisher thought so, too, and sued on a cruelty charge.

Estate Manager for Armour Kin Pays Booze Fine

Elmer Awl, manager of the El Mirador estate belonging to John J. Mitchell at Santa Barbara, was fined $350 yesterday by Federal Judge Bledsoe on a charge of violating the Volstead Act. Awl withdrew a plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty after Judge Bledsoe ruled against a motion to dismiss the charge on the grounds that a search warrant used by Federal prohibition officers did not conform to the Federal law.

The court ordered the destruction of $3500 worth of whisky seized at the Mitchell home when Awl was arrested. According to the officers who arrested Awl, the seized liquor was found in a vault where Awl was storing it at the time of the arrest. The arrest and seizure were made on a search warrant naming an express office through which the liquor, shipped from Chicago, was delivered. The liquor was consigned to Mitchell, a son-in-law of J. Ogden Armour.

URGES SURVEY FUND

Council Committee Favors Sharing Printing Costs

The City Council's Finance Committee yesterday afternoon recommended an appropriation of $3818 to pay one-half of the cost of printing 3000 copies of the city-county transportation and rapid transit survey now being completed by Kelker, De Leuw & Co. for the two governments. The appropriation was conditional upon the county's paying an equal sum, as the cost of printing the report will be $7637. The company was employed by the city and county jointly to make the survey at an expense of $40,000, to be divided equally between the two governments. The recommendations will be used by the city and county to secure subways, elevated trains, and street car and motor bus line extensions to serve the growing population for years to come.

CRASH CASE MAN UP

Driver is Charged With Driving While Intoxicated

The preliminary hearing of George Benz, charged with driving while intoxicated on the 4th inst., when his car injured seven women near Angelus Temple, was started late yesterday before Justice Blake and was continued to the 21st inst. Dr. Charles Sebastian of Receiving Hospital staff, testified he found evidence of Benz's drinking when he was brought in by the police.

A bottle of liquor, said to have been found on the prisoner's person, was introduced in evidence. Roy Wilson and Ralph Davis, eyewitnesses, testified Benz drove on Glendale Boulevard at a high rate of speed and plunged into the crowd. The case is being prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ey.

RAIL BOARD CONFERS ON DEPOT SITE

Suggested Locations for Union Terminal Will be Inspected Next Week

The committee appointed by the Mayor to attempt a settlement of the Union Terminal controversy had its second meeting yesterday with the State Railroad Commission, and arranged an inspection of the various sites suggested for the terminal, for a week from today.

The session was behind closed doors, but it was said a history of the Plaza Terminal case from its inception in 1915 was reviewed. The construction of the terminal was ordered by the State Railroad Commission, but the railroads took an appeal and the United States Supreme Court decided finally that it was beyond the power of the commission to make such an order. The Interstate Commerce Commission now has the matter of ordering construction of the terminal under consideration.

The Mayor recently named a committee consisting of William G. McAdoo, chairman, Nathan Newby and Joseph Scott to take the matter up with the railroad companies and see if the terminal could not be obtained by negotiation.

The Plaza site has been urged on account of its convenience, its nearness to the geographical center, and the fact that many dangerous grade crossings would be eliminated by it.

The members of the Railroad Commission who met with the committee yesterday were Commissioners Brundige, Squires and Decoto.

Trial Set for Man Who Held Cryer Captive

B. J. Critchlow, who, it is charged, threatened the life of Mayor Cryer and held him prisoner in his own home for several hours at the point of a revolver, was arraigned yesterday before Judge Reeve. His time for plea was set over to Thursday. Critchlow, who says he is a chiropractor, is charged with assault with intent to commit a felony, with attempted robbery and with attempted extortion of $500 from Mayor Cryer.

It is expected Critchlow will plead guilty to one of the charges and ask for probation and that the others will be dropped.

NOT UP TO MARK

The Missouri girl who shot the wrong man is a living libel on her own fair State.

ANOTHER PUZZLE

Cutting the city up into fifteen wards under the provisions of the new city charter is going to be reminiscent of the good old fifteen puzzle that provoked another generation. Some of the politicians may not find a parlor to play in.

GUNS IN ACTION

The big guns in the Democratic wing at the Capitol are firing away at the President and his expressed opposition to the elevation of the guns of the Navy. This mix-up of heavy artillery, however, must not be mistaken for an affair which could be properly turned over to the League of Nations for disposal. It is purely a case of home brew.

AFTER COLUMBUS

The Duke of Alba, who is said to have a strain of Columbus in his veins, tells his Spanish folks that his ancestor certainly did a fine job in discovering the new world. Now that the Duke has looked a lot of the discovery over, including Los Angeles, he concedes that October 12 was Columbus's big day. They feel the same way about it in Columbus, O.

LADIES FIRST

Mrs. Nellie Ross, the new Governess of Wyoming, occupied nearly an hour in delivering her first message to the Wyoming Assembly and covered as much territory as any man might do. It does seem funny that States like Texas and Wyoming should have petticoat government, but they have it and are at least pretending that they like it. The women are in the majority in Massachusetts, why don't they foreclose on that commonwealth?

THE LORD KNOWS

Meetings of the Chicago City Council are now opened regularly with prayer. Some of the Aldermen heard that the United States Senate always began its sessions that way and believed themselves entitled to the same formula. Most folk are ready to concede that a Chicago Alderman is highly in need of all the prayers he can get, but nobody supposed he would start the program of devotion himself. In the old days the Council was usually opened with jacks or better.

MAKING THE MUNN

Wayne Munn, the big Nebraska collegian, who has just dispossessed Strangler Lewis of the world's wrestling championship, must be an all-'round mental athlete as well as a physical one. Likewise he can practice as well as preach. He studied medicine three years and recently he has filled a pulpit on two or three occasions as understudy for the minister. He has also been a clown in a circus and barker for a street show. In an athletic way he has been a football player and prize fighter before taking up the wrestling game. He might have made a champion with the gloves if he had stuck to it. He stands at six feet six and weighs 240 pounds—without an ounce of fat.

CALL FOR PUNISHMENT

It is a noble idea to inflict stiff punishment on the pestiferous bootlegger, but there may be some question about the correctness of a special enactment which would require all judges to inflict both fine and imprisonment upon all offenders against the Volstead Act. This is now before Congress and it is said that the House Judiciary Committee will recommend its adoption. It would seem to be out of tune with our policy and practice to set up one particular misdemeanor for exceptional treatment. The judges have considerable power and authority now. To compel them to apply a definite punishment is not exactly in accordance with our conception of judicial responsibility. Purveyors of booze are not the only offenders against the State.

THE KRAUT HABIT

Report that Paavo Nurmi, the flying Finn, did much of his training on garlic and sauerkraut does not surprise some other athletes. It is fairly-well known that sauerkraut pie is one of the choicest dainties regularly absorbed by Jack Dempsey. This savory dish is declared to be exceptionally rich in vitamines. Those who are famishing for vitamines may take it to their bosoms—or tummies—with unction and enthusiasm. It is said that the champion will take unto himself a wife and fight no more—for money—but whatever happens he is expected to retain his devotion to sauerkraut pie. This delicacy is now served a la mode in numerous restaurants in the big cities. In St. Louis it threatens to dispossess schmierkase of its gastronomic hold. The pie is made with a thick rich crust for both top and bottom. It is filled to the full with sparkling kraut over which a quantity of bacon grease is poured. The crust is covered with the beaten yolks of eggs and the whole confection is then placed in a nice hot oven and baked till it pops. It comes to the table with its rich aroma intact. Now athletes are expected to get their training in fighting for more pie.

GERMAN SOCIALISTS REPUDIATED

For the first time since the German republic was established a government has been organized without the participation of the Socialistic, Communistic and radical elements in the Reichstag. Hans Luther, the new Chancellor, is a Conservative, and his government is supported by the conservative groups in the German Parliament.

Socialism has apparently had its day in the German republic. The Socialist group, composed of two wings of the Socialist party, is still the strongest in the Reichstag; but its once-powerful majority has dwindled to a minority that represents but one-fourth the lower house. The backbone of the new government is the Nationalist party. This group has grown from but a few seats five years ago to the second strongest party in the German chamber; and it is supported by other groups that are equally opposed to the application of Marxian principles to the government of the German people.

At the time of the collapse in Germany in 1918 the country possessed but two parties, the Monarchists and the Socialists. When the monarchy fell the government gravitated to the Socialist group; and the sorry experiences of Germany during the last six years present irrefutable evidence of the sorry mess the Socialists made of things.

According to German observers, the example of the United States exercised a strong influence on the German people. They saw this country prosperous and contented under a form of government that the Socialists denounced. They saw a country where the workers lived by production, in place of trying to live by spoliation, and they reached the conclusion that the German workers could do likewise.

Further than this, they found that there had been some virtue in the industrial policy of the former monarchist government. The first impulse in 1918 was to discard all that even savored of monarchism. They rejected the industrial policy of the old government, along with the scepter. Now they have become convinced that it was a wise industrial policy which enabled the old monarchy to live. They have discarded what was evil in the old governmental forms and have kept that which was good.

It is but natural that the Socialist leaders should raise the hue and cry that the new Conservative government is but paving the way for a return of the monarchy. But the German people have been deceived too often by the Socialists to give much credence to their charges.

From this distance it looks as though the German government is more firmly established than at any other time since the republic was formed. The German people are industrious and frugal by nature; but their industry and frugality benefited them little under the uneconomic and wasteful policies of the Socialist governments. The voluntary demonitization of the German mark was a blunder that only those filled with Socialistic delusions could have committed. A country that destroys its own wealth is about as logical as a man who would burn his own dwelling because a neighbor held a mortgage on it.

The new Chancellor is not a party man in the partisan sense of the term. He has never taken active part in party squabbles. He is an economist and a financial expert, a business man rather than a politician. And Germany is inclined to indorse the Republican slogan in this country, "More business in government and less government in business."

America is interested industrially and economically in the early restoration of Germany; for the German markets are necessary to consume a part of the surplus of our industries. When Germany is sick economically Europe is sick. The Germans are great industrialists, but during the last quarter of a century politics has well nigh ruined them. Let the Germans once get the idea of representative government fixed in their minds and they will find a way to keep politics from ruining their industry. The Marxian theories are fundamentally false, and every government that has tried to apply them has brought a period of terrible depression upon the people it sought to govern. Freed from this incubus, the reconstruction of Germany should make substantial progress.

BALDWIN'S BIG JOB

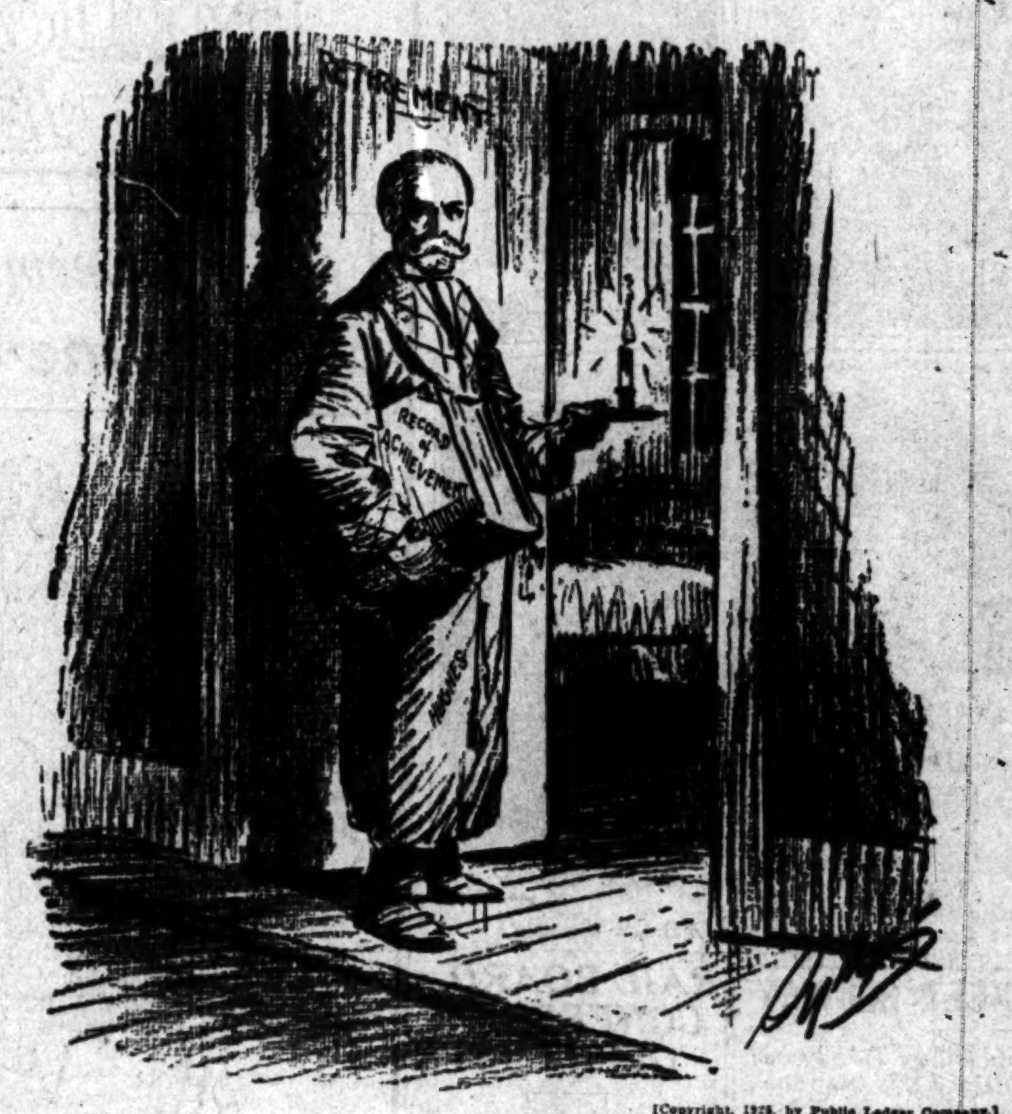
Stanley Baldwin, the new British Premier, is tackling a big job. Two of the outstanding features of it are the curbing of the power of trade-unionism and the control of food prices. Labor unions, though repudiated by the defeat of MacDonald, still have a strangle hold upon Britain. The production of cheap goods in competition with those of Germany, France and Italy—a factor which helped England to maintain her commercial supremacy in Europe before the war—is no longer possible under existing conditions. "There is hardly an article," writes an economic expert in a leading London journal, "which we used to export in exchange for food that is not now manufactured more cheaply in some other country than in England." And he goes on to say in italics that "if we cannot meet these nations in price we will not get back our world trade and we will starve."

That trade-unionism in England is cutting its own throat is now more apparent than at any other time since the war. Instead of co-operating with their employers to meet the present contingency and straining after the utmost possible quantity and cheapness of production, they have evinced a more shirking, listless and irresponsible spirit during the past few years than ever before.

The biggest part of Baldwin's job is going to be the education of union labor up to the point where it will see that it is its own greatest enemy. Profiteering in food is complained of in England. Bread, meat and vegetables, as well as other foodstuffs, are reported to be 80 per cent higher than they were in 1913, and prices are steadily rising. A bill to control food prices is on the Baldwin program and is supported by the new Cabinet; but it is admitted that without an increased quantity of manufactures going out in British ships to foreign ports and returning with great cargoes of food this measure will prove futile.

This increase can only be realized by the putting forth of British man power to the fullest extent of its capacity, and it remains to be seen whether or not Baldwin can succeed in getting out this man power. He is now rising above party and showing that he is determined to give England a real business administration. His appointments are made with fine discrimination. He has shown much sympathy with workingmen, and his followers say that he polled about as many of their votes as were received by the Labor party. Perhaps through that sympathy he can stir the trade unions to meet the present emergency. But if they do not meet it there soon will be a still stronger influence at work upon them—the menace of starvation.

A Well-Earned Rest



[Copyright, 1925, by Public Ledger Company.]

HOUSEHOLD DESPOTISM

A Los Angeles woman is suing for divorce on the ground that her husband made her drink.

There is an old saying that one can lead a horse to water, but cannot make it drink. But wives, it appears, are more tractable. A horse will refuse to drink merely because it doesn't want to. True, the horses never have promised to love, honor and obey, as most wives do. Still, it is cheering to mere man to learn that, in spite of the rumors, doubtless unfounded, which are going around to the effect that wives are getting less and less willing to explicitly follow the directions of the "heads of the houses," wives still are far more submissive than horses, not to mention motor cars. Empires may fall and kingdoms sway, but still the despotism of the home survives.

It would be interesting to know what would have happened if that same husband had ordered his wife never to powder her nose or not to bob her hair.

It will appear to many a husband whose wife persisted in bobbing, despite what he thought were his wishes, until his mind was deftly changed for him, that any woman who was dead set against drinking could have found some way out of the difficulty without appealing to the courts. But even such will not dare to argue that all wives—or all husbands, for that matter—have horse sense.

Yes, this case makes it plain that, even in this liberated age, household despotism still exists—even though, in a good many cases, it is in reverse.

MORAL BLIZZARDS

A noted English educator, returning home from a tour of inspection of American colleges, informed a London audience that ours is "a land of moral and spiritual blizzards."

That is an arresting expression. At first blush it makes one wonder if the investigator got into any of those fraternity house games of freezeout. Reading on, however, one notes that the speaker envied American colleges because each seemed to have its private group of well-trained millionaires and that he modified his comment about blizzards by indicating that largely they have to do with idealism.

Praise, evidently, yet it makes one ponder.

Blizzards generally are evanescent things—things which pass in the night, or the week, at worst. They're usually pretty windy. They have a decidedly chilling effect. The Englishman certainly might have flattered us a little more unreservedly by a slightly different simile. We cannot resist a faint suspicion that, while he compliments us, he is spoofing us a little, up his sleeve.

But one thing there is no doubt about. His envy of our colleges because of their well-trained millionaires is sincere and hearty enough for anyone. Our foreign critics have a lot to say about money-mad America, but careful observation leads one to the conclusion that they have a mighty and yearning respect for the money.

ONE-BRAIN-POWER PUZZLES

The wise guy says that it should be made a point of honor among cross-word puzzle fiends to reach their solutions under their own power. A puzzle ceases to be a puzzle when the whole neighborhood is enlisted in its solution. What has the poor little puzzle done that the whole family should go after it at once? Also why should mother disturb the old man at his supper by demanding the name of a four-letter word used by the Peruvian priests in making their morning prayer to the sun? Let it be understood that these puzzles are for single consumption and not to be inflicted on the whole family. There are enough to go 'round, anyhow.

Just About It
By James J. Montague

PROGRESS

Certain theatrical managers are seeking a way to regulate the radio so that it can be kept from possible interference with their business.

When steamships first began to ply
The rolling and rampaging main,
The clipper skipper cast his eye
Upon them with a deep disdain.
"Perhaps they'll last a little while,"
Said he, "and get some trade, no doubt,
But if they don't go out o' style,
We'll find a way to beat 'em out."

When the first spidery telegraph,
From slender pole to pole was spun,
The pony rider with a laugh
Observed: "Well now we'll see some fun.
If they run letters faster'n us
—And if they can it's mighty queer—
We just will raise a gosh-darned fuss,
And have the gov'ment interfere."

When the first locomotive sped
Across the prairies of the West,
The sage-brush sages grinned and said:
"The old time stages is the best.
We'll keep them engines in their place,
For we ain't going to stand no loss,
We'll see that they don't set a pace
That's any faster than a hoss."

The steamship still plies o'er the deep,
The telegraph threads through the plain,
And over the mountains grim and steep
Still speeds the puffing railroad train.
Draw any moral that you choose,
We're sure it will be sane and sound,
For if you keep up with the news
You know the world is going 'round.

THE KNOCKER

The knocker is overloquacious; but he is not always one who has something to say. His large blocks of talk are not necessarily great chunks of wisdom.

He is frequently one who wants something and wants it badly. He has an ax to grind.

He who hammers the rich generally has the acquisitive faculty overdeveloped in his cranium. He wants what the rich man has, but seems to lack the genius to make it. It is on what he calls his mind!

The social reformer is not always interested in the masses; he may be obsessed by himself. One of the social writers of the day is so unsocial that he was asked by his friends to leave town so he could be elected.

More than one scamp, who orates with seraphic smile in public, is a cross-cut saw in private. Another one who is interested in the submerged—in the magazines—is a kid glove in action. The sociologist may be a bug.

Feed the bear and it will stop growling. He who hammers on the nut may be after the kernel.

The knocker is one who is on the outside trying to break in!

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] ing to letter from Mr. William H. Fuller in today's Times my article published by The Times on January 1, I beg to

First. That Theodore Roosevelt, in a signed article in the of January 6, 1912, advocated the recall of judges.

Second. During the campaign that year, in Arizona, while making a speech he said that the States of Arizona and California were especially States where recall of judges and judicial decisions should prevail.

Third. A short time afterward he was in San Francisco and a complimentary banquet was tendered him to which all of the members of the Supreme Court were invited. Every last man of them declined to attend. The reason therefor (his Arizona speech) leaked out and Roosevelt attempted to smooth the matter over in a subsequent publication, but did it very lamely.

Fourth. America, at present, enjoys a Republican form of government, except where it has been scarred and deformed by the direct primary, the initiative, the referendum and the recall. The Constitution of the United States provides for the impeachment of Federal judges, and the constitutions of the States provide for like impeachment of State judges. To enact provisions for either the recall of judges or of judicial decisions, which amounts to the same thing, by a popular vote, subverts the Constitution and to that extent converts the government from a republic to a pure democracy. Thomas Jefferson caused sundry acts to be introduced in Congress, none of which, however, passed, all of which would, in effect, have provided for the recall of Federal judges. Had the recall been effective in John Marshall's time that eminent jurist would have been ousted from office by the vote of the people, whose minds were temporarily inflamed, on at least three different occasions.

Lastly, the eulogy of a dead politician, by surviving politicians, notwithstanding the faults or foibles of the decedent, is not uncommon in America. J. A. GRAVES.

Speaks for Italy

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I will greatly appreciate it if you will kindly publish in your paper the following:

In one of the local morning papers this morning appeared an article dated from the Swiss-Italian frontier, pretending to be a faithful outlook on the present situation in Italy that a clever correspondent was sending from a foreign country to escape the severe Italian censorship.

In the first place, this article is entirely contradictory with what was quite recently published in the same newspaper by Mrs. William Randolph Hearst upon her return to this country after a trip throughout Italy.

In order to give evidence of his report the correspondent resorts to an incident occurring in December, 1922, and this is in itself enough to prove that he was unable to find a recent proof to support his statements about facts that have been magnified 10,000 times in order to make his correspondence sensational enough to justify a big headliner on the front page of the syndicated papers for which he writes.

The real truth is that, in spite of the alarm spread at the bourse in Berlin (Germany) a few days ago for speculation purposes, absolutely nothing has happened in Italy to justify such exaggerated news as that published this morning.

The 1922 incident mentioned in said article seems to be correct, with the exception that, instead of twenty-four people, only two were murdered, so that really it was an incident of much less importance than the well-known riot that happened in Herrin, Ill., at the time of the last miners' strike.

E. PIANO,
Italian Vice-Consul.

The Owens Valley

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It would be well for the city of Los Angeles to send a commission of men who understand farming and market conditions in Owens Valley to Bishop in regard to the city furnishing water for 30,000 acres of land. Three years ago a party of us went up there with the purpose of investing in farm land. Half of those who invested are now back. On one of the best ranches of the valley a man was paying a rental of $13.31 per acre and 30 cents per acre per year for water and could not make a go of it.

Now what is Los Angeles going to charge for water providing the city puts 30,000 acres under a modern irrigation system? The only thing that I can see that would pay is something that involves a finished product—considering present transportation and market conditions, the beet sugar industry, for instance. A. F. EADS.

Efficiency Pays

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times: At last we have a City Engineer who is an exponent of efficiency. On Rossmore and many other streets, where new paving developed cracks, he is filling these cracks with asphalt, making the pavement waterproof and preventing what otherwise would have been rapid deterioration. In this manner he has already saved the property owners many thousands of dollars. Also it is pleasing to note the character of the repair and resurfacing jobs. Hollywood Boulevard, for instance, is being resurfaced as such work should be done. Until late last fall the street railway seemed to be the only ones able to do a first-class job of repairing or resurfacing, but now we have some real work being done by the city. As a taxpayer I say give this man Van Norman all he asks, for we now know the money will be well and properly expended.
FRANK P. CLARKSON.

ISLAND ASYLUM IS URGED

Peace Officers' Association to Consider State Hospital for Criminally Insane

Four matters of major importance will be brought before lawyers, legislators and law-inforcement agencies when the Peace Officers' Association of California convenes in its second session at the office of Dist.-Atty. Asa Keyes tomorrow afternoon. National legislation to prevent migration of criminals from one State to another, a State hospital for the criminally insane to be constructed on San Clemente Island, a uniform State pension law for all peace officers and State-wide reports on injuries will be advocated.

In addition to the subjects a resolution will be introduced aiming at an amendment of the organization's constitution so that the executive heads of municipal and county legal departments engaged in the apprehension or prosecution of criminals may become members.

Chief of Police R. Lee Heath, in espousing the cause of a uniform pension law, will present statistics to prove its benefits and also to show that under the system he will propose an actual saving of money will be effected for the taxpayers.

Dr. Paul E. Bowers, criminologist and neuropsychiatrist, will speak from personal experience in advocating the establishment of the San Clemente Hospital for criminally insane, as he formerly was head of the Indiana State penitentiary at Michigan City. The island site for the institution, he believes, is more feasible because it nullifies the menace of escaped irresponsibles with criminal tendencies. Such a natural fortress also would be cheaper on the taxpayers, he will argue, because it will not be necessary to construct high walls and maintain numerous patrols.

Chief of Detectives George K. Home has prepared a plan by which he will maintain that the Federal government can effectually reduced criminal activity by laws conforming largely to the English system of requiring citizens to present means of identification when they move from one community to another. In this way he hopes to reduce largely the movement of criminals.

All druggists and doctors will be forced by law to report cases of injury they are asked to treat, under a plan to be submitted to the meeting by Dist.-Atty. Keyes.

The resolution calling for a widening of the membership bars in the Peace Officers' Association is to be introduced by City Prosecutor J. M. Friedlander.

Among those who will attend are Chief Heath, Sheriff Traeger, Undersheriff Eugene Biscailuz, Chief of Police Yancy of Long Beach, Dist.-Atty. Keyes, Dep. Dist.-Attys. Buron Fitts and Harold Davis, Detective Chief Home, Sheriff Sam Jernigan of Orange county, Chief Charles H. Kelley of Pasadena, Chief James Patrick of San Diego, Sheriff C. A. Sweeter of Riverside county, Sheriff Walter Shay of San Bernardino county, Sheriff James Ross of Santa Barbara county, Sheriff Charles I. Taylor of San Luis Obispo county, Chief C. E. Webb of Santa Monica, Sheriff C. L. Gillette of Imperial county, Sheriff R. E. Clark of Ventura county and Chief M. C. Stedman of Anaheim.

DANCE-HALL BANDIT CONVICTED BY JURY

PRISONER ASSERTED TO HAVE CAUSED NEAR RIOT IN BALLROOM

Frank Kyle, asserted to have caused a near riot at a dance at Flower Auditorium last October by firing several shots and holding up several persons in the hall, was convicted of a charge of first-degree robbery by a jury in Judge Hahn's court yesterday. Kyle will be sentenced Friday.

According to Dep. Dist.-Attys. Vobayda and Orme, Kyle entered the dance hall where a masquerade dance was in progress and fired two shots at the ceiling. Owing to the previous announcement by the entertainment committee that the dancers would be furnished "thrills," a majority took it as a joke until Kyle held up two of the entertainment committeemen. He was captured and held for police, it was testified, by the committeemen.

Several hundred persons were at the dance, which was given by the Bond of Honor Society.

COURT RULES AGAINST CHILDREN'S WILL SUIT

The will of Barbara Sarah James will stand, Judge Walton J. Wood ruled yesterday in granting a nonsuit of the contest brought by three children who were left none of her $26,000 estate. The contesting children contended she was incompetent, but the court held the evidence of this was insufficient. Two other children and Charles Lee James, surviving husband, were left the entire estate.

EXTORTION CHARGED TO POLICE OFFICERS

J. F. Ford and V. . McGregor, Los Angeles policemen, were accused of extortion in a complaint issued yesterday by Dep. Dist. Atty. Hamner. It is charged they threatened to arrest Rafael Cruz on the 13th inst., for possession of a blackjack, and let him go after Cruz had paid them $10.

FINDS GIRLS OF AMERICA LOOK ALIKE

Irish Peer's Daughter, on Visit Here, Asserts They Are All Standardized

Girls in the United States are standardized, at least so far as outward appearances go, in the opinion of Lady Rosamund Gallwey-Robertson, daughter of the Earl of Carrick, prominent Irish peer.

Lady Rosamund did her bit in the late war by acting as an inspector of artillery. Later she drove an ambulance. She is here on a vacation, arriving at the harbor by boat through the Canal.

"What do you mean, standardized?" she was asked.

"Just that; they all look alike; you can't tell the shopgirl from the society girl; they dress alike, paint alike, bob their hair the same way, and there is little difference in their conversation," she declared.

The Irish peeress doesn't believe women should work after they are married.

"I am surprised at the number of married women earning wages in this country," she said. "I think it's bad for the home, destroys the ideals that from time immemorial have emanated from the home. I don't think there's any harm in working before marriage. I've worked all my life."

She found fault, too, with the amount of paint used by American women. "Powder? Yes, a reasonable amount, but not so much rouge, and none of the lipstick," she said. "It's shocking taste and is one of the things I have in mind when I say the girls here are standardized—all reduced to a common level."

Lady Gallwey-Robertson, who is at the Alexandria, will resume her journey after a brief visit, going from here to San Francisco and Seattle. This is her first visit here and she expressed her appreciation of Los Angeles, though she remarked that the approach to the city from the harbor creates a bad impression and suggested that this section should be beautified.

Three Tried to Place Guilt in House Burning

Just who burned down a house at 343 West One Hundred and Tenth street, and why, is scheduled to be revealed in Superior Judge Crail's court, where Clarence B. Walden, Edna F. Walden, his wife, and Martin Colson, went on trial yesterday on charges of arson.

The house in which the Waldens live was burned down on June 11, last, and a few days later Colson, a plumber, confessed to county fire officials that he had set it afire in the hopes that when Walden was reduced to a state of poverty, Mrs. Walden would accept Colson's attentions.

After an investigation, however, the fire officials also caused the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Walden.

The house burned was said to have been the property of Mrs. Sophie Gwertz, who is represented by attorneys at the trial, and insurance on the place was said to have been made out to her.

Yesterday six witnesses were put on the stand by the prosecution, but only in an attempt to establish the arson charge.

LAND CONDEMNATION FOR PARK IS ORDERED

The condemnation for park purposes of three acres of land near Bronson and Talmadge streets in the Hollywood district was ordered yesterday by the City Council. Adjacent property owners asked that this be done to prevent the location on the property of a Japanese colony.

TWO PLAYS ON BILL

Extension Division Players to Appear in Short Skits

Under the direction of the University of California, extension division, two one-act plays will be presented at the Gamut Club, 1044 South Hope street, next Thursday and Friday evenings.

These plays are "Macaire," by Robert Louis Stevenson, and "The White Thought," an expressionistic fantasy by Miles Malleson, each with an individual cast. Both plays are being produced by Frayne Williams, with stage settings by Wallace Bean.

"Macaire" is a light comedy with the scene laid in the court yard of an inn on the frontier of France and Savoy. In "The White Thought," the scene takes place in the mind of a bank clerk, with 6-year-old Betty Amsterdam as the leading character.

BANS ORGAN PLAYING

Mate Stifled Her Ambition, Divorce Plea of Wife

It is cruelty for a husband to stifle a wife's ambition to play the pipe organ, Mrs. Hazel Smith Hamilton contended in a suit for divorce from Errett B. Hamilton, filed yesterday. Once when she had a chance to become organist of a church in Little Rock, Ark., he swore violently that it was beneath the dignity of his wife to play in public, Mrs. Hamilton related. One previous separation was concluded by a reconciliation, but Hamilton continued to indulge in nagging at her, Mrs. Hamilton declared.

TRAGEDY VICTIMS IN PORT

Local Attorney Ends Own Life on Liner; Man is Burned in Vain Effort to Save Family

Two victims of recent sea tragedies, one dead by his own hand and the other near death from burns which he had received in the fire aboard the ill-starred liner Ginyo Maru, were brought to Los Angeles Harbor yesteday aboard the Pacific Mail liner Venezuela.

The suicide victim is Allen P. Gilmour, 50 years of age, a local attorney. He ended his life aboard the Venezuela last Wednesday by slashing his throat with a razor. A torturing fear of insanity, which he believed was overtaking him, prompted the attorney to his act, according to the ship's physician. He slashed his throat when the vessel was nearing Manzanillo, according to Capt. C. W. Gilbert, master of the liner, and died a few hours later.

The vessel put in at Manzanillo and there Gilmour received emergency treatment, Capt. Gilbert stated. Physicians at the port stated that his condition was not critical, he said, and the vessel put about and continued on her way. A few hours later, however, he died.

Gilmour, Capt. Gilbert stated, had made repeated efforts to end his life while on board the vessel but was prevented by members of the crew and the ship's physician, who kept him constantly under observation. He left Los Angeles about two months ago for a trip to New York, taking passage aboard the Ecuador, a sister ship of the Venezuela. Off the coast of Nicaragua he jumped into the ocean but was rescued and landed to await the arrival of the Venezuela to take him back to Los Angeles. He lived with his wife at 413 New Hampshire street.

S. Fijishima and his wife and small child were passengers aboard the Ginyo Maru when fire broke out on the vessel. Fijishima received perhaps fatal burns in a heroic attempt to save his wife and child. They were burned to death despite his gallant attempt at rescue. His condition is critical and he will be taken to San Francisco for treatment at a hospital. Fijishima is a Japanese merchant.

In addition, the street-repair program includes the reconstruction of deep cross-gutters on sixteen important streets so that these will be made safe for use by vehicles. The program in the Los Angeles Harbor district will also be extended and speeded up by the engineer, whose request for a steam roller and additional personnel for that section of the city was approved by the committee.

City Files New Suit in Battle on Arroyo Seco

Declaring the Los Angeles Rock and Gravel Company and the Los Angeles Rock and Gravel Corporation have failed to obey the terms of court decrees and agreements regulating the excavations of sand and gravel in the bed of the Arroyo Seco, the city yesterday filed suit in Superior Court asking that the companies be cited into court to show cause why they should not be enjoined from carrying on excavations in the arroyo within the city limits.

The city declared retaining walls built for flood protection had been weakened by excavations of the defendants, that the companies also had trespassed on property leased to the city and that collapse of the Avenue 26 bridge in March, 1924, was caused by the companies sending heavy trucks across the structure. In addition to injunctive relief the city asked $25,000 damages for the asserted failure of the companies to live up to court orders and agreements effected in previous litigation.

Women who entertain well know of this difference in bread

MOST bread is good! But some bakers, who have made baking really an art, can make bread so wonderfully delicious, so light and tempting, that it is one of the most appetizing things on the table. For eighteen years Gordon has been giving the women of Los Angeles the very best bread that can be made. Today Gordon's Bread is preferred in countless Los Angeles homes. And no wonder! Gordon's Bread is more than "good bread." It is a bread that is outstandingly fine. There's something winning about its very appearance. With Gordon's on the table, you eat bread because it's a treat—not as a matter of habit.

Ask for Gordon's Bread by name. Backed as it is by superlative service, you can be sure that every loaf of Gordon's Bread you buy is always uniform, always fresh. Look for the dust-proof wrapper and the name "Gordon's Bread."

For Visitor

One of the most attractive affairs of last week was the luncheon-bridge and mah jongg party with which Mrs. Edward Gibson of Laurel Canyon entertained at the Ambassador Friday afternoon, honoring her husband's mother, Mrs. Edward Kohnstamm of New York City. The tables were arranged in the East Indian Room and the motif was carried out in oriental effect, the place cards being Chinese wafer boys and the favors were exquisite little canisters of tea. Thirty-five guests were bidden. Mr. and Mrs. Kohnstamm, who are touring Southern California, are guests of Perkins Stearns at his home in Sixth street and Norton avenue. A profusion of spring blossoms and foliage formed the centerpiece of the luncheon table.

Theater Party

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the week was that of last evening when Genevra Howes Danby entertained the Kopy Katz at a theater party in compliment to Mitzi Hajos, at the Biltmore for the opening performance of "The Magic Circle." The Kopy Katz is a coterie of active newspaper women, who have banded themselves together and have luncheon every week. Those included were Alma Whittaker Reynolds, Myra Nye, Juana Neal Levy, Katherine Lipke, Estelle Lawton Lindsay, Ruth McClintock, Eileen Hennessey, Mabel Horton, Pearl Rall, Rosalind Bates, Caroline Reynolds Walker, Caroline Galbraith, Edith Bristol, Helen Roberts, Ann Myers, Jessica Finley, Eleanor Barnes, Barbara Miller, Frances Moran, Marjorie Driscoll, Billie Harshburg, Lannie Haynes Martin, Grace Frye, Regge Doran, Bettie Riordan, Lyle Rooks Crippen, Mary Holland Kincaid, Myrtle Gebhart, Ruth Burke Stephens, Hattie Eggers Burke, Grace Wilcox Deitz, Ruth Dennen Garner and the founder of the Kopy Katz, Mrs. Alvin Kittselman, and her guest, Miss Azolin O'Connor.

Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shannon and Miss Marie Shannon, formerly of Iowa Falls, Iowa, are settled in their new home at 1516 East Orange avenue, Pasadena.

Delightful Afternoon

One of the smart affairs of last week was the informal tea with which Mrs. William Barnes of 1266 Flores avenue entertained Wednesday afternoon. A delightful musical program was arranged and Mrs. Barnes was assisted by her daughter, Miss Billie Barnes. Among the guests were members of Woodrow Wilson Chapter, U.D.C., and other southern visitors in the city, including Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Dougits, Mrs. Eugene Willey, Mrs. Albert Polhamus, Mrs. Martin Darby, Mrs. Anne Owens, Mrs. Cleve McMillan, Mrs. Eugene Wright, Mrs. Allan Fredhold and Mrs. John Thomson.

Bridge Tea

Mrs. Maurice Randall entertained with an attractively planned bridge tea at the Gaylord several days ago, the special guest of honor being Mrs. J. Rosenberg. Spring flowers and delicate foliage were charmingly combined on the tea table, and the other guests included Mrs. Thomas R. Hudson, Mrs. Frank H. Ball, Mrs. Henry T. Kimbrough, Mrs. Nels Gross, Mrs. A. O. Brown, Mrs. A. E. Hulsey and Mrs. Charles Easton.

Wedding Announcement

Formal announcement is made of the wedding last Saturday evening of Miss Frances Hodson and Samuel M. Allen. Mrs. Allen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hodson of South Bend, Ind., and Mr. Allen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Allen of Louisville, Ky. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, 138 North Grand avenue, Monrovia, Dr. Holton officiating. Miss Kitty Peterson, a schoolmate of the bride, assisted as maid of honor, while James N. Young, formerly of Detroit, Mich., served Mr. Allen as best man. Among the out-of-town guests was Mrs. Louise Groniger of Albion, Mich.

Felicitations

Mr. and Mrs. Mostyn C. H. Clinch of 221 North Irving Boulevard are receiving congratulations over the recent arrival of a tiny daughter, who will be called Mostyn Marylin. The little lady was born Thursday, the 15th inst.

Afternoon Affair

Invitations are being issued by Miss Lorain Nobe of 1650 Virginia Road for a reception Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Russell Taylor and Mrs. Gerald Mayer. The hours will be from 3 to 5 o'clock, and 150 guests have been bidden. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Joe Crail, Mrs. Charles Toney, Mrs. Charles Hilliard, Miss Neola Meekins, Miss Elizabeth Ward, Miss Margaret Anderson and Miss Esther Soule. Both Mrs. Taylor and Miss Noble were graduated from Stanford and are members of the Chi Omega sorority, while Mrs. Mayer is graduated from the University of California.

Victims to View Two Suspects in Hotel Robberies

John L. Le Clair and Pete Bini, bandit suspects arrested late Sunday night, will undergo the scrutiny of a score or more of recent hotel robbery victims at 3 p.m. today in an effort by the police to have the suspects definitely identified. The "inspection" is scheduled at police headquarters.

The two men are declared by police to be hotel bandits who have committed more than a dozen hotel robberies during the past few weeks. They were arrested by Detective Lieutenants Bartley and Shannon a few minutes after they are said to have held up and robbed Ben Sarrano of $50 in a hotel at 115½ West First street.

Among the robberies listed by the police against the two suspects are those of the Stillwell Hotel, the State Hotel at 737 South Olive street and the Grand-avenue Hotel at 3107 South Grand avenue. Their mode of operation, according to Assistant Captain of Detectives Cato, was almost identical in each instance. They would enter the hotel lobby some time in the morning hours, force the employees and guests in the lobby into the check room, where they would be locked in, and then depart with all the money in the cash register.

Assistant Probation Officer Succumbs to Indigestion

Mrs. Nellie M. Reed, 58 years of age, an assistant probation officer, died suddenly yesterday on the sidewalk in front of the Central Station, apparently from acute indigestion. She had been treated for indigestion at Receiving Hospital a few moments before. Mrs. Reed lived at 1704 Cherry street and was appointed December 20, 1917.

Head of Matrimonial Bureau is Given Three-Year Term

Ernest E. Schwartz, convicted last week on a charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud in connection with the operation of a matrimonial bureau, was sentenced by Federal Judge Bledsoe yesterday to serve three years at Leavenworth. The evidence against Schwartz showed he used photographs of motion-picture actresses as a lure in obtaining "railroad fare" from victims who expected to obtain wives through his bureau.

Other sentences imposed by Judge Bledsoe were as follows: Charles L. Davis, alias L. D. Blake, violation of Dyer Act, three and a half years; Fred Weber, violation of Harrison Act, three years; Ernest Dempsey, Harrison Act, two and a half years; Jose Calderon, Harrison Act, two and a half years; Eugene Henderson, and Leslie Crump, Dyer Act, three years.

Creighton Hale Shows How Suits Make the Actor

"Fop!" sneers the average man when he hears that Creighton Hale has more than three score complete changes of clothes in his wardrobe.

He only believes it when told that clothes are the actor's tools and labels that explanations as merely an excuse for vanity.

But Hale is telling a story that proves it.

"Twelve suits of clothes I had discarded and the things that go with them made a success out of Jim in a month after he had been plodding along in this game for years without getting anywhere," Creighton told a group of friends one day last week. He used "Jims" real name, though, and it is one that any picture fan would recognize today and none would have known a year ago.

"Jim is a talented man and an exceptional type," continued Hale. "Everyone knows that today. But it took my clothes to prove it. I had known it for a long time. I wondered why he didn't get a chance to show what he could do.

"Then one day in a burst of confidence he told me tha tfour times in a year he had had to turn down minor parts that would have given him a chance to show his peculiar characterizations because he didn't have the wardrobe to carry him through. And, of course, he was too proud to admit and ask the company for an advance on his salary. As a matter of fact none of the parts would have earned enough to pay for the clothes they needed. The clothes were merely what every actor is presumd to hav in his wardrobe, of course.

"That hit me hard, for years ago I was ir the same fix myself. So, after much talking, I persuaded him to rent a complete wardrobe from me—all of it from things I had discarded but couldn't give to him. The funny part of it is that he actually paid the rent to me a month later from his first check when he got the part that has made a star of him—and returned the clothes a while later."

Marian Nixon, Under Contract to Fox, Loaned Fourth Time

Although she is under contract to the Fox Film Company, Marian Nixon has worked in twice as many Universal pictures during the last six months as she has Fox productions.

By the loan route, Miss Nixon has appeared in four "U" films, one of them opposite Reginald Denny in "I'll Show You the Town," in which she is now engaged. During that time she has worked in but two Fox pictures. Both were opposite Tom Mix in "The Last of the Duanes" and "Riders of the Purple Sage."

"ELEVATOR EAR" IS MALADY FOR WORKMEN

PHILADELPHIA—A new affliction has found its way among a class of workers in this city. Along with the motorman's disease known as "trolley foot," caused by continual pounding of the warning gong, and the sailor's "sea legs," comes the "elevator ear," a condition that causes an unsteady gait and distress to some elevator operators.

Physicians attribute the cause to a disarrangement of balance controlled by the labyrinth in the internal ear.

The symptoms closely follow the style and build of the elevator. The plunger elevator with long sustained heave has an entirely different effect from the old-style cable elevator which makes the trip in a series of sudden and disconcerting jerks. The elevator which travels ten or eleven floors without a stop and then halts at each floor produces an effect wholly dissimilar from the others.

The effects are peculiar, ranging from what an old colored elevator operator described as a "mighty misery in my laigs" to an aggravated case of sleep-walking. The most common is inability to control direction when walking. In a great many cases these symptoms closely approximate certain stages of locomotor ataxia.—[Exchange.

HE KNEW MRS. MOSELEY

The Moseleys possessed three large, intelligent cats, and sometimes as many as three familes of kittens. Mrs. Moseley was much too tender hearted to drown or chloroform the superfluous kittens, yet she could not keep them all. Consequently she devoted much time and thought to finding happy homes for the feline progeny.

One day the daughter of a neighbor, who had moved several years previously to another town, happened to pay Mrs. Moseley a visit. As the little visitor was about to depart, Mrs. Moseley exclaimed suddenly:

"By the way, Helen, wouldn't you like to have a kitten to take home with you?"

"I'd like it," said Helen, wistfully, "but the very last thing dad said when I came away was, 'Helen, whatever else you do, don't bring home any cats.' "—[Kansas City Star.

Three Principals in New Comedy

"Goose Hangs High"

Leslie Fenton, Lois Austin, and Harry Crocker are three of the principal players in the comedy which opened at the Playhouse last night.

TIPS TO THE PLAYGOERS

"Born Rich"—(California:) Another jazz picture that should prove interesting if you've time for it.

"Excuse Me"—(Loew's:) The audiences like it, but it isn't as funny as it should have been.

"Miss Bluebeard"—(Metropolitan:) Raymond Griffith saves the day. Charley Chase in a comedy is the brightest number on the bill.

"Love and Glory"—(Cameo:) Mostly just movie. Wallace MacDonald and Charles De Roche give best performances.

"Lighthouse by the Sea"—(Rialto:) Rin-Tin-Tin stars, doing every stunt on the list.

"Toronado"—(Forum:) The usual sort of lumberjack story with House Peters starring.

"He Who Gets Slapped"—(Criterion:) Changed a little from the play, but still intensely interesting. Second week.

"Just Married"—(Majestic:) The bedroom farce idea transplanted to shipboard. Third week.

"Nightie Night"—(Morosco:) A very enjoyable comedy with the cast performing adequately. Fourth week.

"Inferno"—(Miller's:) Dante's poem adapted to the screen.

"Romola"—(Egyptian:) Lillian Gish in her finest photoplay. Seventh week.

"Sandra"—(Alhambra:) Barbara La Marr should have had a better story than this.

"Sainted Devil"—(Tally's:) Valentino's latest but not up to standard.

"White Collars"—(Egan:) This is the fifty-second week. It deserves it.

Harry Carroll's "Pickings"—(Orange Grove:) New faces and material keep it fresh. Twenty-first week.

"Wild Vampires"—(Burbank:) They must mean the Baby Dolls.

"Purple Dawn"—(Hippodrome:) Presenting Bessie Love as a Chinese girl.

Carter De Haven—(Orpheum:) One of the headliners on a good bill.

"You Can't Beat Them"—(Hillstreet:) Martha Hedman is one of them.

"Day Dreams"—(Pantages:) A novel physical culture act with a pair of dancers as the special feature.

DIFFICULT TASK TO FIND HOMELY WOMAN

"Few girls and women will admit they are homely," says George Melford, who has experienced difficulty in locating a particularly ugly girl for a comedy bit in "Friendly Enemies," which he is making for Belasco.

Melford and his staff had to scour the casting offices thoroughly before they could find the type necessary for the bit. It was found that few girls who had registered had placed the word "homely" or "ugly" in describing themselves.

ALMOST EVENED THE SERIES

Mrs. Smith wanted to go to the movies. Mr. Smith said he had put in a hard day at the office, and was tired and would rather sit at home and smoke. Knowing the Smiths, anyone could have predicted that they would go to the movies.

"Let's sit down near the front," said Mrs. Smith.

"But I don't like to sit near the front," Mr. Smith protested. "When I do that the pictures hurt my eyes."

"Nonsense!" scoffed Mrs. Smith. "I like to be down close so I can watch the musicians."

Soon the two were seated within comfortable seeing distance of the orchestra.

"Oh, don't you just love to hear the rumble of the kettledrums?" Mrs. Smith gushed.

And then the worm turned, albeit ever so slightly.

"Yes," Mr. Smith replied, "keep quiet!"—[Kansas City Star.

NEGRI FILM BRINGS FRIENDS TOGETHER

Wallace MacDonald and Sidney Olcott meet again for the first time in many years in the production of "The Charmer," Pola Negri's current Paramount starring vehicle. MacDonald enacts the suave villain in this picture, which Olcott is producing.

Many years ago, when Olcott was a stage director, he offered MacDonald a role in one of his plays. Wally turned it down in preference to a screen career, to which Olcott turned later.

"CHOW"

Where the winter wind was worst the other afternoon on Washington street, on the sidewalk next to a building, was a poor shivering little dog. Its dark eyes searched all passersby longingly. The throng did not even notice it, however.

Down Pennsylvania street strode three college youths. The handsomest one, and evidently the leader, spied the little dog, and motioned the others to wait a moment. He disappeared into a near-by store, only to appear in a moment with a steaming sandwich, which he gave the dog, much to the amusement of pedestrians.

The three youngsters hardly had left before a large limousine drew up to the curb and a beautiful girl left a fashionable shop to enter it, not, however, until she had first called the little dog, which it developed was her pet Chow.—[Indianapolis News.

More Brilliance for the Stars

Electrical gowns have appeared on the New York stage. They are treated with a chemical substance which contains an infusion of radium, so that after being exposed to powerful electric floodlights they glow like brilliant spots of various tints when the stage lights are turned off.—[Exchange.

Just So

"I am engaged to an out-door girl."

"That solves your housing problem."—[Louisville Courier-Journal.

The United States possesses 40 per cent of the world's railroad mileage.

Vignola Traces Origin of Slang as Queer Hobby

One of the most interesting hobbies has been brought to light by Robert G. Vignola, director of First National's "Declasse." It is tracing the origin of slang expressions.

"Many unusual results are discovered," said Mr. Vignola. "We think we are modern and up-to-date in our slang expressions until they are traced back to their origin.

" 'Applausauce' may be regarded as a new way to express lack of confidence in the things that someone may tell you. But Samuel Papys originated the expression in his diary years ago. He evidently had a distate for the dish, particularly when served with roast pork, and no doubt, had it removed from his plate more than once. In his diary he describes the conversation of a friend, who had evidently bored him for some time, as 'just appdesauce,' meaning that it meant no more to him than did applesauce with pork.

"From the Los Angeles papers of 1875 we come unexpectedly across the present day slang expression 'not hard to take.' It is with regard to a shipment of Chicago beer just received. It recommends that with a sandwich it is 'not hard to take.' "

MAKES DEBUT WITH UNIVERSAL STUDIO

Lilyan Tashman has been cast for a featured vampire role in "I'll Show You the Town," a Universal picture with Reginald Denny and Marian Nixon respectively star and leading lady.

This production marks Miss Tashman's debut at the "U" studio. She was called previously but could not accept the role offered her because of conflicting dates at other studios.

ONLY THE HARDIEST BRAVE ARCTIC BLASTS

Winter came blusterously to the Bronx Park Zoo yesterday. Chill, stinging winds whipped by the shelter houses, driving to cover every creeping, crawling and walking thing except the most hardy. All openings in the buildings are tightly closed except where egress and exit are vitally necessary. Only deer, mountain sheep, goats, bears and Arctic animals paid scant heed to the weather.

Inside the buildings that house the tropical creatures steam pipes clank and hiss out the warmth required to keep the inmates from suffering. The reptile house and the kangaroo cupboard are kept at a temperature 10 deg. higher than the other buildings. Tropical snakes don't know how to hibernate, so exposure would kill them.

The poisonous snakes native to the northern countries, however, are all packed in separate flannel-lined boxes and set out to stiffen in the cold for their long winter sleep. Great, ugly rattlers lie curled at rest, their rattles dry and silent.

But of all the red-blooded creatures, the kangaroo is the most easily affected by cold. Despite his strength he is delicate. Left out in the low temperatures he will just squat and swiftly die, keepers say.

Inside their heated palace the monkeys keep mimicking humanity. The baby orang-outang leaves off pestering his relatives to blink up at the clanking pipes. The gorilla dolefully pats his ample chest.

Only the polar bears, seals, walruses and Arctic wolves eye the glowing clouds calmly. "What," they seem to say, "is all this fuss and feather about? Bring on some real winter and then"—[New York World.

WHEAT FIELD SHOWS WALLS OF OLD TOWN

Lines of the walls and streets of an ancient Roman town, Magna Castra, near Hereford, Eng., are plainly visible in the wheat fields near there. The crops grow shorter where there is less depth of soil and show the entire plan of the town.

Excavations have been made there and the foundations of the old forum have been discovered. Magna was one of the smallest of the British-Roman towns, having an extent of only twenty-five acres, and was probably used for a stopping point for troops on the way to the great wall.

The complete skeleton of a British woman has also been unearthed there, together with much datable material. Pottery dating from the time of Antonius Pius, 138-161 A.D., to Valens, 364-378 A.D., with the stamp of the potter has been found. A perfect bronze bracelet for a child, with its catch complete, was among the discoveries.

There is a tradition that Magna was burned, either by Saxons, or by native tribes.—[Kansas City Star.

THEN AND NOW

This may be a spendthrift age, but here is a little dope that proves the women at least save on some things:

In cold weather mother used to have on her nether extremities when she went out the following:

One thickness of woolen or red-flannel undies.

One thickness of woolen stockings.

One thickness of woolen leggins; while at the extreme end of them she had:

High shoes with fairly heavy soles, and Overshoes.

To cover the same territory, daughter has:

One thickness of cobweb hose.

Low shoes with soles about as thick as paper.

But daughter has a heap more imagination than mother ever had.

And that's that.—[Sam Hill in Cincinnati Enquirer.

SALESMEN

Don't Overlook This Fact.

There is a sales campaign "on" in Los Angeles which is getting the money and there is absolutely no reason why you should not get your share.

Not stocks, units, real estate nor memberships, but something absolutely new, where sales resistance has been reduced to a minimum.

Your ability to tell the simple truth in a straightforward manner, and a willingness to follow instructions, are only requirements to assure you big success.

Many individual salesmen have made thousands of dollars during past few weeks and several high-caliber men are earning upwards of $5000 per month.

Direct leads will be furnished to four or five high-class security salesmen with some clientele of their own.

Come in and let's talk it over. This is unquestionably the greatest sales opportunity in Los Angeles and has already put hundreds of salesmen on their feet financially. Come early to our ground-floor location.

MINES AND MINING—

Mining Operators
and Others.

The "SIMPSON PNEUMATIC FLOTATION CELL" is now ready for distribution and is being manufactured in a large fully equipped factory. This machine embraces several outstanding improvements, fully covered by patents, which give it a vast advantage over other types of flotation machines now in use. LOWER FIRST COST, LOWER POWER CONSUMPTION, NO MOVING PARTS, (thereby eliminating mechanical trouble and upkeep costs) HIGH EXTRACTION, and at last a REAL SELECTIVE ACTION due to positive control of agitation.

An opportunity is offered you for investment to extent of one-third interest or any part thereof. Investigation will prove to you that royalties to be earned by this machine will put it in the class of the select few far above the average income investment.

The great revival now taking place in the mining industry makes necessary this addition to our capital to properly cover expansion in mill equipment now going on at mining properties throughout the country. Further particulars regarding this machine may be seen in January 15 issue of Arizona Mining Journal or by addressing P.O. BOX 848, Long Beach, Cal.
